PRIIPS / IMPORTANT - EEA RETAIL INVESTORS - if the applicable Final Terms in respect of any Notes includes a legend entitled "Prohibition of Sales to EEA Retail Investors", the Notes are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available to, and with effect from such date, should not be offered, sold or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the European Economic Area ("EEA"). For these purposes, a retail investor means a person who is one (or more) of: (i) a retail client, as defined in point (11) of article 4(1) of MiFID II; (ii) a customer within the meaning of Directive (EU) 2016/97, where that customer would not qualify as a professional client, as defined in point (10) of article 4(1) of MiFID II; or (iii) not a qualified investor as defined in Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 (the "Prospectus Regulation"). Consequently, no key information document required by Regulation (EU) no. 1286/2014 (the "PRIIPS Regulation") for offering or selling the Notes or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the EEA has been or will be prepared and therefore offering or selling the Notes or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the EEA may be unlawful under the PRIIPS Regulation.

PRIIPS / IMPORTANT - UK RETAIL INVESTORS - If the applicable Final Terms in respect of any Notes includes a legend entitled "Prohibition of Sales to UK Retail Investors", the Notes are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available to, and with effect from such date, should not be offered, sold or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the United Kingdom ("UK"). For these purposes, the expression "retail investor" means a person who is one (or more) of the following: (a) a retail client, as defined in point (8) of Article 2 of Regulation (EU) No 2017/565 as it forms part of UK domestic law by virtue of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018 ("EUWA"); or (b) a customer within the meaning of the provisions of the UK Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 ("FSMA") and any rules or regulations made under the FSMA to implement Directive (EU) 2016/97, where that customer would not qualify as a professional client, as defined in point (8) of Article 2(1) of Regulation (EU) No 600/2014 as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the EUWA; or (c) not a qualified investor as defined in Article 2 of the Prospectus Regulation as it forms part of UK domestic law by virtue of the EUWA.

MiFID II product governance / target market – The applicable Final Terms in respect of any Notes may include a legend entitled "MiFID II Product Governance", which will outline the target market assessment in respect of the Notes and which channels for distribution of Notes are appropriate. Any person subsequently offering, selling or recommending Notes (a "distributor") should take into consideration the target market assessment; however, a distributor subject to MiFID II is responsible for undertaking its own target market assessment in respect of Notes (by either adopting or refining the target market assessment) and determining appropriate distribution channels.

A determination will be made in relation to each issue of Notes whether, for the purpose of the product governance rules under EU Delegated Directive 2017/593 (the "MiFID Product Governance Rules"), any Dealer subscribing for any Notes is a manufacturer in respect of such notes, but otherwise neither the Arranger nor the Dealers nor any of their respective affiliates will be a manufacturer for purposes of the MiFID Product Governance Rules.

UK MiFIR product governance / target market - The applicable Final Terms in respect of any Notes will include a legend entitled "UK MiFIR Product Governance" which will outline the target market assessment in respect of the Notes and which channels for distribution of the Notes are appropriate. Any person subsequently offering, selling or recommending the Notes (a "distributor") should take into consideration the target market assessment; however, a distributor subject to the FCA Handbook Product Intervention and Product Governance Sourcebook

(the "UK MiFIR Product Governance Rules") is responsible for undertaking its own target market assessment in respect of the Notes (by either adopting or refining the target market assessment) and determining appropriate distribution channels.

A determination will be made in relation to each issue about whether, for the purpose of the UK MiFIR Product Governance Rules, any Dealer subscribing for any Notes is a manufacturer in respect of such Notes, but otherwise neither the Arranger nor the Dealers nor any of their respective affiliates will be a manufacturer for the purpose of the UK MiFIR Product Governance Rules.

Singapore SFA Product Classification: In connection with Section 309B of the Securities and Futures Act 2001 of Singapore (as modified or amended from time to time, the "SFA") and the Securities and Futures (Capital Markets Products) Regulations 2018 of Singapore (the "CMP Regulations 2018"), unless otherwise specified before an offer of Notes, each of Doha Finance Limited and Doha Bank Q.P.S.C. has determined, and hereby notifies all relevant persons (as defined in Section 309A(1) of the SFA), that the Notes are 'prescribed capital markets products' (as defined in the CMP Regulations 2018) and Excluded Investment Products (as defined in MAS Notice SFA 04-N12: Notice on the Sale of Investment Products and MAS Notice FAA-N16: Notice on Recommendations on Investment Products).

U.S.$2,000,000,000

Euro Medium Term Note Programme

unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed in the case of Notes issued by Doha Finance Limited by Doha Bank Q.P.S.C.

Under this U.S.$2,000,000,000 Euro Medium Term Note Programme (the "Programme"), Doha Finance Limited ("Doha Finance") and Doha Bank Q.P.S.C. (the "Bank") and, together with Doha Finance, the "Issuers" and each an "Issuer") may from time to time issue notes (the "Notes") denominated in any currency agreed between the relevant Issuer and the relevant Dealer (as defined below). The payments of all amounts due in respect of the Notes issued by Doha Finance ("Guaranteed Notes") will be unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed (the "Guarantee") by the Bank (in such capacity, the "Guarantor"). As more fully described herein, Notes may be issued on a senior basis ("Senior Notes") or on a subordinated basis ("Subordinated Notes").

Notes may be issued in bearer or registered form (respectively, "Bearer Notes" and "Registered Notes"). The maximum aggregate nominal amount of all Notes from time to time outstanding under the Programme will not exceed U.S.$2,000,000,000 (or its equivalent in other currencies), subject to increase as described in the Programme Agreement. The Notes may be issued on a continuing basis to one or more of the Dealers specified under "Overview of the Programme" and any additional Dealer appointed under the Programme from time to time by the relevant Issuer(s) (each a "Dealer" and together the "Dealers"), which appointment may be for a specific issue or on an ongoing basis. References in this Base Prospectus (the "Base Prospectus") to the "relevant Dealer" shall, in the case of an issue of Notes being (or intended to be) subscribed by more than one Dealer, be to all Dealers agreeing to subscribe such Notes.

An investment in Notes issued under the Programme involves certain risks. For a discussion of these risks see "Risk Factors".

Application has been made to the Financial Conduct Authority in its capacity as competent authority (the "FCA") for Notes issued under the Programme during the period of 12 months from the date of this Base Prospectus to be admitted to the official list of the FCA (the "Official List") and to the London Stock Exchange plc (the "London Stock Exchange") for such Notes to be admitted to trading on the London Stock Exchange's regulated market (the "Main Market"). References in this Base Prospectus to Notes being listed (and all related references) shall mean that such Notes have been admitted to trading on the Main Market and have been admitted to the Official List. The London Stock Exchange's Main Market is a regulated market for the purposes of Regulation (EU) No 600/2014 as it forms part of domestic law of the United Kingdom by virtue of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018 ("EUWA").

This Base Prospectus has been approved by the FCA as competent authority under Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 (the "Prospectus Regulation") as it forms part of UK domestic law by virtue of the EUWA (the "UK Prospectus Regulation"). The FCA only approves this Base Prospectus as meeting the standards of completeness, comprehensibility and consistency imposed by the UK Prospectus Regulation; such approval should not be considered as (a) an endorsement of the Issuers or (in the case of Guaranteed Notes) the Guarantor; or (b) an endorsement of the quality of any Notes that are the subject of this Base Prospectus. Investors should make their own assessment as to the suitability of investing in the Notes.

The requirement to publish a prospectus under the UK Prospectus Regulation only applies to Notes which are to be admitted to trading on a regulated market in the United Kingdom (the "UK") and/or offered to the public in the UK other than in circumstances where an exemption is available under Articles 1(4) and 1(5) of the UK Prospectus Regulation. References in this Base Prospectus to "Exempt Notes" are to Notes for which no prospectus is required to be published under the UK Prospectus Regulation. The FCA has neither approved nor reviewed information contained in this Base Prospectus in connection with Exempt Notes.

Notice of the aggregate nominal amount of Notes, interest (if any) payable in respect of Notes, the issue price of Notes and certain other information which is applicable to each Tranche (as defined under "Terms and Conditions of the Notes") of Notes will (other than in the case of Exempt Notes) be set out in a final terms document (the "Final Terms") which will be delivered to the FCA and, where listed, the London Stock Exchange.

Copies of Final Terms in relation to Notes to be listed on the London Stock Exchange will also be published on the website of the London Stock Exchange through a regulatory information service. The relevant Issuer and (in the case of Guaranteed Notes) the Guarantor may agree with any Dealer that Notes may be issued in a form not contemplated by the Terms and Conditions of the Notes herein (the "Conditions"), in which event a new prospectus in the case of listed Notes only, if appropriate, will be made available which will describe the effect of the agreement reached in relation to such Notes. In the case of Exempt Notes, notice of the aggregate nominal amount of Exempt Notes, interest (if any) payable in respect of Exempt Notes, the issue price of Exempt Notes and certain other information which is applicable to each Tranche will be set out in a pricing supplement document (the "Pricing Supplement").

The Programme provides that Notes may be listed or admitted to trading, as the case may be, on such other or further stock exchanges or markets as may be agreed between the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (in the case of Guaranteed Notes) and the relevant Dealer(s). The Issuers may also issue unlisted Notes and/or Notes not admitted to trading on any market.

The Notes and the Guarantee have not been and will not be registered under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), or any U.S. State securities laws and may not be offered or sold in the United States or to, or for the account or the benefit of, U.S. persons as defined in Regulation S under the Securities Act unless an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act is available and in accordance with all applicable securities laws of any state of the United States and any other jurisdiction. The Bearer Notes are subject to U.S. tax law requirements. Subject to certain exceptions, the Notes and the Guarantees in bearer form may not be offered, sold or delivered within the United States or, where TEFRA D is specified in the applicable Final Terms (or the Pricing Supplement, in the case of Exempt Notes), to a United States person.

Each Tranche of Bearer Notes will be in bearer form and will initially be issued in the form of a temporary global note (a "Temporary Bearer Global Note") or, if so specified in the applicable Final Terms (or the Pricing Supplement, in the case of Exempt Notes), a permanent global note (a "Permanent Bearer Global Note"). On and after the date which is 40 days after a Temporary Bearer Global Note is issued, interests in such Temporary Bearer Global Note will be exchangeable (free of charge) upon a request as described therein either for (a) interests in a Permanent Bearer Global Note of the same Series or (b) definitive Bearer Notes of the same Series with, where applicable, receipts, interest coupons and talons attached (as indicated in the applicable Final Terms (or the Pricing Supplement, in the case of Exempt Notes) and subject, in the case of definitive Bearer Notes, to such notice period as is specified in the applicable Final Terms (or the Pricing Supplement, in the case of Exempt Notes)), in each case against certification of beneficial ownership as described above unless such certification has already been given, provided that purchasers in the United States and certain U.S. persons will not be able to receive definitive Bearer Notes.

The rating of certain Series of Notes to be issued under the Programme may be specified in the applicable Final Terms (or the Pricing Supplement, in the case of Exempt Notes). The Guarantor has been assigned ratings of Baa1 (long term bank deposits) and P-2 (short term bank deposits) from Moody's Investors Service Cyprus Ltd ("Moody's"), and A- (long term Issuer Default Rating), F2 (short term Issuer Default Rating) and a- (support rating) from Fitch Ratings Ltd ("Fitch"). Moody's is established in the European Union and is registered under the Regulation (EC) No. 1060/2009, as amended (the "CRA Regulation"). As such, Moody's is included in the list of credit rating agencies published by the European Securities and Markets Authority ("ESMA") on its website in accordance with the CRA Regulation. Fitch is established in the UK and is registered in accordance with Regulation (EC) No. 1060/2009 as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the EUWA (the "UK CRA Regulation"). Fitch is not established in the European Union and it has not applied for registration under the CRA Regulation. The ratings issued by Fitch have been endorsed by Fitch Ratings Ireland Limited in accordance with the CRA Regulation. Fitch Ratings Ireland Limited is established in the European Union and registered under the CRA Regulation. As such Fitch Ratings Ireland Limited is included in the list of credit rating agencies published by the ESMA on its website in accordance with the CRA Regulation. A security rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be subject to suspension, reduction or withdrawal at any time by the assigning rating agency.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

This Base Prospectus comprises a base prospectus in respect of all Notes other than Exempt Notes issued under the Programme for the purposes of Article 8 of Regulation (EU) 2017/1129 (the “Prospectus Regulation”) as it forms part of UK domestic law by virtue of the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018 (“EUWA”) (the “UK Prospectus Regulation”).

Each of the Issuers and the Guarantor accepts responsibility for the information contained in this Base Prospectus and the Final Terms for each Tranche of Notes issued under the Programme. To the best of the knowledge of each of the Issuers and the Guarantor the information contained in this Base Prospectus is in accordance with the facts and this Base Prospectus does not omit anything likely to affect the import of such information.

Subject as provided in the applicable Final Terms, the only persons authorised to use this Base Prospectus in connection with an offer of Notes are the persons named in the applicable Final Terms as the relevant Dealer or the Managers, as the case may be.

Copies of Final Terms will be available from the registered office of the relevant Issuer and the specified office set out below of each of the Paying Agents (as defined below).

The Bank has ratings of Baa1 (long term bank deposits) and P-2 (short term bank deposits) from Moody’s, and A- (long term Issuer Default Rating), F2 (short term Issuer Default Rating) and a- (support rating) from Fitch. Each of Moody’s and Fitch is established in the European Union and is registered under the CRA Regulation. Series or Tranche of Notes issued under the Programme may be rated or unrated. Where a Tranche or Series of Notes is rated, such rating will be disclosed in the Final Terms (or Pricing Supplement, in the case of Exempt Notes) and will not necessarily be the same as the rating assigned to the Programme by Moody’s and Fitch. A credit rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be subject to suspension, reduction or withdrawal at any time by the assigning rating agency.

This Base Prospectus is to be read in conjunction with all documents which are deemed to be incorporated in it by reference (see “Documents Incorporated by Reference”). This Base Prospectus shall be read and construed on the basis that those documents are incorporated and form part of this Base Prospectus.

None of the Dealers, nor any of their directors, affiliates, advisers, agents, nor the Agents (as defined in the Agency Agreement) have independently verified the information contained herein. Accordingly, no representation, warranty or undertaking, express or implied, is made and no responsibility or liability is accepted by any of them: (i) as to the accuracy or completeness of the information contained or incorporated in this Base Prospectus (whether by reference or otherwise) or any other information provided by any of the Issuers or the Guarantor in connection with the Programme; or (ii) for any acts or omissions of the Issuers or the Guarantor or any other person in connection with this Base Prospectus or the issuing and offering of Notes under the Programme.

No person is or has been authorised by any of the Issuers or the Guarantor to give any information or to make any representation not contained in or not consistent with this Base Prospectus or any other information supplied in connection with the Programme or the Notes and, if given or made, such information or representation must not be relied upon as having been authorised by any Issuer, the Guarantor or any of the Dealers.

Neither this Base Prospectus nor any other information supplied in connection with the Programme or any Notes (a) is intended to provide the basis of any credit or other evaluation or (b) should be considered as a recommendation by any of the Issuers, the Guarantor or any of the Dealers that any recipient of this Base Prospectus or any other information supplied in connection with the Programme or any Notes should purchase any Notes. Each investor contemplating purchasing any Notes should make its own independent investigation of the financial condition and affairs, and its own appraisal of the creditworthiness, of the relevant Issuer and/or (in the case of Guaranteed Notes) the Guarantor. Neither this Base Prospectus nor any other information supplied in connection with the Programme or the issue of any Notes constitutes an offer or invitation by or on behalf of the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (in the case of Guaranteed Notes) or any of the Dealers to any person to subscribe for or to purchase any Notes.

This Base Prospectus has been prepared on the basis that any offer of Notes in any Member State of the EEA (each, an “EU Member State”) or the UK will be made pursuant to an exemption under the Prospectus Regulation, the UK Prospectus Regulation or the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 (the “FSMA”), respectively, from the requirement to publish a prospectus for offers of Notes. Accordingly, any person making or intending to make an offer in an EU Member State or the UK of Notes which are the subject of an offering contemplated in this Base Prospectus as completed by Final Terms in relation to the offer of those Notes may only do so in circumstances in which no obligation arises for the Issuer or any Dealer to publish or supplement a prospectus pursuant to the Prospectus Regulation, the FSMA and/or the UK Prospectus Regulation (as applicable), in each case, in relation to such offer. Neither the Issuer nor any Dealer has authorised, nor does it authorise, the making of any offer of Notes in circumstances in which an obligation arises for the Issuer or any Dealer to publish or supplement a prospectus for such offer.

Neither the delivery of this Base Prospectus nor the offering, sale or delivery of any Notes shall in any circumstances imply that the information contained herein concerning any of the Issuers and/or the Guarantor is correct at any time subsequent to the date hereof or that any other information supplied in connection with the Programme is correct as of any time subsequent to the date indicated in the document containing the same. The Dealers expressly do not undertake to review the financial condition or affairs of any of the Issuers or the Guarantor during the life of the Programme or to advise any investor in the Notes issued under the Programme of any information coming to their attention.

IMPORTANT – EEA RETAIL INVESTORS – If the Final Terms in respect of any Notes include a legend entitled “Prohibition of Sales to EEA Retail Investors”, the Notes are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the EEA. For these purposes, a retail investor means a person who is one (or more) of: (i) a retail client as defined in point (11) of Article 4(1) of Directive 2014/65/EU (as amended, “MiFID II”); (ii) a customer within the meaning of Directive (EU) 2016/97 (the “Insurance Distribution Directive”), where that customer would not qualify as a professional client as defined in point (10) of Article 4(1) of MiFID II; or (iii) not a qualified investor as defined in Article 2 of the Prospectus Regulation. Consequently no key information document required by Regulation (EU) No 1286/2014 (as amended, the “PRIIPs Regulation”) for offering or selling the Notes or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the EEA has been prepared and therefore offering or selling the Notes or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the EEA may be unlawful under the PRIIPs Regulation.

IMPORTANT – UK RETAIL INVESTORS – If the Final Terms in respect of any Notes include a legend entitled “Prohibition of Sales to UK Retail Investors”, the Notes are not intended to be offered, sold or otherwise made available to and should not be offered, sold or otherwise made available to any retail investor in the UK. For these purposes, a retail investor means a person who is one (or more) of: (i) a retail client as defined in point (8) of Article 2 of Regulation (EU) No 2017/565 as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the EUWA; (ii) a customer within the meaning of the provisions of the FSMA and any rules or regulations made under the FSMA to implement the Insurance Distribution Directive, where that customer would not qualify as a professional client as defined in point (8) of Article 2(1) of Regulation (EU) No 600/2014 as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the EUWA; or (iii) not a qualified investor as defined in Article 2 of the UK Prospectus Regulation. Consequently no key information document required by the PRIIPs Regulation as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the EUWA (the “UK PRIIPs Regulation”) for offering or selling the Notes or otherwise making them available to retail investors in the UK has been prepared and therefore offering or selling the Notes or otherwise making them available to any retail investor in the UK may be unlawful under the UK PRIIPs Regulation.

MiFID II product governance/target market – The applicable Final Terms in respect of any Notes (or Pricing Supplement, in the case of Exempt Notes) may include a legend entitled “MiFID II product governance” which will outline the target market assessment in respect of the Notes and which channels for distribution of the Notes are appropriate. Any person subsequently offering, selling or recommending the Notes (a “distributor”) should take into consideration the target market assessment; however, a distributor subject to MiFID II is responsible for undertaking its own target market assessment in respect of the Notes (by either adopting or refining the target market assessment) and determining appropriate distribution channels.

A determination will be made in relation to each issue about whether, for the purpose of the Product Governance rules under EU Delegated Directive 2017/593 (the “MiFID Product Governance Rules”), any Dealer subscribing for any Notes is a manufacturer in respect of such Notes, but otherwise neither the Arranger nor the Dealers nor any of their respective affiliates will be a manufacturer for the purpose of the MiFID Product Governance Rules.

UK MiFIR product governance / target market – The Final Terms in respect of any Notes may include a legend entitled “UK MiFIR Product Governance” which will outline the target market assessment in respect of the Notes and which channels for distribution of the Notes are appropriate. Any person subsequently offering, selling or recommending the Notes (a “distributor”) should take into consideration the target market assessment; however, a distributor subject to the FCA Handbook Product Intervention and Product Governance Sourcebook (the “UK MiFIR Product Governance Rules”) is responsible for undertaking its own target market assessment in respect of the Notes (by either adopting or refining the target market assessment) and determining appropriate distribution channels.

A determination will be made in relation to each issue about whether, for the purpose of the UK MiFIR Product Governance Rules, any Dealer subscribing for any Notes is a manufacturer in respect of such Notes, but otherwise neither the Arranger nor the Dealers nor any of their respective affiliates will be a manufacturer for the purpose of the UK MiFIR Product Governance Rules.

Benchmarks Regulation – Interest and/or other amounts payable under the Notes may be calculated by reference to certain reference rates. Any such reference rate may constitute a benchmark for the purposes of Regulation (EU) 2016/2011) as it forms part of domestic law by virtue of the EUWA (the “UK Benchmarks Regulation”). If any such reference rate does constitute such a benchmark, the Final Terms or Pricing Supplement will indicate whether or not the benchmark is provided by an administrator included in the register of administrators and benchmarks established and maintained by the FCA pursuant to Article 36 (Register of administrators and benchmarks) of the UK Benchmarks Regulation. Transitional provisions in the UK Benchmarks Regulation may have the result that the administrator of a particular benchmark is not required to appear in the register of administrators and benchmarks at the date of the Final Terms or Pricing Supplement (or, if located outside the UK, recognition, endorsement or equivalence). The registration status of any administrator under the UK Benchmarks Regulation is a matter of public record and, save where required by applicable law, the Issuers do not intend to update the relevant Final Terms or Pricing Supplement to reflect any change in the registration status of the administrator.

Singapore SFA Product Classification: In connection with Section 309B of the Securities and Futures Act 2001 of Singapore (as modified or amended from time to time, the “SFA”) and the Securities and Futures (Capital Markets Products) Regulations 2018 of Singapore (the “CMP Regulations 2018”), unless otherwise specified before an offer of Notes, each of Doha Finance Limited and Doha Bank Q.P.S.C. has determined, and hereby notifies all relevant persons (as defined in Section 309A(1) of the SFA), that the Notes are ‘prescribed capital markets products’ (as defined in the CMP Regulations 2018) and Excluded Investment Products (as defined in MAS Notice SFA 04-N12: Notice on the Sale of Investment Products and MAS Notice FAA-N16: Notice on Recommendations on Investment Products).

THE NOTES HAVE NOT BEEN APPROVED OR DISAPPROVED BY THE U.S. SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION, ANY STATE SECURITIES COMMISSION IN THE UNITED STATES OR ANY OTHER U.S. REGULATORY AUTHORITY, NOR HAS ANY OF THE FOREGOING AUTHORITIES PASSED UPON OR ENDORSED THE MERITS OF THE OFFERING OF NOTES OR THE ACCURACY OR THE ADEQUACY OF THIS BASE PROSPECTUS. ANY REPRESENTATION TO THE CONTRARY IS A CRIMINAL OFFENCE IN THE UNITED STATES. NOTES IN BEARER FORM ARE SUBJECT TO U.S. TAX LAW REQUIREMENTS.

STABILISATION

In connection with the issue of any Tranche of Notes, the Dealer or Dealers (if any) named as the Stabilisation Manager(s) (or persons acting on behalf of any Stabilisation Manager(s)) in the applicable Final Terms (or the Pricing Supplement, in the case of Exempt Notes) may over-allot Notes or effect transactions with a view to supporting the market price of the Notes at a level higher than that which might otherwise prevail. However, stabilisation may not necessarily occur. Any stabilisation action may begin on or after the date on which adequate public disclosure of the terms of the offer of the relevant Tranche of Notes is made and, if begun, may cease at any time, but it must end no later than the earlier of 30 days after the issue date of the relevant Tranche of Notes and 60 days after the date of the allotment of the relevant Tranche of Notes. Any stabilisation action or over-allotment must be conducted by the relevant Stabilisation Manager(s) (or persons acting on behalf of any Stabilisation Manager(s)) in accordance with all applicable laws and rules.

Neither the Notes nor the Guarantee have been or will be registered under the Securities Act and the Notes in bearer form are subject to U.S. tax law requirements. Subject to certain exceptions, Notes may not be offered, sold or delivered within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons (see "Subscription and Sale").

This Base Prospectus does not constitute an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy any Notes in any jurisdiction to any person to whom it is unlawful to make the offer or solicitation in such jurisdiction. The distribution of this Base Prospectus and the offer or sale of Notes may be restricted by law in certain jurisdictions. None of the Issuers, the Guarantor and the Dealers represent that this Base Prospectus may be lawfully distributed, or that any Notes may be lawfully offered, in compliance with any applicable registration or other requirements in any such jurisdiction, or pursuant to an exemption available thereunder, or assume any responsibility for facilitating any such distribution or offering. In particular, no action has been taken by any of the Issuers, the Guarantor or the Dealers which is intended to permit a public offering of any Notes or distribution of this Base Prospectus in any jurisdiction where action for that purpose is required. Accordingly, no Notes may be offered or sold, directly or indirectly, and neither this Base Prospectus nor any advertisement or other offering material may be distributed or published in any jurisdiction, except under circumstances that will result in compliance with any applicable laws and regulations. Persons into whose possession this Base Prospectus or any Notes may come must inform themselves about, and observe, any such restrictions on the distribution of this Base Prospectus and the offering and sale of Notes. In particular, there are restrictions on the distribution of this Base Prospectus and the offer or sale of Notes in the United States, the EEA, the United Kingdom, the Cayman Islands, the State of Qatar, Japan, the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, the Kingdom of Bahrain, Dubai International Financial Centre, the United Arab Emirates, Hong Kong and Singapore. See "Subscription and Sale".

SUITABILITY OF INVESTMENT

The Notes may not be a suitable or appropriate investment for all investors. Each potential investor in the Notes must determine the suitability of that investment in light of its own circumstances. In particular, each potential investor may wish to consider, either on its own or with the help of its financial and other professional advisers, whether it:

- (i) has sufficient knowledge and experience to make a meaningful evaluation of the relevant Notes, the merits and risks of investing in the relevant Notes and the information contained or incorporated by reference in this Base Prospectus or any applicable supplement;
- (ii) has access to, and knowledge of, appropriate analytical tools to evaluate, in the context of its particular financial situation, an investment in the relevant Notes and the impact the Notes will have on its overall investment portfolio;
- (iii) has sufficient financial resources and liquidity to bear all of the risks of an investment in the Notes, including Notes with principal or interest payable in one or more currencies, or where the currency for principal or interest payments is different from the potential investor's currency;
- (iv) understands thoroughly the terms of the relevant Notes and is familiar with the behaviour of any relevant indices and financial markets; and
- (v) is able to evaluate possible scenarios for economic, interest rate and other factors that may affect its investment and its ability to bear the applicable risks.

Some Notes are complex financial instruments. Sophisticated institutional investors generally do not purchase complex financial instruments as stand-alone investments. They purchase complex financial instruments as a way to reduce risk or enhance yield with an understood, measured, appropriate addition of risk to their overall portfolios. A potential investor should not invest in Notes which are complex financial instruments unless it has the expertise (either alone or with a financial adviser) to evaluate how the Notes will perform under changing conditions, the resulting effects on the value of the Notes and the impact this investment will have on the potential investor's overall investment portfolio.

Legal investment considerations may restrict certain investments. The investment activities of certain investors are subject to investment laws and regulations, or review or regulation by certain authorities. Each potential investor should consult its legal advisers to determine whether and to what extent (i) Notes are legal investments for it, (ii) Notes can be used as collateral for various types of borrowing and (iii) other restrictions apply to its purchase or pledge of any Notes. Financial institutions should consult their legal advisers or the appropriate regulators to determine the appropriate treatment of Notes under any applicable risk-based capital or similar rules.

PRESENTATION OF MARKET, MARKET SHARE AND INDUSTRY DATA

This Base Prospectus contains information sourced from third parties, where indicated with references to third party sources herein. Each of the Issuers and the Guarantor confirms that such information has been accurately reproduced and that, so far as it is aware, and is able to ascertain from information published by such sources, no facts have been omitted which would render the reproduced information inaccurate or misleading.

The market, market share and industry data and the data relating to the State of Qatar contained in this Base Prospectus have been obtained from the International Monetary Fund’s data on world economic outlook, annual reports and quarterly/monthly statistics reports issued by the Qatar Central Bank (the “QCB”) and information filed with the QCB, reports issued by the Qatar Planning & Statistics Authority (the “QSA”), information from the U.S. Energy Information Administration, British Petroleum Statistical Review of World Energy, the Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Qatari press reports and publications, edicts and resolutions of Qatar and published financial statements of certain commercial banks in Qatar.

While each of the Issuers and the Guarantor believes that this information is derived from sources which are reliable, the accuracy of such information is subject to the availability and reliability of the data supporting such information and neither the published information nor the underlying data has been independently verified. In addition, the methodology of these sources and of other industry sources for collecting information and data, and therefore the reported information, may differ from that used by the Bank to compile operational data and from the methodologies employed by other sources.

Prospective investors in the Notes should review the description of the economy of Qatar set forth in this Base Prospectus in light of the following observations. Statistics contained in this Base Prospectus, including those in relation to nominal gross domestic product (“GDP”), have been obtained from, among others, the Ministry of Commerce and Industry, the QCB and the QSA. Such statistics, and the component data on which they are based, may be unreliable and may not have been compiled in the same manner as data provided by similar sources in Western Europe and the United States. Similar statistics may be obtainable from other sources, although the underlying assumptions, methodology and consequently the resulting data may vary from source to source. There may also be material variances between preliminary or estimated data set forth in this Base Prospectus and actual results, and between the data set forth in this Base Prospectus and corresponding data previously published by or on behalf of Qatar. In addition, due to deficiencies in the currency of certain data, some information for recent years is not available as of the date of this Base Prospectus. Consequently, the statistical data contained in this Base Prospectus should be treated with caution by prospective investors.

These forward-looking statements involve known or unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors that may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of the Bank to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements.

Given the risks and uncertainties that may cause the actual future results, performance or achievements of the Bank to be materially different from the results, performance or achievements expected, expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements in this Base Prospectus, undue reliance must not be placed on such forward-looking statements. None of Doha Finance, the Bank, the Arranger or any of the Dealers or any of the Agents represents or warrants that the actual future results, performance or achievements of the Bank will be as discussed in those statements.

Further, Doha Finance and the Bank each disclaim any responsibility, and undertake no obligation, to update or revise any forward-looking statement contained herein to reflect any changes in the expectations with respect thereto after the date of this Base Prospectus or to reflect any changes in events, conditions or circumstances on which such statements are based.

Listing and Admission to Trading

Application has been made to the FCA to list the Notes (other than Exempt Notes) issued under the Programme on the Official List and to admit them to trading on the Main Market. In the case of Exempt Notes, the relevant Notes will not be listed on the Official List and/or admitted to trading on the Main Market or any other regulated market. The London Stock Exchange has not approved or verified the contents of this Base Prospectus.

Information contained in this Base Prospectus regarding Exempt Notes shall not be deemed to form part of this Base Prospectus, and the FCA has neither approved nor reviewed information contained in this Base Prospectus in connection with Exempt Notes.

Notes may be listed or admitted to trading, as the case may be, on other or further stock exchanges or markets as may be agreed between the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (in the case of Guaranteed Notes) and the relevant Dealer in relation to the Series. Notes which are neither listed nor admitted to trading on any market may also be issued.

The applicable Final Terms (or applicable Pricing Supplement, in the case of Exempt Notes) will state whether or not the relevant Notes are to be listed and/or admitted to trading and, if so, on which stock exchanges and/or markets.

Governing Law

The Notes and the Guarantee and any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in connection with the Notes and the Guarantee will be governed by, and shall be construed in accordance with, English law.

United States Selling Restrictions

Regulation S, Category 2. TEFRA C or D/TEFRA not applicable, as specified in the applicable Final Terms (or applicable Pricing Supplement, in the case of Exempt Notes).

RISK FACTORS

Each Issuer and the Guarantor (in the case of Guaranteed Notes) believes that the following factors may affect its ability to fulfil its obligations under the Notes issued under the Programme and under the Guarantee (in the case of Guaranteed Notes). All of these factors are contingencies which may or may not occur.

Factors which each of the Issuers believes may be material for the purpose of assessing the market risks associated with the Notes issued under the Programme are also described below.

Each of the Issuers believes that the factors described below represent the principal risks inherent in investing in the Notes, but the relevant Issuer may be unable to pay interest, principal or other amounts on or in connection with any of Notes for other reasons and neither Issuer represents that the statements below regarding the risks of holding any Notes are exhaustive. There is a wide range of factors which individually or together could result in the Issuer and/or the Guarantor becoming unable to make all payments due. It is not possible to identify all such factors or to determine which factors are most likely to occur, as the Issuers and the Guarantor may not be aware of all relevant factors and certain factors which they currently deem not to be material may become material as a result of the occurrence of events outside of the Issuers' or the Guarantor's control.

In purchasing Notes, investors assume the risk that Doha Finance and/or the Bank may become insolvent or otherwise be unable to make all payments due in respect of the Notes or under the Guarantee. If this occurs, prospective investors may lose the value of their entire investment or part of it. Prospective investors should therefore read and consider all the detailed information contained in this Base Prospectus (including any documents deemed to be incorporated by reference herein) and reach their own views prior to making any investment decision. Prospective investors should also consult their own financial and legal advisers about risks associated with an investment in the Notes and the suitability of investing in the Notes in light of their particular circumstances, without relying on the Issuers, the Guarantor, the Arranger or the Dealers.

1. Risk Factors Relating to the Bank

1.1 Economic Risks Relating to the Bank

The risks described under this heading 1.1 (Economic Risks Relating to the Bank) have been categorised as economic risks.

The Bank's business, financial condition and results of operations are materially affected by conditions in the global financial markets and by global economic conditions

Volatility in the global economy has resulted in turbulent capital and credit markets in recent years, especially in light of the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic and ongoing Russia/Ukraine conflict on global macroeconomic conditions. Local market conditions had been aggravated due to the Qatar Blockade (as defined below) which was only lifted at the start of 2021. In addition, any other significant global events may also enhance market volatility. Liquidity in the Qatari banking sector may tighten due to increased lending and declining customer and Government deposits.

Changes in interest rates and/or widening credit spreads have created a less favourable environment for certain of the Bank's businesses and have led to a decrease in the demand for certain loans and other products and services offered by the Group. In addition, fluctuations in interest rates and credit spreads have affected the fair value of the Bank's financial instruments. See "Market fluctuations and volatility may adversely affect the value of the Bank's positions in certain securities".

These unfavourable economic conditions have contributed to higher than normal credit losses and have reduced the availability of credit to financial institutions, including the Bank, and other corporations in the GCC region. If these levels of market disruption and volatility continue, the Bank may experience further reductions in business activity, increased funding costs and funding pressures, decreased asset values, additional credit losses, write-downs and impairment charges and lower profitability.

The Bank's flexibility in planning for, or reacting to, changes in its operations and in the financial industry generally have been negatively affected and may continue to be negatively affected. The Bank's performance may also be affected by future recovery rates on assets and the historical assumptions underlying asset recovery rates, which may no longer be accurate given recent market conditions.

Accordingly, as a result of the foregoing, the Bank's business, prospects, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations may continue to be adversely affected by conditions in the global economy and financial markets.

The Bank's business may be adversely affected by economic conditions in Qatar and in the countries where the Group operates

The growth in the Bank's assets and loan portfolio over the past several years is due in large part to the rapid growth of the Qatar economy and the economies of the GCC countries where the Bank operates, although GCC economic growth has slowed since 2014 due to global economic conditions.

The economies of Qatar and the GCC countries are dependent on oil and gas and related industries, as well as the prices and quantities of these commodities. Oil prices in particular have experienced considerable volatility in recent years, including a major decline from 2018 until the middle of 2020. Subsequently, prices for both oil and gas products have undergone a sharp increase through 2022 primarily as a result of the Russia-Ukraine conflict and the impact of sanctions imposed by the United States, the UK and the European Union, among others, on certain Russian entities, persons and sectors, including Russian suppliers of oil and gas products. The Government of Qatar has relied upon revenues from oil and liquefied natural gas ("LNG") to finance its economic development and infrastructure projects. If current political tensions prevail and cause economic conditions to deteriorate to an extent that depresses global demand for oil and gas, this could cause delays in key projects as a result of the decrease in the availability of credit, and the Government could need to draw on its sovereign wealth fund in order to finance these projects.

Any price deterioration or high volatility in international prices for oil and gas products in the future could adversely affect the Government's balance of payments, development strategy or its ability to continue both to finance internal development projects and to provide liquidity and support to its commercial banking and real estate sectors. Qatar's gross government debt has increased materially in recent years with the indebtedness of state-owned enterprises representing a sizeable contingent liability which may reduce the Government's ability to intervene in support of the domestic banking sector in a stressed scenario. During 2022 and as the date of this base prospectus, Brent Oil has averaged U.S.$91.02 per barrel while currently trading at U.S.$82.53 per barrel, this versus the State of Qatar budget of U.S.$55 per barrel. The Japan Korean LNG Marker has averaged U.S.$32.63 while trading at U.S.$35.39, due to the supply/ demand disruption caused by the global economy's revival post COVID-19 and the ongoing Russia-Ukraine conflict.

The Bank's financial performance has remained and will remain closely linked to the rate of economic growth of Qatar and the other GCC countries in which the Group operates. Any deterioration in economic conditions in Qatar or the GCC due to a deterioration in oil and gas prices or related industries or due to other factors, could materially adversely affect the Bank's business, prospects, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations as well as those of many of the Bank's borrowers and contractual counterparties.

The Bank's business may be adversely impacted by the Coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic

The World Health Organization declared the Coronavirus (COVID-19) ("COVID-19") a global pandemic in March 2020. The rapid spread of COVID-19 first identified in December 2019 resulted in a rapid deterioration of the political, socio-economic and financial environment globally in the immediate months following the start of the pandemic. The pandemic also resulted in an economic downturn in countries in which the Group operates and the global economy more widely, as well as causing disruption to supply chains, lower equity market valuations, increased unemployment levels and increased volatility and declines in financial markets.

In addition, the pandemic resulted in temporary closures of many businesses and the requirements of social distancing, travel restrictions and sheltering in place to varying degrees across many countries, including Qatar. There were periods during which the Group closed or restricted access to offices in accordance with local restrictions, adopted measures to allow for flexible working and implemented measures to manage essential processes remotely. While many of these restrictions had (as at the date of this base prospectus) been either lifted or relaxed in many countries, including Qatar, the Group's business operations would be disrupted if there were a renewed outbreak and/or significant restrictions were reimposed such that portions of its workforce are unable to work effectively, including because of illness, quarantines, government actions, or other restrictions in connection with the pandemic. The operational risk caused by COVID-19 (including any renewed outbreak) on the Group could have an adverse effect on the Group's business model, future performance, solvency and liquidity due to the potential impact on the Group's strategic objectives.

The Bank expects that the difficult economic and market conditions arising as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic will continue in the short to medium term. In addition, there can be no assurances that economic and market conditions will not worsen. These factors may affect the level and volatility of securities prices and therefore the liquidity and value of the Group's investments. Moreover, difficult economic and market conditions and the related impact on the debt and equity capital markets may adversely affect the Group's business and investment opportunities.

Whilst the Bank continues to monitor and assess the impacts of COVID-19, the extent to which the COVID-19 pandemic impacts the Group's business, results of operations, financial condition and overall performance, will depend on future developments, which are highly uncertain and cannot be predicted, including the scope and duration of the pandemic and actions taken by governmental authorities and other third parties in response to the pandemic.

The Bank may be affected by instability in the Middle East and the North Africa region

Although Qatar enjoys domestic political stability and generally healthy international relations, as a country located in the MENA region, there is a risk that regional geopolitical instability could impact the country.

Since 2011, the MENA region has been experiencing (and in some cases, is still experiencing) unprecedented levels of political instability, civil unrest, violence and armed conflict. In particular, there has been political unrest in a range of countries in the MENA region. This unrest has ranged from public demonstrations to, in extreme cases, terrorist acts and armed conflict (including the multinational conflict with Islamic State (also known as Daesh, ISIS or ISIL)) and the overthrow of leaders and has given rise to increased political uncertainty across the region. These situations have caused significant disruption to the economies of affected countries and have had a destabilising effect on international oil and gas prices.

There can be no assurance that such political instability in the GCC/MENA region will not escalate in the future, affect stable countries such as Qatar or spread to additional countries in the MENA region. There can be no assurance that any further violent activities will not occur in the GCC or that the governments of the MENA region will be successful in maintaining domestic order and stability. Such unrest may result in credit becoming more expensive for certain countries in the region.

Since the Bank's operations are focused primarily in Qatar (Qatari-focused operations contributing 98.9 per cent., 121.49 per cent., 106.44 per cent., and 112.42 per cent. of the Bank's net profit for the nine month period ended 30 September 2022 and year ended 31 December 2021, 31 December 2020 and 31 December 2019 respectively), any sustained political instability in Qatar or the wider GCC/MENA region may adversely affect the Bank's business, prospects, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

The Bank may be materially affected if the recent thawing of the Qatar-Gulf diplomatic crisis and resulting economic sanctions does not continue and there is a delay in returning to pre-Blockade status

On 5 June 2017, several countries, including the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, the UAE and Bahrain moved to cut diplomatic ties, trade and transport links with Qatar (the "Qatar Blockade").

The measures adopted included a closure of land, sea and air access and the expulsion of Qatari officials, residents and visitors from those countries.

Saudi Arabia, the UAE and Bahrain were Qatar's leading trade partners in the region, accounting for 4.3 per cent., 9.1 per cent. and 1 per cent. of Qatar's import trade in 2016, respectively and non-resident deposits had historically represented an important source of funding for Qatari banks. There has been a significant decrease in trade from Saudi Arabia and UAE to Qatar since the start of the Qatar Blockade, with those countries only accounting for 0.05%, 0.18% and 0.03% respectively of Qatar's import trade in 2018, and a material decrease in non-resident deposits. Since 2017, exports to countries such as China, South Korea, Singapore, The Netherlands and the USA increased as compared to previously.

However, on 5 January 2021, all of the countries involved signed the Al-Ula Declaration in Saudi Arabia in an agreement to restore full diplomatic relations with each other. Although the specific content and details of the Al-Ula Declaration have not been, and are not expected to be, published, many of the measures previously adopted by Bahrain, Egypt, Saudi Arabia and the UAE against Qatar have gradually been revoked. It is uncertain how long it will take for trade, transport and diplomatic ties to fully return to their pre-Blockade status. Any prolonged delay could have a material adverse impact on the economy and political environment in Qatar, which may in turn adversely affect the Bank's business, prospects, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations and the Bank's ability to fulfil its obligations under the Notes and/or the Guarantee. See "Overview of Qatar—Risks relating to Qatar".

1.2 Operational Risks Relating to the Bank

The risks described under this heading 1.2 (Operational Risks Relating to the Bank) have been categorised as operational risks.

The Bank is exposed to legal and operational risk

Legal risk is the risk of losses occurring due to legal or regulatory action that invalidates or otherwise precludes performance by the Bank or its counterparty under the terms of its contractual agreements. The Bank seeks to mitigate this risk through the use of properly reviewed standardised documentation and appropriate legal advice in relation to its non-standard documentation.

Operational risk and losses can result from fraud, errors by employees, failure to document transactions properly or to obtain proper internal authorisation, failure to comply with regulatory requirements and conduct of business rules, systems and equipment failures, natural disasters or the failure of external systems (for example, those of the Bank's counterparties or vendors). The Bank has implemented risk controls and loss mitigation strategies, and substantial resources are devoted to developing efficient procedures and to staff training, but it is not possible to eliminate each of the potential operational risks the Bank faces. Losses from the failure of the Bank's system of internal controls could adversely impact the Bank's business, prospects, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

Notwithstanding anything in this risk factor, this risk factor should not be taken as implying that either Doha Finance or the Bank will be unable to comply with its obligations as a company with securities admitted to the Official List.

The Bank could be negatively affected by an inability to recruit qualified Qatari personnel

As with other banks in the GCC countries and in particular Qatar, the Bank may face a shortage of qualified local employees, which requires it to recruit personnel from outside of Qatar and the GCC. Under Ministry of Administrative Development, Labour and Social Affairs ("Ministry of Labour") regulations, certain specific management positions in Qatari companies, including the head of the human resources department, must be filled by a Qatari citizen. The Bank faces challenges in recruiting qualified personnel to manage its business and if the Bank continues to grow, it will need to continue to increase its number of employees. The Bank is guided in its human resources decisions by the Government's policy that 20 per cent. of the Bank's total staff should be Qatari nationals. The Bank's failure to manage its personnel needs successfully could adversely affect the Bank's ability to implement its strategies and the Bank's business, prospects, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

The Bank could be negatively affected by an inability to attract and retain key executives

The Bank's future success and growth will depend, in part, on its ability to continue to retain and motivate senior management and other key qualified personnel. The Bank depends especially on the efforts, skill, reputation and experience of its key senior management, such as the current CEO, as well as synergies among their diverse fields of expertise and knowledge. The Bank attempts to structure its compensation packages appropriately in order to attract and retain experienced personnel. There is intense competition for the best people in the financial services sector. Although it is the goal of the Bank's management resource policies and practices to attract, develop and retain key executives employed by the Bank or an entity acquired by the Bank, there is no assurance that the Bank will be able to do so.

The Bank is subject to the risk of a complete or partial failure of its IT systems

The Bank depends on its IT systems to process a large number of transactions on an accurate and timely basis, and to store and process substantially all of its business and operating data. The proper functioning of the Bank's financial control, risk management, credit analysis and reporting, accounting, customer service and other IT systems, as well as the communication networks between its branches and main data processing centres, are critical to the Bank's business and ability to compete effectively. The Bank's business activities would be materially disrupted if there is a partial or complete failure of any of the IT systems or communications networks. Such failures can be caused by a variety of factors, including natural disasters, extended power outages and computer viruses. The proper functioning of the Bank's IT systems also depends on accurate and reliable data and other system inputs, which are subject to human errors. Any failure or delay in recording or processing the Bank's transaction data could subject it to claims for losses and regulatory fines and penalties.

The Bank has implemented and tested detailed business continuity plans and processes as well as disaster recovery procedures, including setting up a disaster recovery site 20 kilometres from the Bank's headquarters. See "Description of Doha Bank Q.P.S.C. – Information Technology". However, there can be no assurance that these safeguards will be fully effective.

If the Bank is unable to adapt to rapid technological changes, its business could suffer

The Bank's future success will depend in part on its ability to respond to technological advances and to emerging banking industry standards and practices on a cost-effective and timely basis. The development and implementation of such technology entail significant technical and business risks. There can be no assurance that the Bank will successfully implement new technologies effectively or adapt its transaction processing systems to meet customer requirements or emerging industry standards. If the Bank is unable to adapt in a timely manner to changing market conditions, customer requirements or technological changes, for technical, legal, financial or any other reasons, its business, the Bank's business, prospects, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations would be adversely affected.

The Bank's compliance systems might not be fully effective

The Bank is required to maintain compliance, audit and reporting systems and procedures in order to comply with QCB regulations and legal requirements. The Bank cannot ensure that these systems and procedures are fully effective and its maintenance of these systems is dependent on its ability to attract and retain personnel qualified to manage and monitor such systems and procedures. The Bank is subject to extensive oversight by regulatory authorities, including regular examination activity. In addition, the Bank performs regular internal audits and tests its compliance systems. In the case of actual or alleged non-compliance with regulations, the Bank could be subject to investigations and judicial or administrative proceedings that may result in substantial penalties or civil lawsuits, including by customers for damages, and any of these could adversely affect the Bank's business, prospects, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

The Bank's risk management policies and procedures may leave it exposed to unidentified or unanticipated risks

In the course of its business activities, the Group is exposed to a variety of risks, the most significant of which are credit risk, market risk, liquidity risk and operational risk. See "Risk Management".

The Bank's risk management strategies and internal controls may leave it exposed to unidentified or unanticipated risks. There can be no assurance that the Bank's risk management and internal control policies and procedures will adequately control, or protect the Bank against, all credit, liquidity, market and other risks. In addition, certain risks may not be accurately quantified by the Bank's risk management systems. Some of the Bank's methods of managing risk are based upon the use of historical market data which, as evidenced by events caused by the global financial crisis, may not always accurately predict future risk exposures, which could be significantly greater than historical measures indicate.

Other risk management methods depend upon evaluation of information regarding the markets in which the Bank operates, its clients or other matters that are publicly available or information otherwise accessible to the Bank. This information may not be accurate, complete, up-to-date or properly evaluated in all cases. In addition, certain risks could be greater than the Bank's empirical data would otherwise indicate.

Investors should note that any failure or material deficiency in the Bank's risk management or other internal control policies or procedures may expose it to significant credit, liquidity, market or operational risk, which may in turn adversely affect the Bank's business, prospects, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations, as well as its reputation, and thereby affect the Bank's ability to perform its obligations under the Notes and/or the Guarantee.

The Bank's risk management techniques may not be fully effective in mitigating its exposure in all market environments or against all types of risk, including risks that are unidentified or unanticipated. Some of the Bank's methods of managing risk are based upon its use of historical market behaviour. These methods may not predict future risk exposures, which could be significantly greater than historical measures indicate. There can be no assurance that the Bank's risk management and internal control policies and procedures will adequately control, or protect the Bank against, all credit and other risks. The Bank also cannot guarantee that all of its staff will adhere to its policies and procedures.

The Bank is susceptible to, among other things, failure of internal processes or systems, unauthorised transactions by employees and operational errors, including clerical or record keeping errors, errors resulting from faulty computer or telecommunications systems, and fraud by employees or outsiders. The Bank's risk management and internal control capabilities are also limited by the information, tools and technologies available to the Bank. Any material deficiency in the Bank's risk management or other internal control policies or procedures may expose the Bank to significant credit, liquidity, market or operational risk, which may in turn have a material adverse effect on the Bank's business, results of operations and financial condition.

The Bank may not be able to manage its expansion strategy effectively, which could impact its profitability

The Bank cannot assure prospective investors that it will be able to manage its growth effectively. Challenges that may result from strategic investments or acquisitions include the Bank's ability to:

- finance strategic investments or acquisitions;
- fully integrate strategic investments, or newly-established entities or acquisitions in line with its strategy;
- assess the value, strengths and weaknesses of investment or acquisition candidates;
- align its current information technology ("IT") systems adequately with those of the Bank and the Group;
- manage efficiently the operations and employees of expanding businesses;
- manage a growing number of entities without over-committing management or losing key personnel;
- maintain its existing customer base; and
- apply its risk management policy effectively to an enlarged Group.

The Bank cannot ensure that it will be able to adequately address these concerns, which could prevent the Bank from achieving its strategic objectives and could also adversely affect the Bank's business, prospects, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

1.3 Financial and Market Risks Relating to the Bank

The risks described under this heading 1.3 (Financial and Market Risks Relating to the Bank) have been categorised as financial and/or market risks.

The Bank could be adversely affected by the soundness or the perceived soundness of other financial institutions and counterparties, which could result in significant systemic liquidity problems, losses or defaults

The Bank, like other financial institutions, is subject to the risk of deterioration of the commercial and financial soundness, or perceived soundness, of other financial institutions. Within the financial services industry, the default of any one institution could lead to significant losses, and potentially defaults by other institutions. Concerns about, or a default by, one institution could lead to significant liquidity problems, losses or defaults by other institutions, because the commercial and financial soundness of many financial institutions may be closely related as a result of their credit, trading, clearing or other relationships. Even the perceived lack of creditworthiness of, or questions about, a counterparty may lead to market-wide liquidity problems and losses or defaults by the Bank or other institutions. This risk is sometimes referred to as "systemic risk" and may adversely affect financial intermediaries, such as clearing agencies, clearing houses, banks, securities firms and exchanges with whom the Bank interacts on a daily basis. Systemic risk could have a material adverse effect on the Bank's ability to raise new funding and on its business, financial condition, results of operations, liquidity or prospects and thereby affect the Bank's ability to perform its obligations under the Transaction Documents.

A substantial increase in new impairment allowances or losses greater than the level of previously recorded impairment allowances for doubtful loans and advances to customers would adversely affect the Bank's results of operations and financial condition

The Bank is exposed to the risk that borrowers may not repay their loans according to their contractual terms and that the collateral securing the payment of these loans may be insufficient. The Bank continuously reviews and analyses its loan portfolio and credit risks. The Bank's allowance for losses on loans is based on, among other things, its analysis of current and historical delinquency rates and loan management and the valuation of the underlying assets, as well as numerous other management assumptions.

Although the Bank endeavours to establish an appropriate level of impairment allowances based on incurred loss, it might be possible, for example due to economic stress situations or changes in QCB guidance or the regulatory environment, that the Bank has to significantly increase its impairment allowances for loan losses. Any significant increase in impairment allowances for loan losses or a significant change in the Bank's estimate of the risk of loss inherent in its portfolio of non-impaired loans, as well as the occurrence of loan losses in excess of the impairment allowances allocated with respect thereto, would have an adverse effect on its business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

Any mandatory change to the Bank's impairment calculation models imposed as a result of further accounting standards or regulatory changes may adversely impact impairment allowances established by the Bank, which would have an adverse effect on its business, results of operations, financial condition and prospects.

Recent market conditions, including during the period in which the Qatar Blockade was in place, have increased the risk of loans being impaired, and loan losses are increasing

Due to worsening of geopolitical and economic conditions in recent years, the Bank has experienced an increase in past due loans as well as an increase of impaired loans and in provisions for potential credit losses in its loan books. A material increase in loan losses would adversely affect the Bank's financial condition and results of operations. The ratio of the Bank's gross non-performing loans ("NPLs") to gross loans increased to 5.95 per cent. as at 30 September 2022 from 5.83 per cent. as at 31 December 2021. At 5.83 per cent, the Bank's NPL ratio as at 31 December 2021 had decreased from 5.98 per cent. as at 31 December 2020, which was an increase from 5.81 per cent. as at 31 December 2019.

In addition, the Bank has also experienced a higher incidence of NPLs in its Contracting Sector exposure in Qatar, as well as an increase in stage 2 assets from the Contracting Sector as well as the Real Estate Sector in Qatar. In response to this, the Bank's strategy has been adjusted to limit any increase in the Bank's exposure to the relevant geographies and sectors. In addition, the Bank has taken steps to ensure that, on an overall basis, its total provisioning (including ECL) provides greater than 100 per cent. coverage against NPLs, whilst also restructuring its exposure to assets classified as stage 2 under IFRS 9. The Bank is committed to following prudential regulations for provisioning against its NPL portfolio and seeks to maintain its NPL ratio and provisioning at stable levels through recoveries and write-offs, thereby offsetting any increase in NPLs due to migration from stage 2 or the occurrence of new NPLs, and as the date of this Base Prospectus, the Bank expects that its NPL ratio, proportion of assets classified as stage 2, provision coverage, incremental provisioning and write-off amounts to remain stable. However, if the Bank's ability to provision for, or write-off, NPLs were to be reduced, then net NPLs may increase, and its provisioning coverage could reduce. Similarly, if the Bank were ever to be required by the QCB to increase its provisioning rate for uncovered NPLs and stage 2 loans and advances, that could result in a material increase in loan losses, which in turn could have a material adverse effect on the Bank's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects and thereby affect the Bank's ability to perform its obligations under the Notes and/or the Guarantee.

The Bank is exposed to credit risk and the Bank's credit exposure and risk profile has increased due to the growth and expansion of the Bank's loan portfolio

Risks arising from adverse changes in the credit quality and recoverability of loans, securities and amounts due from counterparties are inherent in a wide range of the Bank's businesses, principally in its lending and investment activities. Credit risks could arise from a deterioration in the credit quality of specific borrowers, issuers and counterparties of the Bank, or from a general further deterioration in local or global economic conditions, such as the recently ended Qatar Blockade by some countries, or from systemic risks within these financial systems, which could affect the recoverability and value of the Bank's assets and require an increase in the Bank's provisions for the impairment of loans, securities and other credit exposures.

The Bank's loans and advances, net of allowances and provisions, have increased in recent years and consequently, this expansion of the Bank's loan portfolio has increased the Bank's credit exposure. In addition, the Bank's strategy of further diversifying its customer base, including through increased lending to small and medium sized corporate clients and retail customers, may also increase the credit risk exposure in its loan portfolio. Failure to manage growth and development successfully and to maintain the quality of its assets could have an adverse effect on the Bank's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

In March 2011, the QCB launched the operational central credit bureau (the "Credit Bureau") in Qatar. The Credit Bureau collates information about customers based in Qatar and their credit history. The Credit Bureau is intended to help support the sustainable growth of credit in Qatar, relying on customer data and risk-based methodologies. The Credit Bureau also provides QCB and the banking sector with analytical data to support the implementation of advanced techniques in risk management as outlined in the Basel III accord. This is intended to help to reduce the risk of higher loan loss. However, there can be no assurance that this will be able to reduce the risk of loan loss provisioning.

Given the lack of operational history, there can be no assurance that the Credit Bureau will support the Bank's assessment of the overall debt level and creditworthiness of credit applicants. As the availability of accurate and comprehensive financial and general credit information on individuals and small businesses in Qatar and the region is limited, it is likely to be more difficult for the Bank to accurately assess the credit risk associated with such lending.

Therefore, the Bank may not be fully aware of the other credit obligations to which its retail customers are subject and could be exposed to retail credit risks which it may not be able to accurately assess and provide for. These factors may result in the Bank facing credit delinquencies in its loan portfolio. While the Bank has policies to deal with non-performing loans, there can be no assurance that these policies will result in full or partial recovery of its non-performing loans.

In addition, the Bank has provided interbank loans, including placements, totalling QAR 3,406 million, QAR 4,915 million, QAR 3,274 million and QAR 7,509 million (U.S.$ 935 million., U.S.$ 1,350 million, U.S.$899 million, and U.S.$2,062 million) as at 30 September 2022, 31 December 2021, 31 December 2020 and 31 December 2019, respectively, and some of these interbank loans and placements have been provided in countries which are considered to be riskier operating environments than Qatar, including India, Turkey, Sri Lanka and Bahrain.

The Bank's failure to maintain growth of its loan portfolio while maintaining the quality of its assets through effective risk management policies could lead to higher loan loss provisioning and result in higher levels of defaults and write-offs, which in turn could adversely affect the Bank's business, prospects, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

Concentration of lending base and deposit base

As at 30 September 2022 and 31 December 2021, the Bank's 20 largest borrowers accounted for 38.95 per cent. and 87.30 per cent., respectively, of the Bank's gross loan portfolio. In addition, the Bank has some significant sector exposures. For example, as at 30 September 2022 and 31 December 2021, the Bank's exposure to the real estate sector amounted to 29.60 per cent. and 29.13 per cent. of its gross credit portfolio, respectively, and the Bank's exposure to the contracting sector amounted to 9.71 per cent. and 9.16 per cent. of its gross credit portfolio respectively. See "Selected Financial Information – Loans and Advances to Customers: Industry Concentration" for further information.

Although the Bank intends to work to diversify its loan portfolio and has taken measures in particular to reduce its exposure to the contracting sector, there can be no assurance that it will be able to attract a more diverse customer base, and a failure to achieve this or any default by one or more of these borrowers, or a sector-specific crisis, could adversely affect the Bank's business, prospects, financial condition, cash flows or results of operations.

As at 30 September 2022 and 31 December 2021 and, the Bank's top 20 depositors accounted for 53.57 per cent. and 51.43 per cent. of total deposits, respectively. Although the Bank's deposit base has increased over the past five years, and it considers its deposit base to be stable, the Bank remains exposed to decreases in its deposit base in the future. The majority of the Bank's depositors are persons or entities based in Qatar and the majority of deposits are denominated in Qatari riyals. The majority of deposits come from the Bank's wholesale customers. If a significant portion of the Bank's depositors withdraw or do not renew their term deposits on maturity, the Bank may be required to use other sources of funding which could be more expensive, which the Bank may not be able to obtain on commercially reasonable terms, if at all.

Lack of geographical diversification

As at 30 September 2022 and 31 December 2021, 96.70 per cent. and 84.45 per cent. of the Bank's financial assets with credit risk exposure were located in Qatar. The lack of geographical diversity in the Bank's loan portfolio may restrict the Bank's consumer base and competitiveness vis-à-vis other financial institutions that compete against the Bank, which could, in turn, adversely affect the Bank's business, prospects, financial condition, cash flows or results of operations.

If the Bank expands its international operations, it will be exposed to additional risks, including certain regulatory risks, compliance risks, foreign currency exchange risk and the risk of failure to market itself adequately to potential customers in other countries, as well as the other business, financial and other risks inherent in banks. Any failure to manage such risks may cause the Bank to incur increased liabilities in respect of such operations, which could in turn adversely affect the Bank's business, prospects, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations. See "Description of Doha Bank Q.P.S.C. – Selected Financial Information" for further information on deposit and loan concentrations.

The Bank has significant credit-related contingent items and commitments that may lead to potential losses

To meet the financial needs of its customers, the Bank issues various loan commitments, guarantees, letters of credit and other financial facilities, all of which are accounted for off the Bank's balance sheet until such time as they are actually funded or cancelled. Although these commitments are contingent and therefore off-balance sheet, they nonetheless contain credit and liquidity risks, and are part of the overall risks to which the Bank is subject. Credit-related commitments are subject to the same credit approval terms and compliance procedures as loans and advances, and commitments to extend credit are contingent on customers maintaining required credit standards. While the Bank anticipates that only a portion of its obligations in respect of these commitments will be triggered, the Bank may become obligated to make higher provisions on the account of IFRS 9 regulations in respect of a greater portion of such commitments, which could adversely affect the Bank's funding needs and credit risks. As at 30 September 2022, 31 December 2021, 31 December 2020 and 31 December 2019 the Bank had a total of QAR 33,080 million (U.S.$ 9,084 million), QAR 27,514 million (U.S.$7,556 million), QAR 33,426 million (U.S.$9,179 million) and QAR 32,812 million (U.S.$9,011 million) in contingent liabilities and commitments, respectively.

The Bank is subject to the risk that liquidity may not be available or may only be available on unfavourable terms

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Bank will be unable to meet its obligations, including funding commitments, as they fall due. Liquidity risk could arise from the Bank's inability to anticipate and provide for unforeseen decreases or changes in funding sources. This risk is inherent in banking operations and can be heightened by a number of enterprise-specific factors, including over-reliance on a particular source of funding, changes in credit ratings or market-wide phenomena such as market dislocation and major disasters. A substantial portion of the Bank's deposits are retail current, savings and fixed term deposits which, though payable on demand or at short notice, have traditionally formed part of a stable deposit base and a core source of funding. The Bank also relies on funding from interbank borrowings and QCB deposits and is therefore exposed to any significant lack of availability of interbank funding and volatility in the interbank market, which might occur for reasons beyond its control.

Prevailing local market conditions, including lower oil prices, deposit withdrawal by sovereign wealth funds, and local currency issuances by regional central banks, as well as external factors such as a hike in U.S. treasury rates, global liquidity tightening, the withdrawal of the United Kingdom from the European Union, the Eurozone sovereign debt crisis, slowdown in China's growth, the COVID-19 pandemic and, most recently the ongoing conflict between Russia and Ukraine have all resulted in less liquidity in the market and generally funding has become more difficult to obtain and is subject to less favourable terms. As a result of unfavourable market conditions, the Bank's access to sources of liquidity such as debt markets and asset sales may be restricted or be available at higher cost. In addition, funding from wholesale sources, which sometimes tends to be more expensive, currently forms a greater portion of the Bank's funding than in the past.

The availability to the Bank of any additional financing it may need will depend on a variety of factors, such as market conditions, the availability of credit generally and to borrowers in the financial services industry specifically, and the Bank's financial condition, credit ratings and credit capacity, as well as the possibility that customers or lenders could develop a negative perception of the Bank's financial prospects if, for example, the Bank incurs large losses, experiences significant deposit outflows or if the level of the Bank's business activity decreases. In particular, the Bank's access to funds may be impaired if regulatory authorities or rating agencies impose additional regulatory capital requirements or downgrade the Bank's debt ratings.

The Bank may be particularly vulnerable to liquidity risk due to its increased exposure to maturity mismatches, with 51.71 per cent., 59.53 per cent., 60.26 per cent., and 55.35 per cent. of its liabilities having a maturity of less than three months as at 30 September 2022, 31 December 2021, 31 December 2020 and 31 December 2019, respectively, and 55.01 per cent., 62.89 per cent., 74.10 per cent. and 67.64 per cent. of its assets having a maturity of more than one year as at 30 September 2022, 31 December 2021, 31 December 2020 and 31 December 2019, respectively. While the Bank has sought longer term funding to mitigate this risk, there is a risk that it will not be able to access funding markets in a timely and cost-effective manner or at all. In September 2014, pursuant to circular no. 60/2014 dated 20/07/2014, the QCB implemented a requirement for banks to calculate their Loan to Deposit Ratio ("LDR"), which followed an earlier requirement, pursuant to circular no. 2/2014 dated 06/01/2014 and effective from January 2014, for banks to calculate their Liquidity Coverage Ratio ("LCR"). As at 30 September 2022, 31 December 2021, 31 December 2020 and 31 December 2019, the Bank's LDR was 114.60 per cent., 124.45 per cent., 118.88 per cent. and 112.52 per cent., respectively, which was above the recommended maximum LDR set by the QCB of 100 per cent., and the Bank's LCR was 162.37 per cent., 166.93 per cent., 99.61 per cent. and 134.63 per cent., respectively, which was above (or very close to) the recommended minimum LCR set by the QCB of 100 per cent.

If the Bank is unable to meet its liquidity needs, through deposits or interbank markets and is unable to refinance its outstanding indebtedness, this could adversely impact its business, prospects, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

The Bank may not receive future support from the Government, or it may not receive future support that is commensurate with the support that it has received in the past

In light of the global economic crisis, which started in 2008, and its impact on the Qatari banking sector, the Government initiated several plans to support domestic banks. The Government subscribed to a special issue of shares in the Bank, in tranches of 5 per cent. in 2008, 5 per cent. in 2009 and 10 per cent. in 2011. The amounts payable including premium for each of the 2008 and 2009 tranches was QAR 368.6 million and the amount payable including premium for the 2011 tranche was QAR 737.20 million. In 2009, the Government also bought the Bank's portfolio of equities listed on the QE amounting to QAR 536.64 million and acquired a portion of the Bank's real estate portfolio amounting to QAR 1,664.32 million in consideration for cash and State of Qatar bonds. Similarly, during the recent Qatar Blockade, the banking sector was provided with adequate liquidity support by QCB and government agencies. Although the Government supported the domestic banking industry during the global economic and recent crisis, there can be no assurance that the Government will provide any additional support to the Bank and the domestic banking industry in response such crisis or initiate support if another major economic disruption were to occur in the future as the Government is currently under no legal obligation to provide such support.

The Bank's financial condition and operating results could be affected by market risks

The Bank's financial condition and operating results could be affected by market risks that are outside the Bank's control, including, without limitation, volatility in interest rates, prices of securities and currency exchange rates.

Fluctuations in interest rates could adversely affect the Bank's operations and financial condition in a number of different ways. Interest rate risk arises from the possibility that changes in interest rates will affect the value of the Bank's financial instruments or cash flows. The Bank is exposed to interest rate risk as a result of mismatches or gaps in the amounts of assets and liabilities and off balance sheet instruments that mature or re-price in a given period. The Bank measures and manages interest rate risk by establishing levels of interest rate risk by setting limits on the interest rate gaps for stipulated periods and matching the re-pricing of assets and liabilities through acceptable risk tolerance and limits, which are incorporated into its risk management strategies including the use of various off-balance sheet instruments, primarily interest rate swaps. Volatility in interest rates may result in a re-pricing gap between the Bank's interest-rate sensitive assets and liabilities. As the Bank's retail loan portfolio re-prices in line with changes in the QCB's repo rate, a decrease in the QCB's repo rate may result in a compression of the Bank's net interest margin. As a result, the Bank may incur additional costs. Interest rates are sensitive to many factors beyond the Bank's control, including the policies of central banks, such as the QCB and the U.S. Federal Reserve Group, political factors and domestic and international economic conditions.

Due to current fixed-rate pegging of the Qatari riyal to the U.S. dollar, interest rates in Qatar tend to follow the interest rates in the United States, but this may not always be the case. A de-pegging of the Qatari riyal or various other GCC currencies from the U.S. dollar is another market risk to which the Bank is exposed and the Bank's operations could be negatively impacted if Qatar (or any GCC country where the Group operates) should de-peg its currency. Ultimately, there can be no assurance that the Bank will be able to protect itself from any adverse effects of a currency revaluation or future interest rate fluctuations or any de-pegging from the U.S. dollar, all of which could adversely affect the Bank's business, prospects, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations. As at the date of this Base Prospectus, the Qatari riyal remains pegged to the U.S. dollar (U.S.$1.00 = QR 3.64). The QCB purchases the U.S. dollar at a fixed rate of QR 3.6385 and sells the U.S. dollar to banks operating in Qatar at a fixed rate of QR 3.6415.

The Bank's financial condition and operating results may also be affected by changes in market value of the Bank's securities portfolio. The Bank's income from securities operations depends on numerous factors beyond its control, such as overall market trading activity, interest rate levels, fluctuations in currency exchange rates and general market volatility. Although the Bank has risk management processes that review and monitor the market risk aspects of investment proposals and investment portfolios, including overall structure and investment limits, market price fluctuations may still adversely affect the value of the Bank's securities portfolio.

The Bank also engages in foreign currency transactions and maintains open currency positions in relation to the Qatari riyal, U.S. dollar and other currencies; however, presently this does not expose the Bank to currency risks since the Qatari riyal is pegged to the U.S. dollar and a majority of the position is maintained in U.S. dollars. Although the Bank's foreign currency related risks are monitored by the Bank's market risk department and controlled by the Bank's structural risk management policies, ALCO, future changes in currency exchange rates (including de-pegging of currencies to the U.S. dollar) may adversely affect the Bank's business, prospects, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

The Group is subject to the potential impacts of interest rate benchmark reforms

Interest rates and indices which are deemed to be "benchmarks" (including the London Interbank Offered Rate ("LIBOR") and Euro Interbank Offered Rate "EURIBOR") are the subject of recent national and international regulatory guidance and proposals for reform. Some of these reforms are already effective whilst others are still to be implemented. These reforms may cause such benchmarks to perform differently than in the past, to disappear entirely, or have other consequences which cannot be predicted.

Regulation (EU) 2016/1011 (the "EU Benchmarks Regulation") was published in the Official Journal of the EU on 29 June 2016 and applies from 1 January 2018. The EU Benchmarks Regulation applies to the provision of benchmarks, the contribution of input data to a benchmark and the use of a benchmark within the EU. It will, among other things, (i) require benchmark administrators to be authorised or registered (or, if non-EU-based, to be subject to an equivalent regime or otherwise recognised or endorsed) and (ii) prevent certain uses by EU supervised entities of "benchmarks" of administrators that are not authorised or registered (or, if non-EU based, not deemed equivalent or recognised or endorsed). The EU Benchmarks Regulation as it forms part of UK domestic law by virtue of the EUWA (the "UK Benchmarks Regulation"), among other things, applies to the provision of benchmarks and the use of a benchmark in the United Kingdom. Similarly, it prohibits the use in the United Kingdom by United Kingdom supervised entities of benchmarks of administrators that are not authorised by the FCA or registered on the FCA register (or, if non-United Kingdom based, not deemed equivalent or recognised or endorsed).

The EU Benchmarks Regulation and/or the UK Benchmarks Regulation, as applicable, could have a material impact on any Notes linked to or referencing a benchmark, in particular, if the methodology or other terms of the benchmark are changed in order to comply with the requirements of the EU Benchmarks Regulation and/or the UK Benchmarks Regulation, as applicable. Such changes could, among other things, have the effect of reducing, increasing or otherwise affecting the volatility of the published rate or level of the relevant benchmark.

More broadly, any of the international or national reforms, or the general increased regulatory scrutiny of benchmarks, could increase the costs and risks of administering or otherwise participating in the setting of a benchmark and complying with any such regulations or requirements. Such factors may have (without limitation) the following effects on certain benchmarks: (i) discouraging market participants from continuing to administer or contribute to a benchmark; (ii) triggering changes in the rules or methodologies used in the benchmark; and/or (iii) leading to the disappearance of the benchmark. Any of the above changes or any other consequential changes as a result of international or national reforms or other initiatives or investigations, could have a material adverse effect on the value of and return on any Notes linked to, referencing, or otherwise dependent (in whole or in part) upon, a benchmark.

On 29 November 2017, the Bank of England and the FCA announced that, from January 2018, its Working Group on Sterling Risk Free Rates had been mandated with implementing a broad-based transition to the Sterling Overnight Index Average ("SONIA") across sterling bond, loan and derivative markets, so that SONIA is established as the primary sterling interest rate benchmark by the end of 2021.

On 21 September 2017, the European Central Bank announced that it would be part of a new working group tasked with the identification and adoption of a "risk free overnight rate" which can serve as a basis for an alternative to current benchmarks used in a variety of financial instruments and contracts in the euro area. On 13 September 2018, the working group on Euro risk free rates recommended the new Euro short-term rate ("€STR") as the new risk free rate for the euro area. The €STR was published for the first time on 2 October 2019. Although EURIBOR has been reformed in order to comply with the terms of the EU Benchmarks Regulation, it remains uncertain as to how long it will continue in its current form, or whether it will be further reformed or replaced with €STR or an alternative benchmark. The Conditions provide that, where the relevant Final Terms specify that Condition 5.5.1 (Independent Adviser) is applicable, there are certain fallback arrangements in the event that a Benchmark Event (as defined in the Conditions) occurs, including if an original Reference Rate (as defined in the Conditions) and/or any page on which an original Reference Rate may be published (or any other successor service) becomes unavailable, or a Benchmark Event otherwise occurs.

Such fallback arrangements include the possibility that the Rate of Interest (or the relevant component part thereof) could be set by reference to a Successor Rate or an Alternative Reference Rate (each as defined in the Conditions), with or without the application of an Adjustment Spread (as defined in the Conditions) and may include amendments to the Conditions to ensure the proper operation of the successor or replacement benchmark, all as determined by an Independent Adviser (as defined in the Conditions), acting in good faith and following consultation with the relevant Issuer, or the relevant Issuer (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner), as applicable, and without the requirement for the consent or sanction of Noteholders. An Adjustment Spread, if applied, is (i) a spread (which may be positive, negative or zero), or a formula or methodology for calculating a spread, in each case to be applied to the Successor Rate or the Alternative Reference Rate (as the case may be), and is the spread, formula or methodology which: (i) in the case of a Successor Rate, is formally recommended, or formally provided as an option for parties to adopt, in relation to the replacement of the Reference Rate with the Successor Rate by any Relevant Nominating Body (as defined in the Conditions); or (ii) (if no such recommendation has been made, or in the case of an Alternative Reference Rate) the Independent Adviser (following consultation with the relevant Issuer) determines is customarily applied to the relevant Successor Rate or the Alternative Reference Rate (as the case may be) in international debt capital markets transactions to produce an industry-accepted replacement rate for the original Reference Rate; or (iii) (if the Independent Adviser (following consultation with the relevant Issuer) determines that no such spread, formula or methodology is customarily applied) the Independent Adviser (following consultation with the relevant Issuer) determines is recognised or acknowledged as being the industry standard for over-the-counter derivative transactions which reference the original Reference Rate, where such rate has been replaced by the Successor Rate or the Alternative Reference Rate, as the case may be; or (iv) (if the Independent Adviser (following consultation with the relevant Issuer) determines that there is no such industry standard) the Independent Adviser (following consultation with the relevant Issuer) or the relevant Issuer (as applicable) determines (acting in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner) in their sole discretion to be appropriate. Accordingly, the application of an Adjustment Spread may result in the Notes performing differently (which may include payment of a lower Rate of Interest) than they would do if the original Reference Rate were to continue to apply in its current form. If no Adjustment Spread can be determined, a Successor Rate or Alternative Reference Rate may nonetheless be used to determine the Rate of Interest (or the relevant component part thereof). The use of a Successor Rate or Alternative Reference Rate (including with or without the application of an Adjustment Spread) may still result in any Notes linked to or referencing an original Reference Rate performing differently (which may include payment of a lower Rate of Interest) than they would if the original Reference Rate were to continue to apply in its current form.

If, following the occurrence of a Benchmark Event, no Successor Rate or Alternative Reference Rate is determined, the ultimate fallback for the purposes of the calculation of the Rate of Interest (or the relevant component part thereof) for the relevant immediately following Interest Period may result in the Rate of Interest (or the relevant component part thereof) for the last preceding Interest Period being used. This may result in the effective application of a fixed rate for Floating Rate Notes based on the rate which was last observed on the Relevant Screen Page. Due to the uncertainty concerning the availability of Successor Rates and Alternative Reference Rates, the involvement of an Independent Adviser and the potential for further regulatory developments there is a risk that the relevant fallback provisions may not operate as intended at the relevant time.

Investors should consult their own independent advisers and make their own assessment about the potential risks imposed by the EU Benchmarks Regulation and/or the UK Benchmarks Regulation, as applicable, or any of the international or national reforms and the possible application of the benchmark replacement provisions of Notes in making any investment decision with respect to any Notes referencing a benchmark.

Any of the above changes or any other consequential changes as a result of international or national reforms or other initiatives or investigations, may impact the ability of the Group to use certain benchmarks in the future. In addition, adapting processes and systems to any of the abovementioned reforms or initiatives could be a time-consuming and costly task and could therefore have an adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Effective from 1 January 2020, the Group has implemented amendments to IFRS 9 Financial Instruments, IAS 39 Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement and IFRS 7 Financial Instruments Disclosures relating to interest rate benchmark reforms. The amendments (referred as Phase I of IBOR transition project) address the hedge accounting requirements arising before IBOR and proposed a hedging relief for such hedges.

The Group has applied the hedging relief available under the amendments such as relief on forward looking analysis during the period of uncertainty beyond the year 2022.

At a Group level, the notional amount of IBOR-related interest rate swaps that have been designated in a hedging relation is QAR 3,088 million (U.S.$ 848 million) as at 30 September 2022. The Group is in discussion with its counterparties in relation to exposure to fair value hedges linked to IBOR maturing beyond 2022. Management continues to engage with various stakeholders to support an orderly transition and to mitigate the risks resulting from the transition.

However, should the Group's implementation of requirements prove ineffective, there is an increased risk of non-compliance which could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. See "Risks relating to the Notes - Regulation and reform of "benchmarks"" for the impact these changes and reforms could have on any Notes.

The market continues to develop in relation to risk-free rates (including overnight rates) as reference rates for Floating Rate Notes

The use of risk-free rates, including those such as the Secured Overnight Financing Rate ("SOFR"), SONIA or €STR as reference rates for Eurobonds continues to develop. This relates not only to the substance of the calculation and the development and adoption of market infrastructure for the issuance and trading of bonds referencing such rates, but also how widely such rates and methodologies might be adopted. The market or a significant part thereof may adopt an application of risk-free rates that differs significantly from that set out in the Conditions and used in relation to Notes that reference risk-free rates issued under this Programme. The Issuers may in the future also issue Notes referencing risk free rates that differ materially in terms of interest determination when compared with any previous Notes issued by them under this Programme. The development of risk-free rates for the Eurobond markets could result in reduced liquidity or increased volatility, or could otherwise affect the market price of any Notes that reference a risk-free rate issued under this Programme from time to time.

In addition, the manner of adoption or application of risk-free rates in the Eurobond markets may differ materially compared with the application and adoption of risk-free rates in other markets, such as the derivatives and loan markets. Investors should carefully consider how any mismatch between the adoption of such reference rates in the bond, loan and derivatives markets may impact any hedging or other financial arrangements which they may put in place in connection with any acquisition, holding or disposal of Notes referencing such risk-free rates.

In particular, investors should be aware that several different methodologies have been used in risk-free rate notes issued to date. No assurance can be given that any particular methodology, including the compounding formula in the Conditions of the Notes, will gain widespread market acceptance. In addition, market participants and relevant working groups are still exploring alternative reference rates based on risk-free rates, including various ways to produce term versions of certain risk-free rates (which seek to measure the market's forward expectation of an average of these reference rates over a designated term, as they are overnight rates) or different measures of such risk-free rates. For example, on 2 March 2020, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, as administrator of SOFR, began publishing the SOFR Compounded Index and on 3 August 2020, the Bank of England, as the administrator of SONIA, began publishing the SONIA Compounded Index. If the relevant risk-free rates do not prove to be widely used in securities like the Notes, the trading price of such Notes linked to such risk-free rates may be lower than those of Notes referencing indices that are more widely used.

Investors should consider these matters when making their investment decision with respect to any Notes which reference SOFR, SONIA, €STR or any related indices.

Market fluctuations and volatility may adversely affect the value of the Bank's positions in certain securities and make it more difficult to assess the fair value of certain of its assets

Financial markets have been subject to significant stress conditions since late 2008, with steep falls in perceived or actual asset values accompanied by a severe reduction in market liquidity. These events have affected the prices of securities that the Bank holds. Market volatility and illiquidity may make it difficult to value certain investment exposures. Fair market valuations of the Bank's exposures are subject to significant changes based on changing market conditions. Valuations in future periods, reflecting the then-prevailing market conditions, may result in significant changes in the fair value of the Bank's exposures. In addition, the value ultimately realised by the Bank may be materially different from the current or estimated fair value. Any of these factors could require the Bank to recognise valuation losses or realise impairment charges, any of which may adversely affect its business, prospects, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

The Bank's real estate portfolio amounted to 29.60 per cent. of its gross total credit portfolio or QAR 17,692 million (U.S.$4,858 million) as at 30 September 2022, 29.13 per cent. of its gross total credit portfolio or QAR 19,123 million (U.S.$5,251 million) as at 31 December 2021, 28.18 per cent. of its gross total credit portfolio or QAR 19,386 million (U.S.$5,324 million) as at 31 December 2020, and 25.84 per cent. of its gross total credit portfolio or QAR 18,328 million (U.S.$5,033 million) as at 31 December 2019. Since 2016, residential and commercial property prices have experienced a decline in Qatar which was aggravated by the Qatar Blockade. Qatar has sought to mitigate the economic fallout with a substantial infrastructure investment plan, which is expected to continue to support a healthy expansion in the Qatari economy in the run-up to the 2022 World Cup. As at the date of this Base Prospectus, although Qatar continues to deal with the on-going effects of the COVID-19 pandemic, Qatar produced a fiscal surplus for 2021, on account of the rallying of oil and LNG prices during 2021, and has continued to produce a fiscal surplus in the year to date. However, if a new variant emerges that proves to be non-responsive to current vaccines/ boosters, it is anticipated that global economies may slow and thus locally, availability of credit and opportunities to invest may remain limited. As such, prices for commercial and residential property may decrease further, although it is hoped that the introduction of additional freehold areas and long-term leases (99 years) for non-residents may help in curtailing the downward trend. Should these risks materialise or such measures prove insufficient, this could adversely affect the Bank's business, prospects, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

The Bank's proprietary trading activities could result in losses

The Bank engages in various trading activities on its own account. The Bank imposes certain limits upon proprietary trading activities, based on the Bank's prevailing appetite for risk and market conditions. The current maximum trading limit for these proprietary/own account investments held by the Bank cannot be more than U.S.$10.00 million each for equities and bonds, U.S.$30.00 million for State of Qatar bonds and U.S.$20.00 million for foreign exchange and commodities (combined). Proprietary trading involves risk. Further proprietary trading results may be significantly affected by market conditions, in particular, changes in regional securities markets, and could result in losses that could have an adverse effect on the Bank's business, prospects, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

A recurrence of rising inflation, or deflation, could adversely affect the economy and the Bank's profitability

In 2010, Qatar experienced an overall annual deflation rate of 2.4 per cent, which mirrored a decrease in housing and food costs. Since then, the overall annual inflation rate was 2.0 per cent. in 2011, 1.8 per cent. in 2012, 3.1 per cent. in 2013, 4.2 per cent. in 2014, 0.9 per cent. in 2015, 2.7 per cent. in 2016, 0.4 per cent. in 2017, 0.3 per cent. in 2018, -0.7 per cent. in 2019, -2.7 per cent. in 2020, 2.3 per cent in 2021, and to October 2022, inflation was estimated at 4.5 per cent (in each case, according to the World Bank).

The deflationary trend in the real estate market may not be sufficient to offset a future increase in core inflation. A continuing deflationary environment in Qatar could impact the Bank's profitability by negatively affecting property values, which could have a negative effect on the Bank's real estate portfolio. Historically, inflation has increased staff and living expenses and any recurrence of higher levels of inflation in the future is likely to increase such expenses further. High inflation could slow the ratio of economic growth and consumer spending in Qatar. High rates of inflation or deflation could adversely affect the Bank's business growth and its profitability.

The Bank's historical consolidated financial condition and results of operations may not be indicative of the Bank's future financial condition and results of operations

The Bank's historical consolidated financial condition and results of operations may not be indicative of the Bank's future financial condition and results of operations. There can be no assurance of the Bank's continued profitability or increase in net assets in future periods.

Increasing competition may adversely affect the Bank's results of operations

All sectors of the Qatari market for financial and banking services are highly competitive. In addition to the existing banks in Qatar, new banks are expected to continue to develop both in Qatar and within Qatar Financial Centre. The Bank competes with other banks and other financial institutions such as financial technology companies and insurance companies in various specific business lines in Qatar. Insurance companies, financial technology companies and other financial institutions are expanding their services into the traditional businesses of banks through continuous product and services innovation and present a challenge to the Bank in terms of providing banking products and services.

In addition, international banks are increasing their presence in Qatar either directly or through strategic investments. These international banks may have certain competitive advantages over the Bank, such as wider geographic coverage, broader range of products and services offerings, greater financial resources and more advanced IT systems. The competitive nature and small size of the Qatari market may adversely impact the Bank's business and may lead some of the Bank's clients to start using competitors instead, which could adversely affect the Bank's business, prospects, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations. See "Description of Doha Bank Q.P.S.C. – Competition".

The Government, through the QIA and GRSIA, has a significant shareholding in the Bank, and its interests may conflict with those of the Noteholders

As at 30 September 2022, the Government has a significant ownership interest in the Bank's share capital, in the form of a 17.15 per cent. stake held through the Qatar Investment Authority ("QIA"), and a 6.59 per cent. stake held by General Retirement & Social Insurance Authority ("GRSIA") through the Civil Pension Fund. By virtue of such shareholdings by the QIA and GRSIA, the Government has the ability to influence the Bank's business through its ability to vote on corporate actions that require shareholder approval. If circumstances were to arise where the interests of the Government conflicted with the interests of the Noteholders, the Noteholders may be disadvantaged by such conflict.

1.4 Legal and Regulatory Risks Relating to the Bank

The risks described under this heading 1.4 (Regulatory Risks Relating to the Bank) have been categorised as regulatory risks.

A downgrade in the Bank's credit ratings could limit its ability to negotiate new loan facilities, access the debt capital markets and may increase its borrowing costs and/or adversely affect its relationship with creditors

The Bank's credit ratings, which are intended to measure its ability to meet its debt obligations as they mature, are an important factor in determining the Bank's cost of borrowing funds. The interest rates of the Bank's borrowings are partly dependent on its credit ratings. As at the date of this Base Prospectus, the Bank's long-term issuer default rating and long term bank deposit rating were assessed by Fitch at A- and Moody's at Baa1. On 21 October 2021, Fitch announced that it had placed the Bank, along with a number of other leading Qatari financial institutions, on ratings watch negative. On 19 April 2022, Fitch removed the Bank, along with a number of other leading Qatari financial institutions, from ratings watch negative and downgraded the Bank and those other institutions by one notch respectively, with a stable outlook. A downgrade of the Bank's credit ratings, or being placed on a negative ratings watch, may increase its cost of borrowing and materially adversely affect its results of operations.

Any material downgrade of the Bank's credit ratings may also limit its or its subsidiaries' ability to raise capital. Moreover, actual or anticipated changes in the Bank's credit ratings or the credit ratings of the Notes (if applicable) generally may affect the market value of the Notes.

The Bank may not be able to fully comply with anti-money laundering, anti-terrorism and other regulations, which could result in governmental fines and reputational damage

The Bank is required by Qatari Laws on combating money laundering and terrorism financing (Ref. Law No. (20) of 2019, Decree Law No. (11) of 2017 on amendments of some provisions of the Law No. (3) of 2004 on Combating Terrorism) and instructions issued by the Qatar Central Bank as well as by the various other jurisdictions in which it operates, to comply with all applicable anti-money laundering and anti-terrorism laws and other regulations. These laws and regulations require the Bank, among other things, to adopt and enforce “know your customer” policies and procedures and to report suspicious and large transactions to the applicable regulatory authorities.

In response, the Bank has adopted comprehensive policies and procedures aimed at detecting and preventing the use of its banking network for money laundering activities by terrorists and terrorist-related organisations as well as other individuals generally. The Bank’s anti-money laundering and combating financing terrorism policy is in compliance with the recommendations issued by the Financial Action Task Force (FATF) as well as the above-mentioned laws.

To the extent the Bank fails to fully comply with applicable anti-money laundering, anti-terrorism and related laws and regulations, the relevant governmental agencies to which it reports have the power and authority to impose fines and other regulatory penalties on the Bank.

In addition, the Bank’s business and reputation could suffer if customers use the Bank for money laundering or illegal or improper purposes. Should the Bank fail to meet its regulatory compliance requirements or be perceived as failing these requirements, this could adversely affect the Bank’s business, prospects, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations, and subject it to fines and other sanctions.

Failure to comply with international sanctions could adversely affect the Bank

European, U.S. and other international sanctions have in the past been imposed on companies engaging in certain types of transactions with specified countries or companies or individuals in those countries. Companies operating in certain countries in the MENA region have been subject to such sanctions in the past. The terms of legislation and other rules and regulations which establish sanctions regimes are often broad in scope and difficult to interpret.

As at the date of this Base Prospectus, the Bank believes that it is not in violation of any existing European, U.S. or international sanctions (which do not include any measures arising from Qatar’s relationship with the other GCC member states (see “– Qatar is located in a region that is subject to ongoing political and security concerns”). Should the Bank or its associates in the future violate any existing or further European, U.S. or international sanctions, penalties could include a prohibition or limitation on such company’s ability to conduct business in certain jurisdictions or on the Bank’s ability to access the U.S. or international capital markets and potentially breach the terms of the Bank’s existing financing agreements. Any such violation of sanctions could have a material adverse effect on the Bank’s business, financial condition, results of operations, liquidity and prospects.

The Bank may be subject to increased capital requirements or standards due to new governmental or regulatory requirements and changes in perceived levels of adequate capitalisation

Regulators in the markets in which the Bank operates have increased, and may in the future determine to increase, the capital requirements for the Bank’s operations.

In December 2010, the Basel Committee published Basel III, the implementation of which began in Qatar on 1 January 2013. These regulations increase the amount of capital the Bank is required to maintain and may limit the Bank’s activities or change how it conducts its business, including by reducing the risk and leverage of certain activities, or otherwise have an adverse impact on its business, the products and services it offers and the value of its assets.

It should be noted that, pursuant to the QCB’s laws and regulations, the QCB is entitled to amend capital adequacy requirements at its sole discretion. The Bank may therefore become subject to mandatory guidelines and direct monitoring by the QCB should it fail to strengthen its capital position. A regulatory breach of such mandatory guidelines in Qatar could expose the Bank to potential liability and other sanctions, including the loss of its general banking licence. Further changes in supervision and regulation in Qatar could adversely affect the Bank’s business, financial condition, results of operations, liquidity and prospects, as well as the value of its assets.

For additional information regarding the QCB’s Basel III requirements and the Bank’s procedures and controls implemented in respect of such requirements, see “Description of Doha Bank Q.P.S.C. – Capital Management/Adequacy”, “Description of Doha Bank Q.P.S.C. – Liquidity Risk” and “Qatari Banking Industry and Regulation”.

The Bank is a regulated entity and changes to applicable laws or regulations or in the interpretation or enforcement of such laws or regulations or any failure by the Bank to comply with such laws or regulations could adversely affect the Bank

The Bank is subject to the laws, regulations, administrative actions and policies of Qatar and each other jurisdiction in which it operates, and the Bank's activities may be constrained by such regulations. These regulations include Qatari laws and regulations (particularly those of the QCB, the Qatar Financial Markets Authority (the "QFMA") and the Qatari Stock Exchange ("QE"), as well as the laws and regulations of the other countries in which the Bank operates. Changes in supervision and regulation (such as pursuant to Basel III), particularly in Qatar, could materially affect the Bank's business, the products or services offered, the value of its assets and its financial condition.

The QCB does not always consult with industry participants prior to the introduction of new regulations, and the Bank cannot anticipate when a new regulation will be introduced. This creates a risk that the Bank's profitability will be affected as a result of being unable to adequately prepare for regulatory changes introduced by the QCB. Furthermore, noncompliance with regulatory guidelines could expose the Bank to potential liabilities and fines.

Although the Bank works closely with its regulators and continually monitors its business with regard to the regulatory regime in which it operates, future changes in regulation, fiscal or other policies cannot be predicted and are beyond the Bank's control, which could adversely affect the Bank's business, prospects, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

The Bank's ability to achieve its strategic objectives could be impaired if it is unable to maintain or obtain required licences, permits, approvals and consents

In order to carry out and expand its business, it is necessary for the Bank to maintain or obtain a variety of licences, permits, approvals and consents from various regulatory, legal, administrative, tax and other governmental authorities and agencies. The processes for obtaining these licenses, permits and approvals are often lengthy, complex, unpredictable and costly. If the Bank is unable to maintain or obtain the relevant permits and approvals, its ability to achieve its strategic objectives could be impaired, with a consequent negative impact on the Bank's business operations, the market value of the Notes and/or the Bank's ability to perform its obligations under the Notes or the Guarantee.

OFAC considerations

European, U.S. and other international sanctions have in the past been imposed on companies engaging in certain types of transactions with specified countries or companies or individuals in those countries. Enterprises operating in certain countries in the Middle East, Asia and Africa have been subject to such sanctions in the past. The terms of legislation and other rules and regulations which establish sanctions regimes are often broad in scope and difficult to interpret. If the Bank were in the future to violate existing European, U.S. or international sanctions, penalties could include a prohibition or limitation on the Bank's ability to conduct business in certain jurisdictions or to access the U.S. or international capital markets. Any such sanction could adversely affect the Bank's business, prospects, financial condition, cash flow and results of operations.

2. Risk Factors Relating to Doha Finance

2.1 Operational Risks Relating to Doha Finance

The risks described under this heading 2.1 (Operational Risks Relating to Doha Finance) have been categorised as operational risks.

Doha Finance has no operating history and no trading assets and will depend on receipt of payments from the Guarantor to make payments to holders of the Notes

Doha Finance is incorporated in the Cayman Islands as an exempted company with limited liability that was established primarily for the purpose of providing funding, through the international capital markets, to the Bank via the issuance of Notes. Doha Finance has no operating history or trading assets. Therefore, Doha Finance's ability to fulfil its obligations under the Notes is entirely dependent on the Bank's financial performance. If the financial condition of any Group company were to deteriorate, and to the extent that funds were not available to the Bank, holders of the Notes could suffer direct and materially adverse consequences, including insufficient coupon payments on the Notes, and if a liquidation or bankruptcy of the Bank were to occur, loss by the holders of the Notes of all or a part of their investment. Doha Finance is subject to all the risks to which the Bank is subject, to the extent that such risks could limit the Bank's ability to satisfy in full and on a timely basis its obligations under the Guarantee. See "Risk Factors Relating to the Bank" for a further description of certain of these risks.

2.2 Legal and Regulatory Risks Relating to Doha Finance

The risks described under this heading 2.2 (Legal and Regulatory Risks Relating to Doha Finance) have been categorised as legal and regulatory risks.

Doha Finance is subject to Cayman Islands anti-money laundering legislation

Doha Finance may be subject to the Anti-Money Laundering Regulations (As Revised) of the Cayman Islands (together with The Guidance Notes on the Prevention and Detection of Money Laundering, Terrorist Financing and Proliferation Financing in the Cayman Islands (or equivalent legislation and guidance, as applicable), and each as amended and revised from time to time ("Regulations"). The Regulations apply to anyone conducting "relevant financial business" in or from the Cayman Islands intending to form a business relationship or carry out a one-off transaction. In addition, if any person resident in the Cayman Islands knows or suspects, or has reasonable grounds for knowing or suspecting that another person is engaged in criminal conduct, or is involved with terrorism or terrorist property, and the information for that knowledge or suspicion came to their attention in the course of business in the regulated sector, or other trade, profession, business or employment, the person will be required to report such knowledge or suspicion to (i) the Financial Reporting Authority of the Cayman Islands ("FRA"), pursuant to the Proceeds of Crime Act (As Revised) of the Cayman Islands ("PCA"), if the disclosure relates to criminal conduct or money laundering, or (ii) a police officer of the rank of constable or higher, or the FRA, pursuant to the Terrorism Act (As Revised) of the Cayman Islands (the "Terrorism Act"), if the disclosure relates to involvement with terrorism or terrorist financing and property. If Doha Finance were determined by the Cayman Islands authorities to be in violation of the PCA, the Terrorism Act or Regulations, Doha Finance could be subject to substantial criminal penalties. Doha Finance may be subject to similar restrictions in other jurisdictions. Such a violation could materially adversely affect the timing and amount of payments by Doha Finance to the holders of the Notes.

3. Risk Factors Relating to the Notes

3.1 Risks relating to the structure of a particular issue of Notes

The risks described under this heading 3.1 (Risks relating to the structure of a particular issue of Notes) have been categorised as risks which are specific to the issuance of particular types of Notes under the Programme.

A wide range of Notes may be issued under the Programme. A number of these Notes may have features which contain particular risks for potential investors. Set out below is a description of the most common of such features, distinguishing between factors which may occur in relation to any Notes and those which might occur in relation to certain types of Exempt Notes:

Notes subject to optional redemption by the Issuer

An optional redemption feature is likely to limit the market value of Notes. During any period when the relevant Issuer may elect to redeem Notes, the market value of those Notes generally will not rise substantially above the price at which they can be redeemed. This also may be true prior to any redemption period.

The relevant Issuer may be expected to redeem Notes when its cost of borrowing is lower than the interest rate on the Notes. At those times, an investor generally would not be able to reinvest the redemption proceeds at an effective interest rate as high as the interest rate on the Notes being redeemed and may only be able to do so at a significantly lower rate. Potential investors should consider reinvestment risk in light of other investments available at that time.

Index Linked Notes and Dual Currency Notes

There are particular risks associated with an investment in certain types of Exempt Notes, such as Index Linked Notes and Dual Currency Notes. In particular, an investor might receive less interest than expected or no interest in respect of such Notes and may lose some or all of the principal amount invested by it.

Each of the Issuers may issue Notes with principal or interest determined by reference to an index or formula, to changes in the prices of securities or commodities, to movements in currency exchange rates or other factors (each, a “Relevant Factor”). In addition, each of the Issuers may issue Notes with principal or interest payable in one or more currencies which currencies, which may be different from the currency in which the Notes are denominated. Potential investors should be aware that:

- (a) the market price of such Notes may be volatile;
- (b) they may receive no interest;
- (c) payment of principal or interest may occur at a different time or in a different currency than expected;
- (d) the amount of principal payable at redemption may be less than the nominal amount of such Notes or even zero;
- (e) they may lose all or substantial portion of their principal;
- (f) a Relevant Factor may be subject to significant fluctuations that may not correlate with changes in interest rates, currencies or other indices;
- (g) if a Relevant Factor is applied to Notes in conjunction with a multiplier greater than one or contains some other leverage factor, the effect of changes in the Relevant Factor on principal or interest payable likely will be magnified; and
- (h) the timing of changes in a Relevant Factor may affect the actual yield to investors, even if the average level is consistent with their expectations. In general, the earlier the change in the Relevant Factor, the greater the effect on yield.

The historical experience of an index should not be viewed as an indication of the future performance of such index during the term of any Index Linked Notes. Accordingly, each potential investor should consult its own financial and legal advisers about the risk entailed by an investment in any Index Linked Notes and the suitability of such Notes in light of its particular circumstances.

Regulation and reform of “benchmarks”

The EU Benchmarks Regulation and/or the UK Benchmarks Regulation, as applicable, could have a material impact on any Notes linked to or referencing a “benchmark”, in particular, if the methodology or other terms of the “benchmark” are changed in order to comply with the requirements of the EU Benchmarks Regulation and/or the UK Benchmarks Regulation. Such changes could, among other things, have the effect of reducing, increasing or otherwise affecting the volatility of the published rate or level of the “benchmark”.

More broadly, any of the international or national reforms, or the general increased regulatory scrutiny of “benchmarks”, could increase the costs and risks of administering or otherwise participating in the setting of a “benchmark” and complying with any such regulations or requirements. Such factors may have the following effects on certain “benchmarks”: (i) discourage market participants from continuing to administer or contribute to the “benchmark”; (ii) trigger changes in the rules or methodologies used in the “benchmark” or (iii) lead to the disappearance of the “benchmark”. Any of the above changes or any other consequential changes as a result of international or national reforms or other initiatives or investigations, could have a material adverse effect on the value of and return on any Notes linked to or referencing a “benchmark”.

Investors should consult their own independent advisers and make their own assessment about the potential risks imposed by reforms of the EU Benchmarks Regulation and/or the UK Benchmarks

Regulation, in making any investment decision with respect to any Notes linked to or referencing a “benchmark”.

See "Financial and Market Risks relating to the Bank - The Group is subject to the potential impacts of interest rate benchmark reforms" for a description of the impact these changes and reforms could have on the Bank other than in respect of any Notes.

Notes which reference or are linked to benchmarks

The Issuers may issue Floating Rate Notes, the interest rate on which fluctuates according to fluctuations in a specified interest rate benchmark. Reference rates and indices, including interest rate benchmarks (“Benchmarks”), have traditionally focussed on the likes of LIBOR and EURIBOR, which were used to determine the amounts payable under financial instruments or the value of such financial instruments. These Benchmarks have, in recent years, been the subject of political and regulatory scrutiny as to how they are created and operated. This has resulted in regulatory reform and changes to existing Benchmarks, including transition and discontinuation of IBORs, with relevant authorities having identified “risk free rates” to eventually take the place of existing IBORs as primary Benchmarks, such as the Euro Short-Term Rate (“€STR”) which has been introduced as the new euro risk-free rate to replace EURIBOR, and for US dollar transactions, the Secured Overnight Financing Rate (“SOFR”). These reforms, and replacements result in new Benchmarks which have different methodologies and other important differences from their predecessors, and which have little, if any, historical track record and may perform differently.

Any of these reforms or changes to a Benchmark, or its discontinuation and replacement with a new Benchmark, could affect the level of the published rate, including to cause it to be lower and/or more volatile than it would otherwise be and could have a material adverse effect on the value and return on any Notes referencing or linked to such Benchmark.

(i) Temporary unavailability of the Relevant Screen Page

Where Screen Rate Determination is specified in the applicable Final Terms (or Pricing Supplement, as the case may be) as the manner in which the Rate of Interest in respect of Floating Rate Notes is to be determined, the Conditions provide that the Rate of Interest shall be determined by reference to the Relevant Screen Page (or its successor or replacement). In circumstances where such Original Reference Rate is discontinued, neither the Relevant Screen Page, nor any successor or replacement may be available.

Where the Relevant Screen Page is not available, the Agency Agreement provides for the Rate of Interest to be determined by the Principal Paying Agent by reference to quotations from banks communicated to the Principal Paying Agent.

Where such quotations are not available (as may be the case if the relevant banks are not submitting rates for the determination of such Original Reference Rate), the Rate of Interest may ultimately revert to the Rate of Interest applicable as at the last preceding Interest Determination Date before the Original Reference Rate was discontinued. Uncertainty as to the continuation of the Original Reference Rate, the availability of quotes from reference banks, and the rate that would be applicable if the Original Reference Rate is discontinued may adversely affect the value of, and return on, the Floating Rate Notes.

(ii) Benchmark Events

Benchmark Events include (amongst other events) permanent discontinuation of an Original Reference Rate. If a Benchmark Event occurs, the relevant Issuer shall use its reasonable endeavours to appoint an Independent Adviser. The Independent Adviser shall endeavour to determine a Successor Rate or Alternative Rate to be used in place of the Original Reference Rate.

Furthermore, if a Successor Rate or Alternative Rate for the Original Reference Rate is determined by the Independent Adviser, the Conditions provide that the Issuer may vary the Conditions, as necessary to ensure the proper operation of such Successor Rate or Alternative Rate, without any requirement for consent or approval of the Noteholders.

If a Successor Rate or Alternative Rate is determined by the Independent Adviser, the Conditions also provide that an Adjustment Spread may be determined by the Independent Adviser and applied to such Successor Rate or Alternative Rate.

The use of any such Successor Rate or Alternative Rate to determine the Rate of Interest and the application of any Adjustment Spread may result in Notes initially linked to or referencing the Original Reference Rate performing differently (which may include payment of a lower Rate of Interest) than they would do if the Original Reference Rate were to continue to apply in its current form.

(iii) Potential for a fixed rate return

The relevant Issuer may be unable to appoint an Independent Adviser or the Independent Adviser may not be able to determine a Successor Rate or Alternative Rate in accordance with the Conditions.

Where the relevant Issuer is unable to appoint an Independent Adviser in a timely manner, or the Independent Adviser is unable, to determine a Successor Rate or Alternative Rate before the next Interest Determination Date, the Rate of Interest for the next succeeding Interest Period will be the Rate of Interest applicable as at the last preceding Interest Determination Date before the occurrence of the Benchmark Event, or, where the Benchmark Event occurs before the first Interest Determination Date, the Rate of Interest will be the initial Rate of Interest.

Where the relevant Issuer has been unable to appoint an Independent Adviser or, the Independent Adviser has failed to determine a Successor Rate or Alternative Rate in respect of any given Interest Period, it will continue to attempt to appoint an Independent Adviser in a timely manner before the next succeeding Interest Determination Date and/or to determine a Successor Rate or Alternative Rate to apply the next succeeding and any subsequent Interest Periods, as necessary.

Applying the initial Rate of Interest, or the Rate of Interest applicable as at the last preceding Interest Determination Date before the occurrence of the Benchmark Event is likely to result in Notes linked to or referencing the relevant benchmark performing differently (which may include payment of a lower Rate of Interest) than they would do if the relevant benchmark were to continue to apply, or if a Successor Rate or Alternative Rate could be determined.

Due to the uncertainty concerning the availability of Successor Rates and Alternative Rates, the involvement of an Independent Adviser and the potential for further regulatory developments, there is a risk that the relevant fallback provisions may not operate as intended at the relevant time.

If the Issuer is unable to appoint an Independent Adviser or the Independent Adviser fails to determine a Successor Rate or Alternative Rate for the life of the relevant Notes, the initial Rate of Interest, or the Rate of Interest applicable as at the last preceding Interest Determination Date before the occurrence of the Benchmark Event, will continue to apply to maturity. This risks the Floating Rate Notes in effect becoming Fixed Rate Notes.

(iv) ISDA Determination

Where ISDA Determination is specified as the manner in which the Rate of Interest in respect of Floating Rate Notes is to be determined, the Conditions provide that the Rate of Interest in respect of the Notes shall be determined by reference to the relevant Floating Rate Option in the 2006 ISDA Definitions. Where the Floating Rate Option specified is an "IBOR" Floating Rate Option, the Rate of Interest may be determined by reference to the relevant screen rate or the rate determined on the basis of quotations from certain banks. If the relevant IBOR is permanently discontinued and the relevant screen rate or quotations from banks (as applicable) are not available, the operation of these provisions may lead to uncertainty as to the Rate of Interest that would be applicable, and may, adversely affect the value of, and return on, the Floating Rate Notes.

The Federal Reserve, Bank of New York as administrator of SOFR (and the SOFR Compounded Index) (or the relevant administrator of any other risk free rate such as SONIA or €STR) may make methodological or other changes that could change the value of these risk-free rates and/or indices, including changes related to the method by which such risk-free rate is calculated, eligibility criteria applicable to the transactions used to calculate SOFR (or another risk free rate such as SONIA or €STR) or timing related to the publication of SOFR (or another risk free rate such as SONIA or €STR) or any related indices. In addition, the administrator may alter, discontinue or suspend calculation or dissemination of SOFR (or another risk free rate such as SONIA or €STR) or any related index (in which case a fallback method of determining the interest rate on the Notes will apply). The administrator has no obligation to consider the interests of Noteholders when calculating, adjusting, converting, revising or discontinuing any such risk-free rate.

Partly Paid Notes

Each of the Issuers may issue Notes where the issue price is payable in more than one instalment. Failure to pay any subsequent instalment could result in an investor losing all of his or her investment.

Variable rate Notes with a multiplier or other leverage factor

Notes with variable interest rates can be volatile investments. If they are structured to include multipliers or other leverage factors, or caps or floors, or any combination of those features or other similar related features, their market values may be even more volatile than those for securities that do not include those features.

Inverse Floating Rate Notes

Inverse Floating Rate Notes have an interest rate equal to a fixed rate minus a rate based upon a reference rate such as LIBOR. The market values of those Notes typically are more volatile than market values of other conventional floating rate debt securities based on the same reference rate (and with otherwise comparable terms). Inverse Floating Rate Notes are more volatile because an increase in the reference rate not only decreases the interest rate of the Notes but may also reflect an increase in prevailing interest rates, which further adversely affects the market value of these Notes.

Fixed/Floating Rate Notes

Fixed/Floating Rate Notes may bear interest at a rate that converts from a fixed rate to a floating rate, or from a floating rate to a fixed rate. Where the relevant Issuer has the right to effect such a conversion, this will affect the secondary market and the market value of the Notes since the relevant Issuer may be expected to convert the rate when it is likely to produce a lower overall cost of borrowing. If the relevant Issuer converts from a fixed rate to a floating rate in such circumstances, the spread on the Fixed/Floating Rate Notes may be less favourable than then prevailing spreads on comparable Floating Rate Notes tied to the same reference rate. In addition, the new floating rate at any time may be lower than the rates on other Notes. If the relevant Issuer converts from a floating rate to a fixed rate in such circumstances, the fixed rate may be lower than then prevailing rates on its Notes.

Notes issued at a substantial discount or premium

The market values of securities issued at a substantial discount or premium from their principal amount tend to fluctuate more in relation to general changes in interest rates than do prices for conventional interest-bearing securities. Generally, the longer the remaining term of the securities, the greater the price volatility as compared to conventional interest-bearing securities with comparable maturities.

The relevant Issuer's obligations under Subordinated Notes and the Guarantor's obligations under the Guarantee in respect of the Subordinated Notes are subordinated

As further described under Condition 3.3, the relevant Issuer's obligations in respect of Subordinated Notes are direct, conditional and will be subordinated to all unsubordinated payment obligations of the relevant Issuer in accordance with Condition 3.3. The rights of the holders of the Subordinated Notes against the relevant Issuer will be subordinated in right of payment to the claims of all Senior Creditors (as defined in Condition 3.3) and payments in respect of the Subordinated Notes (whether on account of principal, interest or otherwise) by the relevant Issuer will be conditional upon the relevant Issuer being solvent at the time of such payment. No payment shall be payable by the relevant Issuer in respect of the Subordinated Notes except to the extent that the relevant Issuer could make such payment and any other payment required to be made to a creditor in respect of indebtedness which ranks or is expressed to rank pari passu with the Subordinated Notes and still be solvent immediately thereafter.

In the case of Guaranteed Notes, as further described under Condition 3.4, the Guarantor's obligations under the Guarantee in respect of Subordinated Notes are direct, conditional and will be subordinated to all unsubordinated payment obligations of the Guarantor in accordance with Condition 3.4. The rights of the holders of the Subordinated Notes against the Guarantor under the Guarantee in respect of the Subordinated Notes will be subordinated in right of payment to the claims of all Senior Creditors (as defined in Condition 3.4) and payments in respect of the Guarantee in respect of the Subordinated Notes by the Guarantor will be conditional upon the Guarantor being solvent at the time of such payment. No payment shall be payable by the Guarantor under the Guarantee in respect of the Subordinated Notes except to the extent that the Guarantor could make such payment and any other payment required to be made to a creditor in respect of indebtedness which ranks or is expressed to rank pari passu with the payment obligations of the Guarantor under the Guarantee in respect of the Subordinated Notes and still be solvent immediately thereafter.

In the event of the dissolution, liquidation and/or bankruptcy of the relevant Issuer and/or (in the case of Guaranteed Notes) the Guarantor, the holders of the Subordinated Notes will only be paid by the relevant Issuer or (in the case of Guaranteed Notes) the Guarantor after all Senior Creditors of the Issuer or, as the case may be, the Guarantor have been paid in full. If this occurs, the relevant Issuer or the Guarantor may not have enough assets remaining after these payments have been made to pay amounts due under the relevant Notes.

Although Subordinated Notes may pay a higher rate of interest than comparable Notes which are not subordinated, there is a real risk that an investor in Subordinated Notes will lose all or some of his or her investment should the relevant Issuer or the Guarantor become insolvent.

3.2 Legal risks relating to the Notes

The risks described under this heading 3.2 (Legal risks relating to the Notes) have been categorised as legal risks relating to the Notes to be issued under the Programme.

There is no principle of binding precedent in the Qatari courts

There is no doctrine of binding precedent in the Qatari courts and decisions of the Qatari courts are not published. As a result, any experience with and knowledge of prior rulings of the Qatari courts may not be a reliable basis from which to predict decisions that Qatari courts may adopt in the future. The outcome of any legal disputes remains uncertain.

The Qatar and GCC legal systems continue to develop and this may create an uncertain environment for investment and business activity

Qatar and many of the GCC countries are in various stages of developing their legal and regulatory institutions. As a result, procedural safeguards as well as formal regulations and laws may not be applied consistently. In some circumstances it may not be possible to obtain the legal remedies provided under the relevant laws and regulations in a timely manner. As the legal environment remains subject to continuous development, investors in Qatar and the GCC countries may face uncertainty as to the security of their investments. Any unexpected changes in the legal systems in Qatar and the GCC may have a material adverse effect on the rights of the holders of any Note issued under the Programme or the investments that the Bank has made or may make in the future, which may in turn have a material adverse effect on the Bank's business, operating results, cash flows, prospects and financial condition.

Future attitudes of Qatari courts regarding interest cannot be predicted

Although, under the laws of Qatar, contractual provisions for the charging and payment of interest are permissible and have been routinely enforced under Qatari law, a court applying Qatari law may not enforce such a provision either to pay interest on interest or to the extent that, on a given date, accrued but unpaid interest exceeded outstanding principal. The future attitude of Qatari courts and Qatari law regarding the payment of interest cannot be predicted.

The current insolvency regime in Qatar has not been tested by the Qatari courts

The provisions of Qatar's bankruptcy and insolvency law (part of new Commercial Code No. (27) of 2006 (the "Commercial Law") came into effect on 13 May 2007. The Commercial Law provisions are similar to those included in most other GCC laws and relate largely to the declaration of bankruptcy, its effects and its administration and include conciliation to prevent bankruptcy. However, because the Commercial Law is relatively untested by Qatari courts, there is no certainty as to how Qatari courts would construe or enforce the Commercial Law in the event of a bankruptcy affecting the Bank. There can also be no assurance that a Qatari court would compel a bankruptcy administrator to perform any of the Bank's obligations under the Notes or the Guarantee or any contractual documents to which it is a party during an administration period. The Commercial Law also enables Qatari courts to defer adjudication of a company's bankruptcy if the court decides that it is possible to improve that company's financial position during a period (such period to be specified by the court) or if judged to be in the interest of the national economy. Similarly, given the lack of precedent, there is no certainty as to if and how the QCB might exercise its powers of temporary management and control under the Qatari Banking Law (13 of 2012) (including putting a financial institution into liquidation) in relation to financial institutions experiencing financial difficulties.

Under Qatari law, the Court has the power to extinguish certain contractual obligations and to relieve an excessive burden which is placed upon a debtor as a result of the occurrence of exceptional events

Pursuant to Article (171) of Qatar Law Number (22) of 2004 (the "Civil Law"), should any unforeseeable "general exceptional events" occur which result in the performance of a contractual obligation becoming "a heavy burden to the debtor threatening him with excessive loss", the Court may, depending on the circumstances and after comparing the interests of both parties, "reduce the onerous obligation to a reasonable extent". This rule has its roots in the civil law doctrine of "imprevision" and similar rules will be found in the laws of various other Arab countries. Whilst this provision of Qatari law is not frequently relied upon in practice, the relevant Issuer may seek to apply this principle in circumstances where the amount due under any Note amounts to such a heavy burden.

Furthermore, the enforcement of the express terms of an agreement may be affected by Article (402) of the Civil Law which provides that if a debtor establishes that performance of an obligation has become impossible due to a reason that is beyond the debtor's control and to which the debtor did not contribute, the obligation will be extinguished.

The Qatari Courts may not award judgment in a currency other than Qatari riyals

There is no certainty that a judgment in a foreign currency would be awarded by the Qatari courts in relation to a claim under the Notes or whether any judgment obtained in another jurisdiction in a foreign currency would be enforced by the Qatari courts in relation to that currency. In the event that the Qatari courts were to make an award in Qatari riyals, the courts would not necessarily calculate the award on the basis of any conversion provisions contractually agreed between the parties. The basis of the calculation of any such award would be at the discretion of the court. Furthermore, currency indemnity provisions contained in the Notes or any other applicable contractual arrangement may not be enforced by the Qatari courts.

Enforcement of arbitral awards and foreign judgments in Qatar

Under the Conditions and the Guarantee, the parties have agreed that any dispute arising out of or in connection with the Notes or the Guarantee may be referred to and finally resolved by arbitration in accordance with the rules of the London Court of International Arbitration (the "LCIA"), with a Noteholder, Receiptholder or Couponholder having the right to require that the courts of England have exclusive jurisdiction to settle the dispute. In the event that proceedings are brought against the Bank in Qatar, the Qatari courts would, in accordance with their normal practice, enforce the contractual terms of the Guarantee and the Notes (including the contractual choice of a governing law other than Qatari law to govern the Guarantee and the Notes, provided that, this would not apply to any provision of that law which Qatari courts held to be contrary to any mandatory provision of Qatari law or to public order or morality in Qatar). Qatari courts have consistently enforced commercial interest obligations computed in accordance with the terms of the relevant agreement. It is, however, uncertain whether the Qatari courts would enforce the payment of interest on interest, or the payment of accrued interest which exceeds the amount of the principal sum.

There is currently no treaty or convention for the reciprocal enforcement of judgments between Qatar on the one hand and England on the other. A judgment obtained from a court in England will be enforceable in Qatar subject to the provisions of Articles 379 and 380 of the Civil and Commercial Procedure Law (Law No. 13 of 1990), which provides, (i) in the case of Article 379, that judgments and orders pronounced in a foreign country may be ordered to be executed in Qatar upon the conditions determined in that country for the execution of Qatari judgments and orders, and (ii) in the case of Article 380, that an order for execution of a foreign judgment or order will not be made unless and until the following have been ascertained, that: (a) the judgment or order was delivered by a competent court of the foreign jurisdiction in question; (b) the parties to the action were properly served with notice of proceedings and properly represented; (c) the judgment or order is one that is capable of being executed by the successful party to the proceedings in conformity with the laws of the foreign jurisdiction in question; and (d) the foreign judgment or order does not conflict with a previous judgment or order of a competent Qatari court and is not contrary to public policy or morality in Qatar.

A Qatari court would be entitled to call for textual evidence on the laws of England concerning the conditions that would be applicable for the execution of the judgment of a Qatari court in England and the Qatari court would then be entitled to execute the judgment of the English court upon those conditions. Accordingly, although a judgment obtained from a court in England would be admissible in evidence in any proceedings brought in Qatar to enforce such judgment it would still be necessary to initiate proceedings in Qatar.

In accordance with their normal practice, Qatari courts would uphold the choice of arbitration as a dispute resolution method. However, this would be subject to the same qualifications as are stated above with regard to choice of law and a Qatari court may not accept that its own jurisdiction had been excluded by any provision providing that the submission to any particular jurisdiction was exclusive.

Qatar is a party to the New York Convention on the Recognition and Enforcement of Foreign Arbitral Awards (the "New York Convention"), with effect from 30 March 2003. The United Kingdom is also a party to the New York Convention and therefore an arbitral award made in England should be enforceable in Qatar in accordance with the terms of the New York Convention. Furthermore, in February 2017, Qatar enacted Law No. (2) of 2017 promulgating the Civil and Commercial Arbitration Law (the "Arbitration Law") which came into force in April 2017. The Arbitration Law addresses the enforcement of arbitration awards. Article 34 of the Arbitration Law states that an arbitration award is enforceable in Qatar regardless of the state in which such award was issued. The Arbitration Law sets out limited grounds for refusing to enforce an arbitration award issued in any state. The grounds are similar to those set out in the New York Convention.

Enforcement of arbitral awards and foreign judgments in the Cayman Islands

Under the Conditions and the Guarantee, the parties have agreed that any dispute arising out of or in connection with the Notes or the Guarantee may be referred to and finally resolved by arbitration in accordance with the rules of the LCIA, with a Noteholder, Receiptholder or Couponholder having the right to require that the courts of England have exclusive jurisdiction to settle the dispute. The Cayman Islands are a party to the New York Convention and the courts of the Cayman Islands will generally recognise and enforce arbitral awards made pursuant to an agreement to arbitrate in a jurisdiction which is party to the New York Convention.

Any judgment rendered by the courts of England would not be directly enforceable in the Cayman Islands. In order to enforce any such judgment in the Cayman Islands, proceedings must be initiated by way of civil law action on the judgment debt before a court of competent jurisdiction in the Cayman Islands. In this type of action, a Cayman Islands court generally will not (subject to the matters identified below) reinvestigate the merits of the original matter decided by an English court.

A Cayman Islands court will generally give judgment only if the following conditions are satisfied:

- (a) the relevant English court had jurisdiction (under the rules of private international law in the Cayman Islands) to give the judgment; and
- (b) the judgment is final and conclusive on the merits and is for a liquidated sum of money (not being a sum payable in respect of taxes or other charges of a like nature or in respect of a fine or other penalty or otherwise based on a penal, revenue or other public law of the United States or, in certain circumstances, for in-personam non-money relief).

A court in the Cayman Islands will also refuse to enforce such a judgment if it is established that:

- (i) the enforcement of such judgment would contravene public policy or statute in the Cayman Islands;
- (ii) the enforcement of the judgment is prohibited by statute;
- (iii) the proceedings in the Cayman Islands were not commenced with the relevant limitation period;

- (iv) before the date on which the English court gave judgment, the issues in question had been the subject of a final judgment of a court in the Cayman Islands or of a court of another jurisdiction whose judgment is enforceable in the Cayman Islands;
- (v) the judgment has been obtained by fraud or in proceedings in which the principles of natural justice were breached; or
- (vi) the bringing of proceedings in the relevant English court was contrary to an agreement under which the dispute in question was to be settled otherwise than by proceedings in that court (to whose jurisdiction the judgment debtor did not submit).

If a court in the Cayman Islands gives judgment for the sum payable under an English judgment, the Cayman Islands judgment would be enforceable by the methods generally available for this purpose. In addition it may not be possible to obtain a judgment in the Cayman Islands or to enforce that judgment if the judgment debtor is subject to any insolvency or similar proceedings, or if the judgment debtor has any set-off or counterclaim against the judgment creditor.

Subject to the foregoing, investors may be able to enforce judgments in the Cayman Islands in civil and commercial matters obtained from an English court in the manner described above using the methods available for enforcement of a judgment of a court in the Cayman Islands.

The submission by Doha Finance to arbitration pursuant to the terms of the Guaranteed Notes is not contrary to Cayman Islands law and would be recognised by the courts of the Cayman Islands as a legal, valid and binding submission, if such submission is legal, valid and binding under the laws of England.

Arbitration may involve the payment of the costs of the arbitration and fees by each of the parties to the arbitral proceedings.

Claims of secured creditors will have priority, with respect to their security, over the claims of unsecured creditors, such as the Noteholders

Claims of the relevant Issuer's secured creditors and (in the case of Guaranteed Notes) the Guarantor's secured creditors will have priority, with respect to the assets securing their debt, over the claims of Noteholders. In the event that any of the relevant Issuer's secured debt or (in the case of Guaranteed Notes) the Guarantor's secured debt becomes due or the relevant creditor thereunder institutes proceedings over the assets that secure the relevant debt, the relevant Issuer's assets or, as the case may be, the Guarantor's assets remaining after repayment of that secured debt might not be sufficient to repay all amounts owing in respect of the Notes.

The Conditions contain provisions which may permit their modification without the consent of all Noteholders and confer some discretions on the Principal Paying Agent which may be exercised without the consent of the Noteholders

The Conditions contain provisions for calling meetings of Noteholders to consider matters affecting their interests generally. These provisions permit defined majorities to bind all Noteholders including Noteholders who did not attend and vote at the relevant meeting and Noteholders who voted in a manner contrary to the majority.

The Conditions also provide that the Principal Paying Agent may, without the consent of Noteholders, agree to (a) any modification of the provisions of the Notes, the Receipts, the Coupons, the Guarantee, the Deed of Covenant or the Agency Agreement which is of a formal, minor or technical nature or is made to correct a manifest or proven error or to comply with mandatory provisions of law; (b) any other modification which, in the opinion of the Issuer (acting on the advice of an independent financial institution) is not prejudicial to the interests of Noteholders, except certain matters in respect of which an increased quorum is required by the Conditions; and (c) any Benchmark Amendments (as defined in the Conditions) required by the Independent Adviser pursuant to Condition 5.5.

Substitution

The Conditions provide that, in the case of Notes issued by Doha Finance, Doha Finance may, without the consent of the Noteholders, be replaced and substituted by the Guarantor or any other Subsidiary of the Guarantor as principal debtor under the relevant Notes subject to satisfying the requirements set out in Condition 16.

The value of the Notes could be adversely affected by a change in English law or administrative practice

The Conditions of the Notes are based on English law in effect as at the date of this Base Prospectus. No assurance can be given as to the impact of any possible judicial decision or change to English law or administrative practice after the date of this Base Prospectus and any such change could materially adversely impact the value of any Notes affected by it.

The claims of Noteholders may be subordinated to the claims of the Bank's depositors

Typically, the claims of holders of senior ranking unsecured debt instruments, such as the Notes, issued by, or guaranteed by, a financial institution holding bank deposits would not be subordinated to the claims of depositors. However, as a result of Law No. 13 of 2012 relating to the Qatar Central Bank (the "QCB Law"), should the QCB take over interim administration over the Bank pursuant to Articles 176 to 189 of the QCB Law, the claims of Noteholders would be subordinated to the claims of the Bank's depositors. If this were to occur, there may not be sufficient assets in the resulting estate to pay the claims of Noteholders after the claims of depositors have been paid.

3.3 Taxation risks relating to the Notes

The risks described under this heading 3.3 (Taxation risks relating to the Notes) have been categorised as taxation risks relating to the Notes to be issued under the Programme.

Change of tax law

Statements in this Base Prospectus concerning the taxation of investors are of a general nature and are based upon current law and practice in the jurisdictions stated. Such law and practice is, in principle, subject to change, possibly with retrospective effect, and this could adversely affect investors.

In addition, any change in legislation or in practice in a relevant jurisdiction could adversely impact (i) the ability of the relevant Issuer and/or the Guarantor (in the case of Guaranteed Notes) to service the Notes and (ii) the market value of the Notes.

Doha Finance may not be able to rely on an exemption from withholding tax if the QIA divests itself of its shares in the Bank

Law No. (24) of 2018 on Income Tax (the "Income Tax Law") and the Executive Regulations to the Income Tax Law issued in December 2019 (the "Executive Regulations") provide that any payment of interest made in relation to bonds issued by a corporate entity resident in Qatar will be subject to withholding tax, which will include Doha Finance as an entity managed from, and therefore considered tax resident in, Qatar. However, the Executive Regulations provide for certain exemptions to such application of withholding tax, in respect of which written clarification (the "Clarification") has been obtained from the Director of Public Revenues and Taxes Department at the Ministry of Finance in Qatar (the "Taxes Department").

Paragraph 2 of Article 21.4 of the Executive Regulations provides that: "interest on bonds and securities issued by the State and public authorities, establishments and corporations owned wholly or partly by the State" shall not be subject to withholding tax. Through the Clarification, the Taxes Department has clarified that, for so long as the Bank is wholly or partly owned by Qatar, the exemption contained in Paragraph 2 of Article 21.4 of the Executive Regulations applies such that no withholding tax is applicable in connection with any payment of interest under any direct issuance of Notes that it makes, or in connection with any payment of interest by it under any guarantee of Notes issued by Doha Finance. Similarly, no withholding tax would be applicable in connection with any payment of interest under any direct issuance of Notes by Doha Finance as, through the Clarification, the Taxes Department has also clarified that by virtue of being a wholly owned subsidiary of the Bank, it is also treated by the Taxes Department as being partly owned by Qatar.

Paragraph 3 of Article 21.4 of the Executive Regulations provides that "interest on transactions, facilities and loans with banks and financial institutions" shall not be subject to withholding tax.

If the Bank were to cease to be wholly or partly owned by Qatar, no withholding tax would be applicable in connection with any payment of interest under the Notes by the Bank, whether acting as direct issuer or guarantor, or Doha Finance provided that the payment of interest is being made to a Noteholder who is a bank or financial institution. If none of these exemptions apply, the obligation to pay interest under the Notes would be subject to withholding tax in Qatar, and investors would therefore need to rely on Condition 8 or the applicable guarantee to obtain full payment of interest. This may represent a substantial increase in the cost of the Bank's funding and impact on its financial condition.

The Clarification does not have the force of law in Qatar and it is therefore possible that the official interpretation of the Executive Regulations will in the future differ to that provided in the Clarification. To the extent that a different official interpretation or application of the Executive Regulations is established in the future, or if any law or regulation relating to withholding tax is changed, then, in relation to any then outstanding Notes of either Issuer, such Issuer may be entitled to redeem the Notes pursuant to Condition 7.2.

Cayman Islands taxation and exchange of information

As a Cayman Islands exempted company and under current Cayman Islands law, Doha Finance is not subject to tax on profits, income or dividends, nor is there any capital gains tax, estate duty or death duty applicable to Doha Finance in the Cayman Islands. Profits can be accumulated, and it is not obligatory for a company to pay dividends. Each Cayman Islands exempted company is required to pay an annual government fee, which is determined on a sliding scale by reference to the amount of the company's authorised share capital.

The duration of the assurance granted to Doha Finance under the Tax Concessions Law (2011 Revision), as more particularly detailed under "Taxation – Cayman Islands", is limited and expires on 14 February 2042. Tax policy and legislation in the Cayman Islands could change in the future (as is the case in other jurisdictions) and as such no guarantee can be given as to whether the current tax treatment afforded to Doha Finance will continue after 14 February 2042.

The Cayman Islands has signed an intergovernmental agreement to improve international tax compliance and the exchange of information with the United States (the "US IGA"). The Cayman Islands has also signed, along with a substantial number of other countries, a multilateral competent authority agreement to implement the OECD Standard for Automatic Exchange of Financial Account Information – Common Reporting Standard ("CRS" and together with the US IGA, "AEOI").

Cayman Islands regulations have been issued to give effect to the US IGA and CRS (collectively, the "AEOI Regulations"). Pursuant to the AEOI Regulations, the Cayman Islands Tax Information Authority (the "TIA") has published guidance notes on the application of the US IGA and CRS.

All Cayman Islands "Financial Institutions" (including Doha Finance) are required to comply with the registration, due diligence and reporting requirements of the AEOI Regulations, unless Doha Finance is able to rely on an exemption that permits it to be treated as a "Non-Reporting Financial Institution" (as defined in the relevant AEOI Regulations) with respect to one or more of the AEOI regimes, in which case only the registration requirement would apply under CRS. Doha Finance does not propose to rely on any Non-Reporting Financial Institution exemption and therefore intends to comply with all of the requirements of the AEOI Regulations as a "Reporting Financial Institution".

The AEOI Regulations require Doha Finance to, amongst other things, (i) register with the IRS to obtain a Global Intermediary Identification Number (in the context of the US IGA only), (ii) register with the TIA, and thereby notify the TIA of its status as a "Reporting Financial Institution", (iii) adopt and implement written policies and procedures setting out how it will address its obligations under CRS, (iv) conduct due diligence on its accounts to identify whether any such accounts are considered "Reportable Accounts", and (v) report information on such Reportable Accounts to the TIA. The TIA will transmit such information to the applicable overseas fiscal authorities.

Under the terms of the US IGA, withholding will not be imposed on payments made to Doha Finance unless the IRS has specifically listed Doha Finance as a non-participating financial institution, or on payments made by Doha Finance to the Noteholders unless Doha Finance has otherwise assumed responsibility for withholding under United States tax law.

3.4 Market risks relating to the Notes

The risks described under this heading 3.4 (Market risks relating to the Notes) have been categorised as market risks relating to the Notes to be issued under the Programme.

The value of Fixed Rate Notes may be adversely affected by movements in market interest rates

An investment in Fixed Rate Notes involves the risk that if market interest rates subsequently increase above the rate paid on the Fixed Rate Notes, this will adversely affect the value of the Fixed Rate Notes.

An active secondary market in respect of the Notes may never be established or may be illiquid and this would adversely affect the value at which a Noteholder could sell its Notes.

Notes may have no established trading market when issued, and one may never develop. If a market for the Notes does develop, it may not be very liquid. Therefore, Noteholders may not be able to sell their Notes easily or at prices that will provide them with a yield comparable to similar investments that have a developed secondary market. This is particularly the case for Notes that are especially sensitive to interest rates, currency or market risks, are designed for specific investment objectives or strategies or have been structured to meet the investment requirements of limited categories of investors. These types of Notes generally would have a more limited secondary market and more price volatility than conventional debt securities.

If a Noteholder holds Notes which are not denominated in the Noteholder's home currency, he will be exposed to movements in exchange rates adversely affecting the value of its holding. In addition, the imposition of exchange controls in relation to any Notes could result in a Noteholder not receiving payments on those Notes

The relevant Issuer will pay principal and interest on the Notes and (in the case of Guaranteed Notes) the Guarantor will make any payments under the Guarantee in the Specified Currency. This presents certain risks relating to currency conversions if a Noteholder's financial activities are denominated principally in a currency or currency unit (the "Noteholder's Currency") other than the Specified Currency. These include the risk that exchange rates may significantly change (including changes due to devaluation of the Specified Currency or revaluation of the Noteholder's Currency) and the risk that authorities with jurisdiction over the Noteholder's Currency may impose or modify exchange controls. An appreciation in the value of the Noteholder's Currency relative to the Specified Currency would decrease (1) the Noteholder's Currency-equivalent yield on the Notes, (2) the Noteholder's Currency-equivalent value of the principal payable on the Notes and (3) the Noteholder's Currency-equivalent market value of the Notes.

Government and monetary authorities may impose (as some have done in the past) exchange controls that could adversely affect an applicable exchange rate or the ability of the Issuer to make payments in respect of the Notes. As a result, Noteholders may receive less interest or principal than expected, or no interest or principal.

Price volatility

The market price of the Notes may be volatile, which could cause the value of a purchaser's investment to decline. Securities markets worldwide experience significant price and volume fluctuations. This market volatility, and corresponding fluctuations in the prices of the Notes, may not be correlated in a predictable way to the performance or operating results of the Bank. Events and factors that may cause the prices of the Notes to fluctuate or decrease significantly from the issue price include variations in interest rates; general business, political, social and economic developments, particularly in the Middle East; and variations in actual or anticipated operating results of the Bank.

Interest rate risks

Investment in Fixed Rate Notes involves the risk that subsequent changes in market interest rates may adversely affect the value of the Fixed Rate Notes. A drop in the level of interest rates will have a positive impact on the price of such Notes, as Fixed Rate Notes pay a fixed annual rate of interest. Conversely, an increase in the interest rate level will have an adverse impact on the price of such Notes. For investors holding Fixed Rate Notes until maturity, any changes in the interest rate level during the term will not affect the yield of such Notes, as the Notes will be redeemed at par.

Credit ratings assigned to the Issuer, the Bank or any Notes may not reflect all the risks associated with an investment in those Notes

One or more independent credit rating agencies may assign credit ratings to the Issuer, the Bank or the Notes. The ratings may not reflect the potential impact of all risks related to structure, market, additional factors discussed above, and other factors that may affect the value of the Notes, including risks relating to the COVID-19 pandemic. Where a Series of Notes is rated, such rating will not necessarily be the same as the ratings assigned to the Programme. A credit rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be revised, suspended or withdrawn by the rating agency at any time.

In general, European regulated investors are restricted under the CRA Regulation from using credit ratings for regulatory purposes in the EEA, unless such ratings are issued by a credit rating agency established in the EEA and registered under the CRA Regulation (and such registration has not been withdrawn or suspended, subject to transitional provisions that apply in certain circumstances whilst the registration application is pending). Such general restriction will also apply in the case of credit ratings issued by third country non-EEA credit rating agencies, unless the relevant credit ratings are endorsed by an EEA-registered credit rating agency or the relevant third country rating agency is certified in accordance with the CRA Regulation (and such endorsement action or certification, as the case may be, has not been withdrawn or suspended). The list of registered and certified rating agencies published by ESMA on its website in accordance with the CRA Regulation is not conclusive evidence of the status of the relevant rating agency included in such list, as there may be delays between certain supervisory measures being taken against a relevant rating agency and the publication of the updated ESMA list. Certain information with respect to the credit rating agencies and ratings is set out on the cover of this Base Prospectus and if a Tranche of Notes is rated such rating will be disclosed in the applicable Final Terms.

Investors regulated in the UK are subject to similar restrictions under the UK CRA Regulation. As such, UK regulated investors are required to use for UK regulatory purposes ratings issued by a credit rating agency established in the UK and registered under the UK CRA Regulation. In the case of ratings issued by third country non-UK credit rating agencies, third country credit ratings can either be: (a) endorsed by a UK-registered credit rating agency; or (b) issued by a third country credit rating agency that is certified in accordance with the UK CRA Regulation, in each case subject to (i) the relevant UK registration, certification or endorsement, as the case may be, not having been withdrawn or suspended, and (ii) transitional provisions that apply in certain circumstances. In the case of third country ratings, for a certain limited period of time, 12 transitional relief accommodates continued use for regulatory purposes in the UK, of existing pre-2021 ratings, provided the relevant conditions are satisfied.

If the status of the relevant rating agency rating the Notes changes for the purposes of the CRA Regulation or the UK CRA Regulation, relevant regulated investors may no longer be able to use the rating for regulatory purposes in the EEA or the UK (as applicable) and the Notes may have a different regulatory treatment. This may result in such regulated investors selling the Notes which may impact the value of the Notes and their liquidity in any secondary market.

Investments in emerging markets are subject to greater risks than those in more developed markets

Investors in emerging markets should be aware that these markets are subject to greater risks than more developed markets. These higher risks include, but are not limited to, higher volatility, limited liquidity and changes in the political environment. Investors should also note that emerging markets such as Qatar and the GCC are subject to rapid change and that the information set forth in this Base Prospectus may become outdated relatively quickly. Moreover, financial turmoil in any emerging market country tends to adversely affect confidence in other emerging market countries and cause investors to move their money to more developed markets. As has happened in the past, financial problems or an increase in the perceived risks associated with investing in emerging market economies could dampen foreign investment in Qatar and the GCC and adversely affect those economies. In addition, during such times, companies that operate in emerging markets can face liquidity constraints as foreign funding sources are withdrawn and this could also adversely affect the Bank's business and result in a decrease in the price of the Notes issued under the Programme.

Specific risks in Qatar and the MENA region that could have a material adverse effect on the Bank's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects include, without limitation, the following:

- regional political instability, including diplomatic and trade relations within the region, government or military regime change, riots or other forms of civil disturbance or violence, including through acts of terrorism;
- military strikes or the outbreak of war or other hostilities involving nations in the region;
- a material curtailment of the industrial and economic infrastructure development that is currently underway across the MENA region;
- government intervention, including expropriation or nationalisation of assets or increased levels of protectionism;
- limited overall market liquidity;
- an increase in inflation and the cost of living;
- cancellation of contractual rights, expropriation of assets and/or inability to repatriate profits and/or dividends;
- changes in labour conditions;
- increased government regulations, or adverse governmental activities, with respect to price, import and export controls, the environment, customs and migration, capital transfers, foreign exchange and currency controls, labour policies and land and water use and foreign ownership;
- arbitrary, inconsistent or unlawful government action;
- changing tax regimes, including the imposition or increase of taxes in tax favourable jurisdictions such as Qatar;
- difficulties in staffing and managing operations;
- difficulties in enforcing collateral;
- currency fluctuations;
- difficulties and delays in obtaining governmental and other approvals for operations or renewing existing ones;
- inability to repatriate profits or dividends and restrictions on the right to convert or repatriate currency or export assets; and
- potential adverse changes in laws and regulatory practices, including legal structures and tax laws.

Accordingly, investors should exercise particular care in evaluating the risks involved and must decide for themselves whether, in light of those risks, their investment is appropriate. Generally, investment in emerging markets is only suitable for sophisticated investors who fully appreciate the significance of the risk involved. There can be no assurance that either the economic performance of, or political stability in, Qatar or other countries in which the Bank may in the future operate can or will be sustained. Investors should note that a worsening of current financial market conditions, instability in certain sectors of the Qatari economy or a major political upheaval in Qatar could lead to decreased investor and consumer confidence, market volatility, economic disruption, and declines in real estate markets and, as a result, could have an adverse effect on the Bank's business and prospects.

Investors who hold less than the minimum Specified Denomination may be unable to sell their Notes and may be adversely affected if definitive Notes are subsequently required to be issued

In relation to any issue of Notes which have denominations consisting of a minimum Specified Denomination plus one or more higher integral multiples of another smaller amount, it is possible that such Notes may be traded in amounts in excess of the minimum Specified Denomination that are not integral multiples of such minimum Specified Denomination. In such a case, a holder who holds an amount which is less than the minimum Specified Denomination in his account with the relevant clearing system, as a result of trading such amounts, would not be able to sell the remainder of such holding without first purchasing a principal amount of Notes at or in excess of the minimum Specified Denomination such that its holding amounts to a Specified Denomination. Further, a holder who, as a result of trading such amounts, holds an amount which is less than the minimum Specified Denomination in his account with the relevant clearing system at the relevant time may not receive a definitive Note in respect of such holding (should definitive Notes be printed or issued) and would need to purchase a principal amount of Notes at or in excess of the minimum Specified Denomination such that its holding amounts to a Specified Denomination. If such Notes in definitive form are issued, holders should be aware that definitive Notes which have a denomination that is not an integral multiple of the minimum Specified Denomination may be illiquid and difficult to trade.

The secondary market for Notes issued under the Programme

Notes may have no established trading market when issued, and one may never develop. If a market does develop, it may not be liquid. Therefore, investors may not be able to sell their Notes easily or at prices that will provide them with a yield comparable to similar investments that have a developed secondary market. This is particularly the case for Notes that are especially sensitive to interest rates, currency or market risks, are designed for specific investment objectives or strategies or have been structured to meet the investment requirements of limited categories of investors. These types of Notes generally would have a more limited secondary market and more price volatility than conventional debt securities. Illiquidity may have a severely adverse effect on the market value of Notes.

Credit ratings may not reflect all risks

One or more independent credit rating agencies may assign credit ratings to a relevant Issuer on an issue of Notes. The ratings may not reflect the potential impact of all risks related to structure, market, additional factors discussed above, and other factors that may affect the value of the Notes. A credit rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be revised, suspended or withdrawn by the rating agency at any time.

FORM OF THE NOTES

Any reference in this section to the “applicable Final Terms” shall be deemed to include a reference to the “applicable Pricing Supplement” where relevant.

The Notes of each Series will be in either bearer form (“Bearer Notes”), with or without interest coupons attached, or registered form (“Registered Notes”), without interest coupons attached. Notes will be issued outside the United States in reliance on Regulation S under the Securities Act (“Regulation S”).

Bearer Notes

Each Tranche of Bearer Notes will be in bearer form and will initially be issued in the form of a Temporary Bearer Global Note or, if so specified in the applicable Final Terms, a Permanent Bearer Global Note and, together with a Temporary Bearer Global Note, each a “Bearer Global Note”) which, in either case, will be delivered on or prior to the original issue date of the Tranche to a common depository (the “Common Depository”) for Euroclear Bank SA/NV (“Euroclear”) and Clearstream Banking S.A. (“Clearstream, Luxembourg”). Whilst any Bearer Note is represented by a Temporary Bearer Global Note, payments of principal, interest (if any) and any other amount payable in respect of the Notes due prior to the Exchange Date (as defined below) will be made against presentation of the Temporary Bearer Global Note only to the extent that certification (in a form to be provided) to the effect that the beneficial owners of interests in the Temporary Bearer Global Note are not U.S. persons or persons who have purchased for resale to any U.S. person, as required by U.S. Treasury regulations, has been received by Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg and Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as applicable, has given a like certification (based on the certifications it has received) to the Principal Paying Agent.

On and after the date (the “Exchange Date”) which is 40 days after a Temporary Bearer Global Note is issued, interests in such Temporary Bearer Global Note will be exchangeable (free of charge) upon a request as described therein either for (a) interests in a Permanent Bearer Global Note of the same Series or (b) definitive Bearer Notes of the same Series with, where applicable, receipts, interest coupons and talons attached (as indicated in the applicable Final Terms and subject, in the case of definitive Bearer Notes, to such notice period as is specified in the applicable Final Terms), in each case against certification of beneficial ownership as described above unless such certification has already been given, provided that purchasers in the United States and certain U.S. persons will not be able to receive definitive Bearer Notes. The holder of a Temporary Bearer Global Note will not be entitled to collect any payment of interest, principal or other amount due on or after the Exchange Date unless, upon due certification, exchange of the Temporary Bearer Global Note for an interest in a Permanent Bearer Global Note or for definitive Bearer Notes is improperly withheld or refused.

Payments of principal, interest (if any) or any other amounts on a Permanent Bearer Global Note will be made through Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg against presentation or surrender (as the case may be) of the Permanent Bearer Global Note without any requirement for certification.

The applicable Final Terms will specify that a Permanent Bearer Global Note will be exchangeable (free of charge), in whole but not in part, for definitive Bearer Notes with, where applicable, receipts, interest coupons and talons attached only upon the occurrence of an Exchange Event. For these purposes, “Exchange Event” means that (i) an Event of Default (as defined in Condition 10) has occurred and is continuing or (ii) the relevant Issuer has been notified that both Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg have been closed for business for a continuous period of 14 days (other than by reason of holiday, statutory or otherwise) or have announced an intention permanently to cease business or have in fact done so and no successor clearing system is available. The relevant Issuer will promptly give notice to Noteholders in accordance with Condition 14 if an Exchange Event occurs. In the event of the occurrence of an Exchange Event, Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg (acting on the instructions of any holder of an interest in such Permanent Bearer Global Note) may give notice to the Principal Paying Agent requesting exchange. Any such exchange shall occur not later than 45 days after the date of receipt of the first relevant notice by the Principal Paying Agent.

In the event that a Permanent Bearer Global Note is exchanged for definitive Bearer Notes, such definitive Bearer Notes shall be issued in Specified Denomination(s) only. A Noteholder who holds a principal amount of less than the minimum Specified Denomination will not receive a definitive Bearer Note in respect of such holding and would need to purchase a principal amount of Notes such that it holds an amount equal to one or more Specified Denominations.

The following legend will appear on all Bearer Notes (other than Temporary Bearer Global Notes), receipts and interest coupons relating to such Notes where TEFRA D is specified in the applicable Final Terms:

“ANY UNITED STATES PERSON WHO HOLDS THIS OBLIGATION WILL BE SUBJECT TO LIMITATIONS UNDER THE UNITED STATES INCOME TAX LAWS, INCLUDING THE LIMITATIONS PROVIDED IN SECTIONS 165(j) AND 1287(a) OF THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE.”

The sections referred to provide that United States holders, with certain exceptions, will not be entitled to deduct any loss on Bearer Notes, receipts or interest coupons and will not be entitled to capital gains treatment in respect of any gain on any sale, disposition, redemption or payment of principal in respect of Bearer Notes, receipts or interest coupons.

Notes which are represented by a Bearer Global Note will only be transferable in accordance with the rules and procedures for the time being of Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be.

Registered Notes

Each Tranche of Registered Notes will initially be represented by a global note in registered form (a “Registered Global Note” and, together with Bearer Global Notes, the “Global Notes” and each a “Global Note”). Registered Global Notes will be deposited with a common depository for Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg, and registered in the name of a nominee of the Common Depository of, Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg, as specified in the Final Terms. Persons holding beneficial interests in Registered Global Notes will be entitled or required, as the case may be, under the circumstances described below, to receive physical delivery of definitive Notes in fully registered form.

Payments of principal, interest and any other amount in respect of the Registered Global Notes will, in the absence of provision to the contrary, be made to the person shown on the Register (as defined in Condition 6.5) as the registered holder of the Registered Global Notes. None of the Issuers, the Guarantor (in the case of Guaranteed Notes), any Paying Agent and the Registrar will have any responsibility or liability for any aspect of the records relating to or payments or deliveries made on account of beneficial ownership interests in the Registered Global Notes or for maintaining, supervising or reviewing any records relating to such beneficial ownership interests.

Payments of principal, interest or any other amount in respect of the Registered Notes in definitive form will, in the absence of provision to the contrary, be made to the persons shown on the Register on the relevant Record Date (as defined in Condition 6.5) immediately preceding the due date for payment in the manner provided in that Condition.

Interests in a Registered Global Note will be exchangeable (free of charge), in whole but not in part, for definitive Registered Notes without receipts, interest coupons or talons attached only upon the occurrence of an Exchange Event. For these purposes, Exchange Event means that (i) an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing or (ii) the Issuer has been notified that both Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg have been closed for business for a continuous period of 14 days (other than by reason of holiday, statutory or otherwise) or have announced an intention permanently to cease business or have in fact done so and, in any such case, no successor clearing system is available. The relevant Issuer will promptly give notice to Noteholders in accordance with Condition 14 if an Exchange Event occurs. In the event of the occurrence of an Exchange Event, Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg or any person acting on their behalf (acting on the instructions of any holder of an interest in such Registered Global Note) may give notice to the Registrar requesting exchange and, in the event of the occurrence of an Exchange Event as described in (iii) above, the Issuer may also give notice to the Registrar requesting exchange. Any such exchange shall occur not later than 10 days after the date of receipt of the first relevant notice by the Registrar.

No beneficial owner of an interest in a Registered Global Note will be able to transfer such interest, except in accordance with the applicable procedures of Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg, in each case to the extent applicable.

General

Pursuant to the Agency Agreement (as defined under “Terms and Conditions of the Notes”), the Principal Paying Agent shall arrange that, where a further Tranche of Notes is issued which is intended to form a single Series with an existing Tranche of Notes at a point after the Issue Date of the further Tranche, the Notes of such further Tranche shall be assigned a common code and ISIN which are different from the common code and ISIN assigned to Notes of any other Tranche of the same Series until such time as the Tranches are consolidated and form a single Series, which shall not be prior to the expiry of the distribution compliance period (as defined in Regulation S under the Securities Act) applicable to the Notes of such Tranche.

Any reference herein to Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg shall, whenever the context so permits, be deemed to include a reference to any additional or alternative clearing system specified in the applicable Final Terms.

A Note may be accelerated by the holder thereof in certain circumstances described in Condition 10. In such circumstances, where any Note is still represented by a Global Note and the Global Note (or any part thereof) has become due and repayable in accordance with the Conditions of such Notes and payment in full of the amount due has not been made in accordance with the provisions of the Global Note then from 8.00 p.m. (London time) on such day, holders of interests in such Global Note credited to their accounts with Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg, as the case may be, will become entitled to proceed directly against the relevant Issuer on the basis of statements of account provided by Euroclear and/ or Clearstream, Luxembourg on and subject to the terms of a deed of covenant (the “Deed of Covenant”) dated 16 December 2022 and executed by each of the Issuers.

The relevant Issuer may agree with any Dealer that Notes may be issued in a form not contemplated by the Conditions, in which event, other than where such Notes are Exempt Notes, a new Prospectus will be made available which will describe the effect of the agreement reached in relation to such Notes.

The following are the Terms and Conditions of the Notes which will be incorporated by reference into each Global Note (as defined below) and each definitive Note, in the latter case only if permitted by the relevant stock exchange or other relevant authority (if any) and agreed by the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (in the case of Guaranteed Notes) and the relevant Dealer at the time of issue but, if not so permitted and agreed, such definitive Note will have endorsed thereon or attached thereto such Terms and Conditions. The applicable Pricing Supplement in relation to any Tranche of Exempt Notes may specify other terms and conditions which shall, to the extent so specified or to the extent inconsistent with the following Terms and Conditions, replace or modify the following Terms and Conditions for the purpose of such Notes. The applicable Final Terms (or Pricing Supplement, as the case may be) (or the relevant provisions thereof) will be endorsed upon, or attached to, each Global Note and definitive Note. Reference should be made to the “applicable Final Terms” for a description of the content of Final Terms which will specify which of such terms are to apply in relation to the relevant Notes.

All capitalised terms that are not defined in these Conditions will have the meanings given to them in Part A of the relevant Final Terms (or Pricing Supplement, as the case may be).

The Note is one of a Series (as defined below) of Notes issued by the Issuer named in the applicable Final Terms (as defined below) (the “Issuer”) pursuant to the Agency Agreement (as defined below).

References herein to the Notes shall be references to the Notes of this Series and shall mean (as specified in the applicable Final Terms or Pricing Supplement, as the case may be):

References to the “applicable Final Terms” are, unless otherwise stated, to Part A of the Final Terms (or the relevant provisions thereof) attached to, or endorsed on, the Note. References to the “applicable Pricing Supplement” are, unless otherwise stated, to Part A of the Pricing Supplement (or the relevant provisions thereof) attached to, or endorsed on, the Exempt Note.

Any reference in the Conditions to the “applicable Final Terms” shall be deemed to include a reference to the “applicable Pricing Supplement” where relevant. The expression the “Prospectus Regulation” means Regulation (EU) 2017/1129.

Interest bearing definitive Bearer Notes have interest coupons (“Coupons”) and, if indicated in the case of Bearer Notes, which, when issued in definitive form, have more than 27 interest payments remaining, talons for further Coupons (“Talons”) attached on issue. Exempt Notes in definitive Bearer form which are repayable in instalments have receipts (Receipts) for the payment of the instalments of principal (other than the final instalment) attached on issue. Registered Notes and Global Notes do not have Receipts, Coupons or Talons attached on issue. Notes issued by Doha Finance (“Guaranteed Notes”) will be unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed. If the Note is issued by the Bank, reference to these Conditions to the Guarantor and Guarantee, and related expressions, are not applicable. The payment of all amounts in respect of the Note have been guaranteed by the Guarantor pursuant to the amended and restated Deed of Guarantee dated 16 December 2022 executed by the Guarantor (such guarantee, as modified and/or supplemented and/or restated from time to time, the “Guarantee”). The original of the Guarantee is held by the Principal Paying Agent on behalf of the Noteholders, the Receiptholders and the Couponholders at its specified office.

Any reference to “Noteholders” or “holders” in relation to any Notes shall mean (in the case of Bearer Notes) the holders of the Notes and (in the case of Registered Notes) the person(s) in whose name the Notes are registered in the Register and shall, in relation to any Notes represented by a Global Note, be construed as provided below. Any reference herein to “Receiptholders” shall mean the holders of the Receipts and any reference herein to “Couponholders” shall mean the holders of the Coupons and shall, unless the context otherwise requires, include the holders of the Talons.

As used herein, “Tranche” means Notes which are identical in all respects (including as to listing and admission to trading) and “Series” means a Tranche of Notes together with any further Tranche or Tranches of Notes which are (a) expressed to be consolidated and form a single series and (b) have the same terms and conditions or terms and conditions which are the same in all respects save for the amount and date of the first payment of interest thereon and the date from which interest starts to accrue.

The Noteholders, the Receiptholders and the Couponholders are entitled to the benefit of the Deed of Covenant (such Deed of Covenant as modified and/or supplemented and/or restated from time to time, the “Deed of Covenant”) dated 16 December 2022 and made by, inter alios, the Issuer. The original of the Deed of Covenant is held by the common depository for Euroclear (as defined below) and Clearstream, Luxembourg (as defined below).

Copies of the Agency Agreement, the Guarantee and the Deed of Covenant are available for inspection during normal business hours at the specified office of the Principal Paying Agent, the Registrar and each of the Paying Agents and Transfer Agents (such Agents and the Registrar being together referred to as the “Agents” and each an “Agent”). Copies of the applicable Final Terms are available for viewing at the registered office of the Issuer and of the Principal Paying Agent and copies may be obtained from those offices save that, if the Note is neither admitted to trading on a regulated market in the EEA or the UK nor offered in the EEA or the UK in circumstances where a prospectus is required to be published under the Prospectus Regulation, the applicable Final Terms will only be obtainable by a Noteholder holding one or more Notes and such Noteholder must produce evidence satisfactory to the Issuer and the relevant Paying Agent as to its holding of such Notes and identity. If the Notes are to be admitted to trading on the regulated market of the London Stock Exchange the applicable Final Terms will be published on the website of the London Stock Exchange (www.londonstockexchange.com). The statements in the Conditions include summaries of, and are subject to, the detailed provisions of the Agency Agreement.

3.2 Status of the Guarantee in respect of the Senior Notes

The obligations of the Guarantor under the Guarantee in respect of the Senior Notes are direct, unconditional, unsubordinated and (subject to the provisions of Condition 4) unsecured obligations of the Guarantor and (save for certain obligations required to be preferred by law) rank equally with all other unsecured obligations (other than subordinated obligations, if any) of the Guarantor, from time to time outstanding.

3.3 Status of the Subordinated Notes

If the Notes are specified as Subordinated Notes in the applicable Final Terms, the Notes and any relative Receipts and Coupons are direct, conditional (as described below) and unsecured obligations of the Issuer and rank pari passu among themselves.

The payment obligations of the Issuer in respect of the Subordinated Notes (whether on account of principal, interest or otherwise) will be subordinated to all unsubordinated payment obligations of the Issuer in the manner described below but will rank pari passu with all other subordinated payment obligations of the Issuer which do not rank or are not expressed by their terms to rank junior to the payment obligations under the Subordinated Notes and in priority to all claims of shareholders of the Issuer. The rights of the holders of the Subordinated Notes against the Issuer are subordinated in right of payment to the claims of all Senior Creditors and accordingly payments in respect of the Subordinated Notes (whether on account of principal, interest or otherwise) by the Issuer are conditional upon the Issuer being solvent at the time of such payment and no payment shall be payable by the Issuer in respect of the Subordinated Notes except to the extent that the Issuer could make such payment and any other payment required to be made to a creditor in respect of indebtedness which ranks or is expressed to rank pari passu with the Subordinated Notes and still be solvent immediately thereafter. For this purpose, the Issuer shall be solvent if (i) it is able to pay its debts as they fall due and (ii) its assets exceed its liabilities, and “Senior Creditors” shall mean, for the purposes of this Condition 3.3, creditors of the Issuer (including depositors) other than creditors in respect of indebtedness where, by the terms of such indebtedness, the claims of the holders of such indebtedness rank or are expressed to rank pari passu with, or junior to, the claims of the Noteholders.

Each holder of a Subordinated Note unconditionally and irrevocably waives any right of set-off, counterclaim, abatement or other similar remedy which it might otherwise have, under the laws of any jurisdiction, in respect of such Note. No collateral is or will be given for the payment obligations under the Subordinated Notes and any collateral that may have been or may in the future be given in connection with other indebtedness of the Issuer shall not secure the payment obligations under the Subordinated Notes.

3.4 Status of the Guarantee in respect of the Subordinated Notes

The Guarantee in respect of the Subordinated Notes is a direct, conditional (as described below) and unsecured obligation of the Guarantor.

The payment obligations of the Guarantor under the Guarantee in respect of the Subordinated Notes will be subordinated to all unsubordinated payment obligations of the Guarantor in the manner described below but will rank pari passu with all other subordinated payment obligations of the Guarantor which do not rank or are not expressed by their terms to rank junior to the payment obligations of the Guarantor under the Guarantee in respect of the Subordinated Notes and in priority to all claims of shareholders of the Guarantor. The rights of the holders of the Subordinated Notes against the Guarantor under the Guarantee in respect of the Subordinated Notes are subordinated in right of payment to the claims of all Senior Creditors and accordingly payments in respect of the Guarantee in respect of the Subordinated Notes by the Guarantor are conditional upon the Guarantor being solvent at the time of such payment and no payment shall be payable by the Guarantor under the Guarantee in respect of the Subordinated Notes except to the extent that the Guarantor could make such payment and any other payment required to be made to a creditor in respect of indebtedness which ranks or is expressed to rank pari passu with the payment obligations of the Guarantor under the Guarantee in respect of the Subordinated Notes and still be solvent immediately thereafter. For this purpose, the Guarantor shall be solvent if (i) it is able to pay its debts as they fall due and (ii) its assets exceed its liabilities, and “Senior Creditors” shall mean, for the purposes of this Condition 3.4, creditors of the Guarantor (including depositors) other than creditors in respect of indebtedness where, by the terms of such indebtedness, the claims of the holders of such indebtedness rank or are expressed to rank pari passu with, or junior to, the claims of the holders of the Subordinated Notes under the Guarantee.

Each holder of a Subordinated Note unconditionally and irrevocably waives any right of set-off, counterclaim, abatement or other similar remedy which it might otherwise have, under the laws of any jurisdiction, in respect of the Guarantee in respect of the Subordinated Notes. No collateral is or will be given for the payment obligations under the Guarantee in respect of the Subordinated Notes and any collateral that may have been or may in the future be given in connection with other indebtedness of the Guarantor shall not secure the payment obligations of the Guarantor under the Guarantee in respect of the Subordinated Notes.

4. Negative Pledge

This Condition 4 only applies to Senior Notes.

5. Interest

5.1 Interest on Fixed Rate Notes

Each Fixed Rate Note bears interest from (and including) the Interest Commencement Date at the rate(s) per annum equal to the Rate(s) of Interest. Interest will be payable in arrear on the Interest Payment Date(s) in each year up to (and including) the Maturity Date.

If the Notes are in definitive form, except as provided in the applicable Final Terms, the amount of interest payable on each Interest Payment Date in respect of the Fixed Interest Period ending on (but excluding) such date will amount to the Fixed Coupon Amount. Payments of interest on any Interest Payment Date will, if so specified in the applicable Final Terms, amount to the Broken Amount so specified.

As used in the Conditions, Fixed Interest Period means the period from (and including) an Interest Payment Date (or the Interest Commencement Date) to (but excluding) the next (or first) Interest Payment Date.

Except in the case of Notes in definitive form where an applicable Fixed Coupon Amount or Broken Amount is specified in the applicable Final Terms, interest shall be calculated in respect of any period by applying the Rate of Interest to:

- (i) in the case of Fixed Rate Notes which are represented by a Global Note, the aggregate outstanding nominal amount of the Fixed Rate Notes represented by such Global Note (or, if they are Partly Paid Notes, the aggregate amount paid up); or
- (ii) in the case of Fixed Rate Notes in definitive form, the Calculation Amount;

and, in each case, multiplying such sum by the applicable Day Count Fraction, and rounding the resultant figure to the nearest sub-unit of the relevant Specified Currency, half of any such sub-unit being rounded upwards or otherwise in accordance with applicable market convention. Where the Specified Denomination of a Fixed Rate Note in definitive form is a multiple of the Calculation Amount, the amount of interest payable in respect of such Fixed Rate Note shall be the product of the amount (determined in the manner provided above) for the Calculation Amount and the amount by which the Calculation Amount is multiplied to reach the Specified Denomination, without any further rounding.

“Day Count Fraction” means, in respect of the calculation of an amount of interest in accordance with this Condition 5.1:

- (a) if “Actual/Actual (ICMA)” is specified in the applicable Final Terms:
 - (i) in the case of Notes where the number of days in the relevant period from (and including) the most recent Interest Payment Date (or, if none, the Interest Commencement Date) to (but excluding) the relevant payment date (the “Accrual Period”) is equal to or shorter than the Determination Period during which the Accrual Period ends, the number of days in such Accrual Period divided by the product of (I) the number of days in such Determination Period and (II) the number of Determination Dates (as specified in the applicable Final Terms) that would occur in one calendar year; or
 - (ii) in the case of Notes where the Accrual Period is longer than the Determination Period during which the Accrual Period ends, the sum of:
 - (1) the number of days in such Accrual Period falling in the Determination Period in which the Accrual Period begins divided by the product of (x) the number of days in such Determination Period and (y) the number of Determination Dates that would occur in one calendar year; and
 - (2) the number of days in such Accrual Period falling in the next Determination Period divided by the product of (x) the number of days in such Determination Period and (y) the number of Determination Dates that would occur in one calendar year;
- (b) if “30/360” is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the number of days in the period from (and including) the most recent Interest Payment Date (or, if none, the Interest Commencement Date) to (but excluding) the relevant payment date (such number of days being calculated on the basis of a year of 360 days with 12 30-day months) divided by 360; and

In the Conditions:

“Determination Period” means each period from (and including) a Determination Date to (but excluding) the next Determination Date (including, where either the Interest Commencement Date or the final Interest Payment Date is not a Determination Date, the period commencing on the first Determination Date prior to, and ending on the first Determination Date falling after, such date);

“Determination Date” means the date(s) specified as such hereon or, if none is so specified, the Interest Payment Date(s); and “sub-unit” means, with respect to any currency other than euro, the lowest amount of such currency that is available as legal tender in the country of such currency and, with respect to euro, one cent.

5.2 Interest on Floating Rate Notes and Index Linked Interest Notes

(a) Interest Payment Dates

Each Floating Rate Note and Index Linked Interest Note bears interest from (and including) the Interest Commencement Date and such interest will be payable in arrear on either:

- (i) the Specified Interest Payment Date(s) in each year specified in the applicable Final Terms; or
- (ii) if no Specified Interest Payment Date(s) is/are specified in the applicable Final Terms, each date (each such date, together with each Specified Interest Payment Date, an “Interest Payment Date”) which falls the number of months or other period specified as the Specified Period in the applicable Final Terms after the preceding Interest Payment

Date or, in the case of the first Interest Payment Date, after the Interest Commencement Date.

Such interest will be payable in respect of each Interest Period (which expression shall, in the Conditions, mean the period from (and including) an Interest Payment Date (or the Interest Commencement Date) to (but excluding) the next (or first) Interest Payment Date).

If a Business Day Convention is specified in the applicable Final Terms and (x) if there is no numerically corresponding day in the calendar month in which an Interest Payment Date should occur or (y) if any Interest Payment Date would otherwise fall on a day which is not a Business Day, then, if the Business Day Convention specified is:

- (i) in any case where Specified Periods are specified in accordance with Condition 5.2(a)(ii) above, the Floating Rate Convention, such Interest Payment Date (a) in the case of (x) above, shall be the last day that is a Business Day in the relevant month and the provisions of (ii) below shall apply mutatis mutandis or (b) in the case of (y) above, shall be postponed to the next day which is a Business Day unless it would thereby fall into the next calendar month, in which event (i) such Interest Payment Date shall be brought forward to the immediately preceding Business Day and (ii) each subsequent Interest Payment Date shall be the last Business Day in the month which falls the Specified Period after the preceding applicable Interest Payment Date occurred; or
- (ii) the Following Business Day Convention, such Interest Payment Date shall be postponed to the next day which is a Business Day; or
- (iii) the Modified Following Business Day Convention, such Interest Payment Date shall be postponed to the next day which is a Business Day unless it would thereby fall into the next calendar month, in which event such Interest Payment Date shall be brought forward to the immediately preceding Business Day; or
- (iv) the Preceding Business Day Convention, such Interest Payment Date shall be brought forward to the immediately preceding Business Day.

In these Conditions, “Business Day” means:

- (i) in the case of a Specified Currency other than euro, and unless the applicable Final Terms specify that the Floating Rate Note Provisions apply and the Reference Rate is SOFR, a day (other than a Saturday or Sunday) on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments in the principal financial centre of the country of the relevant Specified Currency; and/or
- (ii) if the applicable Final Terms specify that the Floating Rate Note Provisions apply and the Reference Rate is SOFR, any weekday that is a U.S. Government Securities Business Day and is not a legal holiday in New York or one or more Business Centres and is not a date on which banking institutions in those cities or Business Centres are authorised or required by law or regulation to be closed; and/or
- (iii) in the case of euro, a day on which the Trans-European Automated Real-Time Gross Settlement Express Transfer (TARGET2) System (the “TARGET2 System”) is open (a “TARGET Business Day”); and/or
- (iv) in the case of a Specified Currency and/or one of more Business Centres, and unless the applicable Final Terms specify that the Floating Rate Note Provisions apply and the Reference Rate is SOFR, a day on which commercial banks and foreign exchange markets settle payments in such Specified Currency in the Business Centre(s) or, if no currency is indicated, generally in each of the Business Centres.

(b) Rate of Interest

The Rate of Interest payable from time to time in respect of Floating Rate Notes will be determined in the manner specified in the applicable Final Terms.

(i) ISDA Determination for Floating Rate Notes

Where ISDA Determination is specified in the applicable Final Terms as the manner in which the Rate of Interest is to be determined, the Rate of Interest for each Interest Period will be the relevant ISDA Rate plus or minus (as indicated in the applicable Final Terms) the Margin (if any). For the purposes of this subparagraph (i), “ISDA Rate” for an Interest Period means a rate equal to the Floating Rate that would be determined by the Principal Paying Agent under an interest rate swap transaction if the Principal Paying Agent were acting as Calculation Agent for that swap transaction under the terms of an agreement incorporating the 2006 ISDA Definitions, as published by the International Swaps and Derivatives Association, Inc. and as amended and updated as at the Issue Date of the first Tranche of the Notes (the “ISDA Definitions”) and under which:

- (A) the Floating Rate Option is as specified in the applicable Final Terms;
- (B) the Designated Maturity is a period specified in the applicable Final Terms; and
- (C) the relevant Reset Date is the day specified in the applicable Final Terms.

For the purposes of this subparagraph (i), “Floating Rate”, “Calculation Agent”, “Floating Rate Option”, “Designated Maturity” and “Reset Date” have the meanings given to those terms in the ISDA Definitions.

Unless otherwise stated in the applicable Final Terms the Minimum Rate of Interest shall be deemed to be zero.

(ii) Screen Rate Determination for Floating Rate Notes

(A) If “Applicable – Term Rate” is specified as the method of Screen Rate Determination in the applicable Final Terms:

1. Where Screen Rate Determination is specified in the applicable Final Terms as the manner in which the Rate of Interest is to be determined, the Rate of Interest for each Interest Period will, subject as provided below, be either:
 - a. the offered quotation; or
 - b. the arithmetic mean (rounded if necessary to the fifth decimal place, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards) of the offered quotations, (expressed as a percentage rate per annum) for the Reference Rate which appears or appear, as the case may be, on the Relevant Screen Page as at the Relevant Time on the Interest Determination Date in question as determined by the Calculation Agent. If five or more of such offered quotations are available on the Relevant Screen Page, the highest (or, if there is more than one such highest quotation, one only of such quotations) and the lowest (or, if there is more than one such lowest quotation, one only of such quotations) shall be disregarded by the Calculation Agent for the purpose of determining the arithmetic mean (rounded as provided above) of such offered quotations.

2. if the Relevant Screen Page is not available or, if subparagraph 1.a. applies and no such offered quotation appears on the Relevant Screen Page, or, if subparagraph 2.a. applies and fewer than three such offered quotations appear on the Relevant Screen Page, in each case as at the Relevant Time, subject as provided below, the Calculation Agent shall request the principal Relevant Financial Centre office of each of the Reference Banks to provide the Calculation Agent with its offered quotation (expressed as a percentage rate per annum) for the Reference Rate at approximately the Relevant Time on the Interest Determination Date in question. If two or more of the Reference Banks provide the Calculation Agent with such offered quotations, the Rate of Interest for such Interest Accrual Period shall be the arithmetic mean of such offered quotations as determined by the Calculation Agent; and

3. if paragraph 2. above applies and the Calculation Agent determines that fewer than two Reference Banks are providing offered quotations, subject as provided below, the Rate of Interest shall be the arithmetic mean of the rates per annum (expressed as a percentage) as communicated to (and at the request of) the Calculation Agent by the Reference Banks or any two or more of them, at which such banks were offered at the Relevant Time on the relevant Interest Determination Date, deposits in the Specified Currency for a period equal to that which would have been used for the Reference Rate by leading banks in the Relevant Financial Centre interbank market or, if fewer than two of the Reference Banks provide the Calculation Agent with such offered rates, the offered rate for deposits in the Specified Currency for a period equal to that which would have been used for the Reference Rate, or the arithmetic mean of the offered rates for deposits in the Specified Currency for a period equal to that which would have been used for the Reference Rate, at which, the Relevant Time on the relevant Interest Determination Date, any one or more banks (which bank or banks is or are in the opinion of the Issuer suitable for such purpose) informs the Calculation Agent it is quoting to leading banks in the Relevant Financial Centre interbank market provided that, if the Rate of Interest cannot be determined in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this paragraph, the Rate of Interest shall be determined as at the last preceding Interest Determination Date (though substituting, where a different Margin or Maximum or Minimum Rate of Interest is to be applied to the relevant Interest Accrual Period from that which applied to the last preceding Interest Accrual Period, the Margin or Maximum or Minimum Rate of Interest relating to the relevant Interest Accrual Period, in place of the Margin or Maximum or Minimum Rate of Interest relating to that last preceding Interest Accrual Period).
- (B) If “Applicable – SOFR” is specified as the method of Screen Rate Determination in the applicable Final Terms:
1. the Rate of Interest for each Interest Accrual Period will, subject to Condition 5.5 and as provided below, be Compounded SOFR plus or minus (as indicated in the applicable Final Terms) the Margin, where:

“Compounded SOFR” means, with respect to any Interest Accrual Period, the rate of return of a daily compound interest investment in the Specified Currency and will be calculated by the Calculation Agent (or such other party responsible for the calculation of the Rate of Interest, as specified in the applicable Final Terms) on the Interest Determination Date in accordance with the following formula (and the resulting percentage will be rounded, if necessary, to the nearest one hundred-thousandth of a percentage point, with 0.000005 being rounded upwards):

$$\left[\prod_{i=1}^{d_o} \left(1 + \frac{SOFR_i \times n_i}{D} \right) - 1 \right] \times \frac{D}{d}$$

where:

“D” is the number specified in the applicable Final Terms;

“d” is the number of calendar days in the relevant Interest Accrual Period (or, where “Observation Period Shift” is specified as the Observation Method in the applicable Final Terms, the relevant Observation Period);

“do” is the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days in the relevant Interest Accrual Period (or, where “Observation Period Shift” is specified as the Observation Method in the applicable Final Terms, the relevant Observation Period);

“i” is a series of whole numbers from one to do, each representing the relevant U.S. Government Securities Business Day in chronological order from, and including, the first U.S. Government Securities Business Day in the relevant Interest Accrual Period (or, where “Observation Period Shift” is specified as the Observation Method in the applicable Final Terms, the relevant Observation Period);

“ni”, for any U.S. Government Securities Business Day “i”, means the number of calendar days from, and including, such U.S. Government Securities Business Day “i” up to but excluding the following U.S. Government Securities Business Day;

“p” means, for any Interest Accrual Period, and where “Look-back” is specified as the Observation Method in the applicable Final Terms, the number of U.S. Government Securities Business Days included in the Shift/Look-back Period specified in the applicable Final Terms (or, if no such number is specified, five U.S. Government Securities Business Days);

“SOFRI” for any U.S. Government Securities Business Day “i” in the relevant Interest Accrual Period (or, where “Observation Period Shift” is specified as the Observation Method in the applicable Final Terms, the relevant Observation Period), is equal to:

- (i) where “Look-back” is specified as the Observation Method in the applicable Final Terms, SOFR in respect of the U.S. Government Securities Business Day falling “p” U.S. Government Securities Business Days prior to that day “i”;
 - (ii) where “Observation Period Shift” is specified as the Observation Method in the applicable Final Terms, SOFR in respect of that day “i”;
 - (iii) where “Payment Delay” is specified as the Observation Method in the applicable Final Terms, SOFR in respect of that day “i”, provided that, with respect to the final Interest Accrual Period, SOFRI for each U.S. Government Securities Business Day in the period from and including the Rate Cut-Off Date to but excluding the Maturity Date or the relevant earlier redemption date, as applicable, shall be equal to SOFR in respect of such Rate Cut-Off Date; and
 - (iv) where “Lock-out” is specified as the Observation Method in the applicable Final Terms:
 1. where that day “i” is a Reference Day, SOFR in respect of the U.S. Government Securities Business Day immediately preceding such Reference Day; and
 2. where that day “i” is not a Reference Day (being a Business Day in the Lockout Period), SOFR in respect of the U.S. Government Securities Business Day immediately preceding the last Reference Day of the relevant Interest Accrual Period (such last Reference Day coinciding with the Interest Determination Date).
2. If the Rate of Interest cannot be determined in accordance with the foregoing provisions, but without prejudice to Condition 5.5, the Rate of Interest shall be determined as at the last preceding Interest Determination Date (though substituting, where a different Margin or Maximum or Minimum Rate of Interest is to be applied to the relevant Interest Accrual Period from that which applied to the last preceding Interest Accrual Period, the Margin or Maximum or Minimum Rate of Interest relating to the relevant Interest Accrual Period, in place of the Margin or Maximum or Minimum Rate of Interest relating to that last preceding Interest Accrual Period).

3. If any Series of Notes for which “Screen Rate Determination: Applicable – SOFR” is specified in the applicable Final Terms becomes due and payable in accordance with Condition 10, or is otherwise redeemed early on a date which is not an Interest Payment Date, the final Interest Determination Date shall, notwithstanding any Interest Determination Date specified in the applicable Final Terms, be deemed to be the date on which such Notes became due and payable (with corresponding adjustments being deemed to be made to the Compounded SOFR formula) and the Rate of Interest on such Notes shall, for so long as any such Note remains outstanding, be that determined on such date.

(c) Minimum Rate of Interest and/or Maximum Rate of Interest

If the applicable Final Terms specify a Minimum Rate of Interest for any Interest Period, then, in the event that the Rate of Interest in respect of such Interest Period determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (b) above is less than such Minimum Rate of Interest, the Rate of Interest for such Interest Period shall be such Minimum Rate of Interest.

Unless otherwise stated in the applicable Final Terms or (in the case of Exempt Notes) the Pricing Supplement, the Minimum Rate of Interest shall be deemed to be zero.

If the applicable Final Terms specify a Maximum Rate of Interest for any Interest Period, then, in the event that the Rate of Interest in respect of such Interest Period determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (b) above is greater than such Maximum Rate of Interest, the Rate of Interest for such Interest Period shall be such Maximum Rate of Interest.

(d) Determination of Rate of Interest and calculation of Interest Amounts

The Calculation Agent will at or as soon as practicable after each time at which the Rate of Interest is to be determined, determine the Rate of Interest for the relevant Interest Period.

The Calculation Agent will calculate the amount of interest (the “Interest Amount”) payable on the Floating Rate Notes for the relevant Interest Period by applying the Rate of Interest to:

- (i) in the case of Floating Rate Notes which are represented by a Global Note, the aggregate outstanding nominal amount of the Notes represented by such Global Note (or, if they are Partly Paid Notes, the aggregate amount paid up); or
- (ii) in the case of Floating Rate Notes in definitive form, the Calculation Amount;

and, in each case, multiplying such sum by the applicable Day Count Fraction, and rounding the resultant figure to the nearest sub-unit of the relevant Specified Currency, half of any such sub-unit being rounded upwards or otherwise in accordance with applicable market convention. Where the Specified Denomination of a Floating Rate Note or an Index Linked Interest Note in definitive form is a multiple of the Calculation Amount, the Interest Amount payable in respect of such Note shall be the product of the amount (determined in the manner provided above) for the Calculation Amount and the amount by which the Calculation Amount is multiplied to reach the Specified Denomination, without any further rounding.

“Day Count Fraction” means, in respect of the calculation of an amount of interest in accordance with this Condition 5.2:

- (i) if “Actual/Actual (ISDA)” or “Actual/Actual” is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the actual number of days in the Interest Period divided by 365 (or, if any portion of that Interest Period falls in a leap year, the sum of (I) the actual number of days in that portion of the Interest Period falling in a leap year divided by 366 and (II) the actual number of days in that portion of the Interest Period falling in a non-leap year divided by 365);

- (ii) if “Actual/365 (Fixed)” is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the actual number of days in the Interest Period divided by 365;
- (iii) if “Actual/365 (Sterling)” is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the actual number of days in the Interest Period divided by 365 or, in the case of an Interest Payment Date falling in a leap year, 366;
- (iv) if “Actual/360” is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the actual number of days in the Interest Period divided by 360;
- (v) if “30/360”, “360/360” or “Bond Basis” is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the number of days in the Interest Period divided by 360, calculated on a formula basis as follows:

$$\text{Day Count Fraction} = \frac{[360 \times (Y_2 - Y_1)] + [30 \times (M_2 - M_1)] + (D_2 - D_1)}{360}$$

where:

“Y₁” is the year, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Interest Period falls;

“Y₂” is the year, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Interest Period falls;

“M₁” is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Interest Period falls;

“M₂” is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Interest Period falls;

“D₁” is the first calendar day, expressed as a number, of the Interest Period, unless such number is 31, in which case D₁ will be 30; and

“D₂” is the calendar day, expressed as a number, immediately following the last day included in the Interest Period, unless such number would be 31 and D₁ is greater than 29, in which case D₂ will be 30;

- (vi) if “30E/360” or “Eurobond Basis” is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the number of days in the Interest Period divided by 360, calculated on a formula basis as follows:

$$\text{Day Count Fraction} = \frac{[360 \times (Y_2 - Y_1)] + [30 \times (M_2 - M_1)] + (D_2 - D_1)}{360}$$

where:

“Y₂” is the year, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Interest Period falls;

“M₁” is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Interest Period falls;

“M₂” is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Interest Period falls;

“D₁” is the first calendar day, expressed as a number, of the Interest Period, unless such number would be 31, in which case D₁ will be 30; and

“D₂” is the calendar day, expressed as a number, immediately following the last day included in the Interest Period, unless such number would be 31, in which case D₂ will be 30;

- (vii) if “30E/360 (ISDA)” is specified in the applicable Final Terms, the number of days in the Interest Period divided by 360, calculated on a formula basis as follows:

$$\text{Day Count Fraction} = \frac{[360 \times (Y_2 - Y_1)] + [30 \times (M_2 - M_1)] + (D_2 - D_1)}{360}$$

where:

“Y₂” is the year, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Interest Period falls;

“M₁” is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the first day of the Interest Period falls;

“M₂” is the calendar month, expressed as a number, in which the day immediately following the last day of the Interest Period falls;

“D₁” is the first calendar day, expressed as a number, of the Interest Period, unless (i) that day is the last day of February or (ii) such number would be 31, in which case D₁ will be 30; and

“D₂” is the calendar day, expressed as a number, immediately following the last day included in the Interest Period, unless (i) that day is the last day of February but not the Maturity Date or (ii) such number would be 31, in which case D₂ will be 30.

(e) Notification of Rate of Interest and Interest Amounts

The Calculation Agent will cause the Rate of Interest and each Interest Amount for each Interest Period and the relevant Interest Payment Date to be notified to the Issuer, the Guarantor (in the case of Guaranteed Notes) and any stock exchange on which the relevant Floating Rate Notes or Index Linked Interest Notes are for the time being listed and notice thereof to be published in accordance with Condition 14 as soon as possible after their determination but in no event later than the fourth London Business Day thereafter. Each Interest Amount and Interest Payment Date so notified may subsequently be amended (or appropriate alternative arrangements made by way of adjustment) without prior notice in the event of an extension or shortening of the Interest Period. Any such amendment will be promptly notified to each stock exchange on which the relevant Floating Rate Notes or Index Linked Interest Notes are for the time being listed and to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 14. For the purposes of this paragraph, the expression “London Business Day” means a day (other than a Saturday or a Sunday) on which banks and foreign exchange markets are open for general business in London.

(f) Certificates to be final

All certificates, communications, opinions, determinations, calculations, quotations and decisions given, expressed, made or obtained for the purposes of the provisions of this Condition 5.2, whether by the Principal Paying Agent or, if applicable, the Calculation Agent, shall (in the absence of wilful default, bad faith or manifest error) be binding on the Issuer, the Guarantor (in the case of Guaranteed Notes), the Principal Paying Agent, the Calculation Agent (if applicable), the other Agents and all Noteholders, Receiptholders and Couponholders and (in the absence of wilful default or bad faith) no liability to the Issuer, the Guarantor (in the case of Guaranteed Notes), the Noteholders, the Receiptholders or the Couponholders shall attach to the Principal Paying Agent or, if applicable, the Calculation Agent in connection with the exercise or non-exercise by it of its powers, duties and discretions pursuant to such provisions.

5.3 Exempt Notes

In the case of Exempt Notes which are also Floating Rate Notes where the applicable Pricing Supplement identifies that Screen Rate Determination applies to the calculation of interest the Rate of Interest in respect of such Exempt Notes will be determined as provided in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

The rate or amount of interest payable in respect of Exempt Notes which are not also Fixed Rate Notes or Floating Rate Notes shall be determined in the manner specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement, provided that where such Notes are Index Linked Interest Notes the provisions of Condition 5.2 shall, save to the extent amended in the applicable Pricing Supplement, apply as if the references therein to Floating Rate Notes and to the Agent were references to Index Linked Interest Notes and the Calculation

Agent, respectively, and provided further that the Calculation Agent will notify the Agent of the Rate of Interest for the relevant Interest Period as soon as practicable after calculating the same.

In the case of Exempt Notes which are also Partly Paid Notes (other than Partly Paid Notes which are Zero Coupon Notes), interest will accrue as aforesaid on the paid-up nominal amount of such Notes and otherwise as specified in the applicable Pricing Supplement.

5.4 Accrual of interest

Each Note (or in the case of the redemption of part only of a Note, that part only of such Note) will cease to bear interest (if any) from the date for its redemption unless payment of principal is improperly withheld or refused. In such event, interest will continue to accrue until whichever is the earlier of:

- (a) the date on which all amounts due in respect of such Note have been paid; and
- (b) five days after the date on which the full amount of the moneys payable in respect of such Note has been received by the Principal Paying Agent and notice to that effect has been given to the Noteholders in accordance with Condition 14.

5.5 Benchmark Discontinuation

5.5.1 Independent Adviser

If a Benchmark Event occurs in relation to an Original Reference Rate when any Rate of Interest (or any component part thereof) remains to be determined by reference to such Original Reference Rate, the Issuer or the Guarantor, as the case may be, shall use its reasonable endeavours to appoint an Independent Adviser, as soon as reasonably practicable, to determine a Successor Rate, failing which an Alternative Rate (in accordance with Condition 5.5.2), and, in either case, an Adjustment Spread and any Benchmark Amendments (in accordance with Condition 5.5.4). In making such determination, the Independent Adviser appointed pursuant to this Condition 5.5 shall act in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner as an expert. In the absence of bad faith or fraud, the Independent Adviser shall have no liability whatsoever to the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (in the case of Guaranteed Notes), the Principal Paying Agent, the Paying Agent, the Calculation Agent, the Noteholders, the Receiptholders or the Couponholders for any determination made by it, pursuant to this Condition 5.5.

If (i) the Issuer or the Guarantor, as the case may be, is unable to appoint an Independent Adviser; or (ii) the Independent Adviser appointed by it fails to determine a Successor Rate or, failing which, an Alternative Rate in accordance with this Condition 5.5 prior to the relevant Interest Determination Date, the Rate of Interest applicable to the next succeeding Interest Period shall be equal to the Rate of Interest last determined in relation to the Notes in respect of the immediately preceding Interest Period. If there has not been a first Interest Payment Date, the Rate of Interest shall be the initial Rate of Interest. Where a different Margin or Maximum or Minimum Rate of Interest is to be applied to the relevant Interest Period from that which applied to the last preceding Interest Period, the Margin or Maximum or Minimum Rate of Interest relating to the relevant Interest Period shall be substituted in place of the Margin or Maximum or Minimum Rate of Interest relating to that last preceding Interest Period. For the avoidance of doubt, this paragraph shall apply to the relevant next succeeding Interest Period only and any subsequent Interest Periods are subject to the subsequent operation of, and to adjustment as provided in, the first paragraph of this Condition 5.5.

5.5.2 Successor Rate or Alternative Rate

If the Independent Adviser determines that:

- (a) there is a Successor Rate, then such Successor Rate and the applicable Adjustment Spread shall subsequently be used in place of the Original Reference Rate to determine the Rate of Interest (or the relevant component part thereof) for all future payments of interest on the Notes (subject to the operation of this Condition 5.5); or
- (b) there is no Successor Rate but that there is an Alternative Rate, then such Alternative Rate and the applicable Adjustment Spread shall subsequently be used in place of the Original Reference Rate to determine the Rate of Interest (or the relevant component part thereof) for all future payments of interest on the Notes (subject to the operation of this Condition 5.5).

5.5.3 Adjustment Spread

The Adjustment Spread (or the formula or methodology for determining the Adjustment Spread) shall be applied to the Successor Rate or the Alternative Rate (as the case may be). If the Independent Adviser is unable to determine the quantum of, or a formula or methodology for determining, such Adjustment Spread, then the Successor Rate or Alternative Reference Rate (as applicable) will apply without an Adjustment Spread.

5.5.4 Benchmark Amendments

If any Successor Rate or Alternative Rate and, in either case, the applicable Adjustment Spread is determined in accordance with this Condition 5.5 and the Independent Adviser, determines (i) that amendments to these Conditions and/or the Agency Agreement are necessary to ensure the proper operation of such Successor Rate or Alternative Rate and/or (in either case) the applicable Adjustment Spread (such amendments, the “Benchmark Amendments”) and (ii) the terms of the Benchmark Amendments, then the Issuer shall, subject to giving notice thereof in accordance with Condition 5.5.5, without any requirement for the consent or approval of Noteholders, vary these Conditions to give effect to such Benchmark Amendments with effect from the date specified in such notice.

In connection with any such variation in accordance with this Condition 5.5.4, the Issuer shall comply with the rules of any stock exchange on which the Notes are for the time being listed or admitted to trading.

5.5.5 Notices, etc.

Any Successor Rate, Alternative Rate, Adjustment Spread and the specific terms of any Benchmark Amendments, determined in accordance with this Condition 5.5 will be notified promptly by the relevant Issuer to the Principal Paying Agent, the Paying Agent, the Calculation Agent, and, in accordance with Condition 14, the Noteholders. Such notice shall be irrevocable and shall specify the effective date of the Benchmark Amendments, if any.

No later than notifying the Principal Paying Agent of the same, the relevant Issuer shall deliver to the Principal Paying Agent a certificate signed by two authorised signatories of the Issuer:

- (a) confirming (i) that a Benchmark Event has occurred, (ii) the Successor Rate or, as the case may be, the Alternative Rate, (iii) the applicable Adjustment Spread and (iv) the specific terms of the Benchmark Amendments (if any), in each case as determined in accordance with the provisions of this Condition 5.5; and
- (b) certifying that the Benchmark Amendments (if any) are necessary to ensure the proper operation of such Successor Rate or Alternative Rate and (in either case) the applicable Adjustment Spread.

The Principal Paying Agent shall display such certificate at its offices, for inspection by Noteholders at all reasonable times during normal business hours.

The Successor Rate or Alternative Rate and the Adjustment Spread (if any) and the Benchmark Amendments specified in such certificate will (in the absence of manifest error or bad faith in the determination of the Successor Rate or Alternative Rate and the Adjustment Spread and the Benchmark Amendments (if any)) be binding on the Issuer, the Principal Paying Agent, the Paying Agent, the Calculation Agent and the Noteholders.

5.5.6 Survival of Original Reference Rate

Without prejudice to the obligations of the Issuer under Conditions 5.5.1, 5.5.2, 5.5.3 and 5.5.4, the Original Reference Rate and the fallback provisions provided for in Conditions 5.2(b)(i) and 5.2(b)(ii) will continue to apply unless and until a Benchmark Event has occurred.

5.5.7 Definitions:

As used in this Condition 5:

“Adjustment Spread” means either (a) a spread (which may be positive, negative or zero) or (b) a formula or methodology for calculating a spread, in each case to be applied to the Successor Rate or the Alternative Rate (as the case may be) and is the spread, formula or methodology which:

- (a) in the case of a Successor Rate, is formally recommended in relation to the replacement of the Original Reference Rate with the Successor Rate by any Relevant Nominating Body; or (if no such recommendation has been made, or in the case of an Alternative Rate);
- (b) the Independent Adviser determines is customarily applied to the relevant Successor Rate or the Alternative Rate (as the case may be) in international debt markets transactions to produce an industry-accepted replacement rate for the Original Reference Rate; or (if the Independent Adviser determines that no such spread is customarily applied);
- (c) the Independent Adviser determines is recognised or acknowledged as being the industry standard for over-the-counter derivative transactions which reference the Original Reference Rate, where such rate has been replaced by the Successor Rate or the Alternative Rate (as the case may be).

“Alternative Rate” means an alternative benchmark or screen rate which the Independent Adviser determines in accordance with Condition 5.5.2 is customarily applied in international debt capital markets transactions for the purposes of determining rates of interest (or the relevant component part thereof) in the same Specified Currency as the Notes.

“Benchmark Event” means:

Any such notice shall be deemed to have been given to the holders of the Notes on the seventh day after the day on which the said notice was given to Euroclear and/or Clearstream, Luxembourg.

18. Currency Indemnity

The Specified Currency is the sole currency of account and payment for all sums payable by the Issuer and/or the Guarantor under or in connection with the Notes, the Receipts and the Coupons including damages. Any amount received or recovered in a currency other than the Specified Currency (whether as a result of, or of the enforcement of, a judgment or order of a court of any jurisdiction or otherwise) by any Noteholder, Receiptholder or Couponholder in respect of any sum expressed to be due to it from the Issuer and/or the Guarantor shall only constitute a discharge to the Issuer or the Guarantor, as the case may be, to the extent of the amount of the Specified Currency which the recipient is able to purchase with the amount so received or recovered in that other currency on the date of that receipt or recovery (or, if it is not practicable to make that purchase on that date, on the first date on which it is practicable to do so). If that amount of the Specified Currency is less than the amount of the Specified Currency expressed to be due to the recipient under any Note, Receipt or Coupon, the Issuer or (failing the Issuer) the Guarantor shall indemnify such recipient against any loss sustained by it as a result. In any event, the Issuer or (failing the Issuer) the Guarantor shall indemnify the recipient against the cost of making any such purchase. For the purposes of this Condition, it will be sufficient for the Noteholder, Receiptholder or Couponholder, as the case may be, to demonstrate that it would have suffered a loss had an actual purchase been made. These indemnities constitute separate and independent obligations from the Issuer's and the Guarantor's other obligations, shall give rise to a separate and independent cause of action, shall apply irrespective of any indulgence granted by any Noteholder, Receiptholder or Couponholder and shall continue in full force and effect despite any judgment, order, claim or proof for a liquidated amount in respect of any sum due under any Note, Receipt or Coupon, as the case may be, or any judgment or order.

19. Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999

No person shall have any right to enforce any term or condition of the Note under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999, but this does not affect any right or remedy of any person which exists or is available apart from that Act.

20. Governing Law of Notes and Submission to Jurisdiction

20.1 Governing law

The Agency Agreement, the Guarantee, the Deed of Covenant, the Notes, the Receipts, the Coupons and any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in connection with the Agency Agreement, the Guarantee, the Deed of Covenant, the Notes, the Receipts and the Coupons are governed by, and shall be construed in accordance with, English law.

20.2 Arbitration

Subject to Condition 20.3, any dispute, claim, difference or controversy, arising out of, related to, or having any connection with the Notes, the Receipts and/or the Coupons (including any dispute regarding the existence, validity, interpretation, performance, breach or termination of the Notes, the Receipts and/or the Coupons or the consequences of the nullity of any of them or a dispute relating to any non-contractual obligations arising out of or in connection with them) (a "Dispute") shall be referred to and finally resolved by arbitration seated in London in accordance with the rules of the London Court of International Arbitration (the "LCIA") (the "Rules"), which Rules (as amended from time to time) are incorporated by reference into this Condition 20.2. For these purposes, there shall be three arbitrators, each of whom shall have no connection with any party hereto, and the language of the arbitration shall be English.

20.3 Option to litigate

Notwithstanding Condition 20.2 above any Noteholder, Receiptholder or Couponholder may, in the alternative, and at its sole discretion, by notice in writing to the Issuer and (in the case of Guaranteed Notes) the Guarantor:

- (a) within 28 days of service of a Request for Arbitration (as defined in the Rules); or
- (b) in the event no arbitration is commenced, require that a Dispute be heard by a court of law. If such notice is given, the Dispute to which such notice refers shall be determined in accordance with Condition 20.5 and any arbitration commenced under Condition 20.2 in respect of that Dispute will be terminated. Each of the parties to the terminated arbitration will bear its own costs in relation thereto.

20.4 Termination of Arbitral proceedings

If any notice to terminate is given after service of any Request for Arbitration in respect of any Dispute, the relevant Noteholder, Receiptholder or Couponholder must also promptly give notice to the LCIA and to any Tribunal (each as defined in the Rules) already appointed in relation to the Dispute that such Dispute will be settled by the courts. Upon receipt of such notice by the LCIA, the arbitration and any appointment of any arbitrator in relation to such Dispute will immediately terminate. Any such arbitrator will be deemed to be functus officio. The termination is without prejudice to:

- (a) the validity of any act done or order made by the arbitrator or by the court in support of that arbitration before his appointment is terminated;
- (b) his entitlement to be paid his proper fees and disbursements; and
- (c) the date when any claim or defence was raised for the purpose of applying any limitation bar or any similar rule or provision.

20.5 Provisions relating to Judicial Proceedings

In the event that a notice pursuant to Condition 20.3 is issued, the following provisions shall apply:

- (a) subject to paragraph (c) below, the courts of England shall have exclusive jurisdiction to settle any Dispute;
- (b) the Issuer and (in the case of Guaranteed Notes) the Guarantor have agreed that the courts of England are the most appropriate and convenient courts to settle any Dispute and, accordingly, irrevocably submit to the jurisdiction of such courts and will not argue to the contrary; and
- (c) this Condition 20.5 is for the benefit of the Noteholders, the Receiptholders and the Couponholders only. As a result, and notwithstanding paragraph (a) above, the Noteholders, the Receiptholders and the Couponholders may take proceedings relating to a Dispute ("Proceedings") in any other courts with jurisdiction. To the extent allowed by law, the Noteholders, the Receiptholders and the Couponholders may take concurrent Proceedings in any number of jurisdictions.

20.6 Appointment of Process Agent

Each of the Issuer and (in the case of Guaranteed Notes) the Guarantor appoints Doha Bank Ltd. at its office at 67/68 Jermyn Street, London SW1Y 6NY as its agent for service of process, and undertakes that, in the event of Doha Bank Ltd. ceasing so to act or ceasing to be registered in England, it will appoint another person as its agent for service of process in England in respect of any proceedings. Each of the Issuer and (in the case of Guaranteed Notes) the Guarantor agrees that failure by Doha Bank Ltd. or such other person appointed as the Issuer and/or Guarantor's agent for service of process in England in respect of any proceedings to notify it of any process will not invalidate the relevant proceedings or render service of those proceedings ineffective. Nothing herein shall affect the right to serve proceedings in any other manner permitted by law.

20.7 Other documents and the Guarantor

The Issuer has in the Agency Agreement and the Deed of Covenant and (in the case of Guaranteed Notes) the Guarantor has in the Agency Agreement and the Guarantee submitted to the jurisdiction of the English courts and appointed an agent for service of process in terms substantially similar to those set out above.

USE OF PROCEEDS

The net proceeds from each issue of Notes, after deduction of commissions, fees, and estimated expenses, will be applied by the relevant Issuer for the general corporate purposes of the Bank.

If, in respect of any particular issue of Notes, there is a particular identified use of proceeds, this will be stated in the applicable Final Terms (or the Pricing Supplement, in the case of Exempt Notes).

History

The Bank was incorporated in 1978 and commenced its banking services on 15 March 1979. The Bank initially focused on corporate banking and trade finance. Given Qatar's high nominal GDP per capita and the influx of expatriate workers in Qatar, since 2000 the Bank has expanded into and built a strong market presence in retail banking. Corporate banking, treasury and investments, trade finance and retail banking are the major contributors to the Bank's assets and revenues. As at 30 September 2022, the Bank held a 5.1 per cent. share in the retail banking market in Qatar according to figures published by the QCB.

In 2007, the Bank upgraded its representative office in Dubai to a full-service branch and was the first Qatari bank to begin banking operations in the UAE. The Bank further expanded its presence in the GCC region by establishing a branch in Kuwait in 2008, in Abu Dhabi in 2013 and a representative office in Sharjah in 2013. The Bank has since closed the representative office in Sharjah and merged the operations with the Dubai branch for strategic reasons. In the last five years, the Bank has established representative offices in Bangladesh, Sri Lanka and Nepal and opened a full-service branch in Chennai, India. This new network in countries of the South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation ("SAARC") will bolster significant business synergies to target trade flows between the Indian branches and the GCC countries.

In 2007, the Bank established Sharq Insurance as a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Bank. Sharq Insurance provides general insurance products to corporate and retail customers and was the first insurance company to be fully owned by a commercial bank in the Middle Eastern region.

Accordingly, the Bank has obtained all necessary approvals and a change was recorded at the Qatar Central Securities Depository on 09 August 2022 that provides that non-Qatari investors may invest in up to 100 per cent. of share capital of the Bank. The Board of Directors has also approved an increase in the foreign investor limit for the Bank from 49 per cent. to 100 per cent., and amended the Bank's Articles of Association accordingly.

Strategy Overview

Qatar's economic performance in the wake of the diplomatic rift and resulting blockade had continued to recover until the emergence of the COVID-19 pandemic. The International Monetary Fund (the "IMF") has revised Qatar's economic forecasted growth to 2.4 per cent. in 2023. Qatar plans to raise its liquified natural gas production to 110mtpa in the near future. It signals a new era of growth led by the planned expansion of the North Field production, which will further boost Qatar's leading reputation as an exporter of hydrocarbon resources and is expected to begin production in the fourth quarter of 2025.

Qatar is ranked 18th (down from 17th for 2021) in The World Competitiveness Yearbook 2022 published annually by the International Institute for Management Development ("IMD"). IMD is based in Switzerland, and the rankings are measured for 64 countries, selected for the purposes of the IMD as representing the most highly developed countries. The ranking was based on national statistics provided to IMD as well as the result of surveying a sample of business managers who provided their views of Qatar's economic competitive climate. The State of Qatar has contributed to the IMD Competitiveness Yearbook for the 14th time.

Areas where Qatar ranked highly in the report included economic performance (ranked 9th), government efficiency (ranked 7th), business efficiency (ranked 14th), and improved its rank in infrastructure (ranked 38th versus 40th the previous year). Qatar's rank has been positively influenced by many factors including strong economic performance as represented by Qatar's low unemployment rate (ranked first), government subsidies (ranked first), cyber security (ranked first), high percentages of government budget surplus/deficit (ranked second), gross fixed capital formation (ranked second), international experience (ranked second), entrepreneurship (ranked third), and use of big data and analysis (ranked third).

In November 2022, S&P Global Ratings announced that it had revised its outlook on Qatar and upgraded Qatar from AA- to AA, with a stable outlook. Moody's upgraded Qatar's outlook from stable to positive, while maintaining a country rating of Aa3.

During 2022, the Bank's Board of Directors approved an updated corporate purpose which underpins value creation and prosperity for the Bank's customers and society. Also, during the year, the Bank set its strategic initiatives towards capitalising on the FIFA World Cup 2022 held in Qatar in support of governmental and central bank guidelines and initiatives.

The Bank has maintained its position as one of the key players in Qatar's banking industry. This has been achieved through the Bank's strategy, which encompasses key strategic principles. The Bank will continue focusing on growth in key business segments, which includes building its corporate relationship lending and increasing its lending into the public sector and top-tier corporate client segments in Qatar. The Bank has long-standing experience in lending into key sectors in the Qatari market. The approach is to provide services to selected customers where the Bank provides holistic services based on its customers' needs in relation to lending, cash and treasury services.

Wholesale Banking is a significant contributor to the total income of the Bank. This segment has evolved to be one of the core competencies of the Bank and will be one of the major growth areas of the Bank. It targets local and international companies. Currently, it has a well-diversified portfolio focused on the private sector. However, in the future, Wholesale Banking intends to focus on the public sector, trade finance business, services and industrials, whilst reducing exposure to contract financing.

The Bank's organic growth strategy (both local in Qatar and international) has included an extension of its range of products and services and new business model in line with regulations, market and customer needs. As a result, the Bank expects to be able to diversify its assets, revenue and customer base in addition to financing cross-border transactions.

Revenue Enhancement

The Bank operates principally through five business groups: the Retail Banking Group, the Wholesale Banking Group, the International Banking Group, the Treasury and Investments Group, and Private Banking.

The Retail Banking Group is focusing on:

- improving the Bank's customer retention effort to reduce loan and deposits attrition by deepening client relationships and enhancing digital customer experience;
- optimising existing product mix and maximising cross-sell opportunities by effectively using database marketing techniques;
- adopting a strategic focus on Qatari segment by introducing Qatari packages to attract big ticket loans and deposits, and offering tailored products and bundles;
- focusing strategically on target employers, corporate and government T1 accounts to increase overall Doha Bank brand preference through fast acquisition of new salary accounts;
- more focus on new low-cost liability products;
- more focus on strategic target employers and high net worth individuals.

The Bank has undertaken various joint initiatives with other financial institutions involving cross selling its products with theirs, thereby providing a full range of financial solutions to its customers. In doing so, the Bank aims to fulfil all its customers' relevant financial services requirements in order to become a fully comprehensive financial service provider. This strategy has been implemented through a combination of enhanced focus, measurement and inter-divisional collaboration to exploit the cross-selling opportunities. In particular, the Bank has focused on innovation and service delivery, seeking to promote customer engagement by delivering products tailored to the individual needs of each customer. Consequently, the Bank has made concerted efforts to fully understand the behaviours of customers in each of its customer segments and to pair such customers with the most appropriate products for their needs.

The Bank's retail business strategy continues to be customer-focused, with a view to sustaining market share by offering innovative retail banking products and providing exceptional customer service and convenience.

The Wholesale Banking Group is intended to be the driving force in the Bank's client competitiveness.

As at the date of this Base Prospectus, the Bank has a geographical presence in 18 countries, with six branches outside of Qatar that include three branches in India (Mumbai, Chennai and Kochi), two branches in the United Arab Emirates (Abu Dhabi and Dubai), one branch in Kuwait (Kuwait City) and 14 representative offices globally. The Bank distinguishes itself from its competitors in having one of the largest international networks among any Qatari bank. The Bank gains a unique business advantage from being the only Qatari bank in many of the countries in which it operates. The Bank's extensive international network, which provides a unique business advantage, has been carefully selected with a view to targeting the large bilateral trade flows between such countries and Qatar. The Bank leverages on its reputation in trade finance to capture business in those countries with which Qatar, India and other GCC countries enjoy significant trade ties and other synergies, including business flows and other ties. The Bank's international network also enables it to develop relationships with a range of financial institutions, thereby diversifying its funding sources and reducing the Bank's concentration risks. Through its presence in most developed markets, such as Australia, Canada, China, Germany, the United Kingdom, Singapore, Hong Kong, Japan and South Korea, the Bank demonstrates its strong global governance and compliance with international regulatory standards. This sets the Bank apart from its Qatari competitors and bolsters its reputation as a truly global bank. The Bank's management strives to optimise and transform the international banking model in line with market opportunities and bank's strategic vision.

With stable capital adequacy ratios, the Bank believes it is well positioned to capture growth in Qatar, further consolidating its Qatari position. The Bank will continue to optimise its existing operations in the economies of its international network. The Bank will seek to expand and leverage on Foreign Institutions ("FI") and trade finance business through its international network, by further developing relations with companies doing business with countries where the Bank has its presence. The Bank continuously monitors the performance of the markets where it operates, its business units and asset classes. Based on the results observed, it may take steps to scale up or scale down its international model in light of portfolio quality, growth potential or other relevant criteria.

The Treasury and Investment Group expects to continue to diversify both retail and wholesale funding sources. It is also working on opportunities to offer a wider array of financial markets product offerings to the Bank's clients.

Digitisation, Automation and Innovation

In the post-COVID 19 pandemic environment, banks globally are facing increasingly higher competition from new entrants and even non-banking organisations such as fintechs, other technology companies and telecommunications groups with innovative business models. In addition, banks are encountering pressure due to narrowing profit margins and tighter regulatory requirements.

The Bank has identified innovation as the key to growth and competitive differentiation. The Bank believes that it can sustain and grow by successfully developing new products, services and channels, and quickly responding to, and taking advantage of, the evolving market environment. In recent years, the Bank has launched a number of innovative products and services, including the introduction of payment solutions (e.g. Doha Pay, Google Pay, Apple Pay), a biometric authenticated mobile banking application, the Al Dana Savings Scheme, the Qatar Exchange Traded Fund ("QETF") and Doha Miles, the loyalty programme. The Bank continues to improve its Online & Mobile Banking services to improve customer experience and satisfaction. The Bank believes that it can differentiate itself from local competitors by benchmarking its products against other international banks' products and by continuously developing innovative ideas through conducting research.

It is anticipated that innovation will also play a fundamental role in the Bank's strategy to manage and optimise its costs. Accordingly, the Bank is actively pursuing innovation within its business units, including through the deployment of improved technology and new technological solutions. To better cater its customer needs, the Bank is working on a digital transformation that will help the Bank promote efficiency in processes and operations, and the overall customer experience.

Other areas of particular focus include upgrading the Bank's digital capabilities and cybersecurity features aimed at improving its customers' banking experience, generating improved cost-income ratios, better risk management and minimizing the environmental impact of the Bank's activities.

Customer Experience

The Bank has historically and will continue to pursue a strategy of organic growth, and the Bank's current structure is a result of this strategy. Much of this organic growth has been achieved overseas, with the Bank having transitioned from a primarily local bank to one of the Qatari banks with the strongest presence globally. As at the date of this Base Prospectus, the Bank has a presence in 18 countries and this international network aims to facilitate, capture, and optimise cross-border trade transactions between Qatar and the economies of its overseas network. The Bank intends to grow its business further by capturing FI, trade, remittances businesses and various other leads through referrals from these countries to India, Kuwait, UAE and Qatar. Leveraging on its international presence, the Bank intends to deliver a seamless cross border customer experience.

In order to expand its customer base and deepen its customer relationships, the Bank has established specialist business divisions within the Wholesale Banking Group - Trading & Manufacturing Sector, Services Sector, Commercial Banking Sector (previous SME), Contracting Sector, Real Estate Sector, Public Sector, Corporate Finance & Advisory, International Business lending & Re-structuring, Global Transaction Banking & Innovation. The Bank believes that the creation of these specialist areas of expertise, offering tailored products catering to a range of target customers, will lead to enhanced customer experience and increased demand for the Bank's products and services. On the credit quality side, the Bank will continue to maintain conservative and cautious approach to underwriting.

The Bank intends to design customer centric and user experienced focused customer journeys. The Bank also intends to work on an omni-channel mobile first experience that meets the unique needs of its customers.

Talent Management

The Bank believes that its success is the result of the combined efforts of each of its employees. The Bank has always viewed talent development as a priority, recognizing the important contribution it makes both to building the culture of the Bank and promoting efficiencies which enable it to achieve its business goals. Strategic talent development is the guiding principle of the Bank's strategy which encompasses, but is not limited to: upskilling, retention and future workforce development. The Bank is strongly committed to national talent development. The Bank has envisioned a Qatari Development Strategy that will build a strong and quality Qatari labour force and develop future leaders for the Qatari banking industry. Every year, the Bank participates in Career Fairs to support the Qatar National Vision 2030 and recognises education and knowledge as a key source of development. The Bank seeks to ensure that it increases its Qatarisation ratio, by a sufficient margin. In addition, the Bank makes special efforts by way of scholarships and career plans, amongst other initiatives, to encourage the professional development of locals in its employment. By investing in the development of its human resources, the Bank aims to improve productivity, risk mitigation and employee engagement and to continue to build upon the success of the nationalisation initiatives.

Recently, the Bank was recognised by the Ministry of Labor ("MoL") for exemplary contribution towards the Qatarisation initiatives across the organisation. A ceremony was held by the MoL to recognise companies and establishments that excelled in localising jobs in the private sector and attracting qualified national cadres. In line with the Qatar National Vision 2030, the Bank has established a solid liaison with the MoL through the National Employment Platform ("Kawader"), seeking to increase the number of local nationals in the Bank's workforce, integrated with enriched learning and development experience. The National Talent Acquisition and Development programs at the Bank aim at employing and developing national talent to advance their careers and create exceptional leaders in diverse spheres of the Bank. This includes scholarship and internship opportunities, structured learning plans, on-the-job experience and professional development, aimed at developing a steady pipeline of national talent at multiple levels.

Risk and Capital Management

Over the preceding years, the Bank's strategy has been to build a high quality and low volatility asset portfolio to provide steady income. This strategy continues as at the date of this Base Prospectus. The Bank intends to diversify and increase its assets selectively, with a particular focus on growing the size and quality of the Bank's loan portfolio across both the Wholesale and Retail market segments in Qatar. The Bank is considering various diversification strategies, including but not limited to, business segment diversification, governmental/quasi-governmental lending and deposit diversification (with a focus on low-cost deposit, current accounts and savings accounts). In particular, the Bank intends to target public and government-related entities with short- to medium-term financing requirements and to further develop the Bank's presence in the growing and increasingly affluent Qatari retail sector.

The bank has reorganised its risk management team in line with new organisational structure of Wholesale Banking Group to better align with market segments with a focused sector specific approach to reduce and mitigate corresponding risks while enhancing overall process efficiency perspective.

Given the Bank's emphasis on de-risking its books, as at the date of this Base Prospectus the Bank expects to witness a shift in its asset mix where the Bank intends to increase its share of government exposure in terms of loans and investments mostly in Qatari Sovereign instruments. State of Qatar bonds have been one of the most profitable investments for the Bank and its exposure is managed dynamically, depending on valuation. The Bank endeavours to invest in such instruments where doing so in line with the Bank's investment strategies. Also, the Bank is looking to upsize its low-risk revenues from service-based fees and commission income from both on- as well as off-balance sheet facilities and transactions.

The Bank strives to maintain a diversified loan mix and consistently ensures that it retains a diversified deposit and funding base to minimise concentration risks. The Qatari Central Bank (the "QCB") imposes certain credit concentration limits on regulated banks (including the Bank) in Qatar and the Bank adheres to the QCB's credit concentration policy. Those credit concentration limits impose restrictions on the Bank such as single obligor limits as well as restrictions on real estate lending.

The Bank's Risk Management Group continually monitors risks and processes across the organisation to identify, assess, measure, manage and report on potential threats to concerned committees / authorities that could negatively impact the desired results of the Bank's objectives. The Bank's risk management policies, models, tools, and systems are regularly reviewed and revised to improve the framework and reflect market changes. Since the Board and Executive Management are ultimately responsible for all the risks assumed by the Bank, the Board has set the risk appetite thresholds for the Bank. The Chief Risk Officer ("CRO") reports to the CEO, with a line of reporting to the Board's Audit, Compliance and Risk Committee, which in turn reports to the Board of Directors of the Bank. The Risk Management Group is also independently empowered to escalate issues directly to the Board and the Audit, Compliance and Risk Committee.

The Bank has implemented risk management policies and procedures designed to identify and analyse the risks inherent in the Bank's business. The Bank's risk management systems are continuously monitored and improved and are overseen by the Bank's senior management. The Bank has upgraded the internal rating systems to Moody's Credit Lens for Wholesale and SME exposures. The Bank's senior management believes that the effectiveness of the Bank's risk management policies and procedures represent a key strength of the Bank and has contributed to appropriate asset allocation, continued profitability and capital management amid the challenging global economic backdrop. In order to ensure a robust risk management framework, the Bank continues to review all of its risk-related policies, processes and systems on an on-going basis.

Cost Reduction

The Bank intends to achieve greater cost optimisation through channel transformation, improved asset quality, digitisation and process automation. The Bank is also prioritising sourcing of low-cost stable funding through current accounts and savings accounts (CASA), fixed deposits and FI relationships.

Empowerment and Accountability

The Bank is working towards enabling the effective execution and governance of strategic initiatives across the Bank.

Environmental, Social & Governance (ESG)

The Bank's sustainability reporting is aligned to the GRI Universal Standards Framework ("GRI") and the QSE's ESG reporting methodology. Since 2016, the Bank has increased the scope of its reporting to include several of the required parameters by GRI and all of the parameters of the QSE's ESG disclosures, which the Bank believes provides further evidence of the Bank's commitment to its ongoing sustainability journey. Since 2018, the Bank has increased its communication on progress by engaging and supporting the Ten Principles of the United Nations Global Compact on human rights, labour, environment, and anticorruption.

During 2022, the Bank's Treasury and Investment Group received approval and were authorised to launch an ESG Bond Committee. This Committee has oversight for implementing a green bond framework for the Bank, as well as issuing a green bond over the medium term depending on market opportunities.

The Bank considers that "green banking" has the power to transform the banking market and that the integration of environmental and social considerations into product design is only a matter of time. In 2019, a Memorandum of Understanding was signed between the Bank and the Gulf Organisation for Research and Development ("GORD") with the objective of exploring areas of mutual collaboration in Sustainability and Carbon Neutrality. Both sides are also partnering on GORD's Carbon registry platform.

In November 2022, the Bank and GORD signed a memorandum of understanding (the "MoU") on the sidelines of the 27th session of the Conference of the Parties ("COP27") to the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change ("UNFCCC"), in Sharm El Sheikh, Egypt. In line with Qatar National Vision 2030 and the National Climate Change Action Plan, the MoU will facilitate the Bank to boost its green initiatives and develop a framework for a robust sustainability strategy and ESG compliance with support from GORD's experience and expertise in the sustainability landscape.

The Bank's focus on sustainability in its approach to business and to its shareholders has been, and will continue to be, an important factor in its growth. The Bank continues to work towards expanding the scope of its sustainability reporting in order to make such reporting more comprehensive in nature.

In relation to funding, T&I continues to execute strategies to widen and diversify its sources, including accepting deposits from a variety of local and international clients. In recent months, the department has placed a greater focus on sustainable funding, with the treasury team obtaining approval to launch an ESG Bond Committee. The Bank's key treasury products include foreign exchange, money market, fixed income, mutual funds, equity brokerage and commodities (notably precious metals). T&I also acts as a trusted partner in providing corporate risk management solutions for currency, commodities, and interest rate products. The Bank's investment portfolio plays a significant role in its revenue and profitability, and is thus among the key mandates for T&I. The team focuses primarily on holdings of high-quality sovereign debt, ensuring a stable flow of interest income, minimal risk, and high liquidity for the Bank.

The IT division is a component within the Bank's five-year overall strategic plan which incorporates IT strategy and the delivery of all related services to its employees and customers. To support the needs of its customers better, the Bank has undertaken several transformational initiatives through innovation and by following the latest technology trends in the banking industry. The last major IT update was in relation to the Core Banking System (ICS Version 17 upgrade) which occurred during January 2020 and there has been no significant outage since then.

The Bank has incorporated technology to provide state-of-the-art products and services to its customers and has exploited technological developments to improve its efficiency and the effectiveness of its banking services delivery. Since the Bank believes in technology being the key driver for enhanced and improved service delivery to its customers, the Bank has been continuously ensuring its technology is kept up-to-date. The Bank believes that it is a pioneer of banking technology and has in recent years provided its customers with several innovative and new products.

The Bank has provided its customers with different channels in terms of e-banking and m-banking, ATMs, online cash deposit machines, cheque deposit machines, using the latest technology solutions to perform day-to-day banking anywhere and anytime with fully secured solutions. The Bank believes that this has differentiated it from its competitors and provided it with a competitive edge. Further to the strong technology foundation that the Bank has already laid, it is now focused on delivering more effective real-time services to its customers by providing banking services through new channels of distribution and also by enhancing the internal services which will enable the Bank to better serve its customers.

The Bank has established a business continuity planning and a disaster recovery site. The disaster recovery site is located in a remote site 20 kilometres from the Bank's headquarters and can be relied upon in the event of any unforeseen disaster to ensure that its critical systems and data continue to be fully operational. The Bank also carries out daily and other periodic data back-ups, which are stored at three different locations, including an international location.

As at the date of this Base Prospectus and due to the aftermath of the COVID-18 pandemic, face-to-face team engagement continues not to be encouraged. However, the Bank has been adopting virtual means of communication and remote meetings via MS Teams for projects and BAU activities. As part of the readiness exercise to deal with the 'disruption to normal' and remote working, the IT division provided the Bank's employees with World Class VPN/VDI solution to ensure work continues effectively, reviewed risk assessment in relation to suppliers and enabled Process Workflow for mission critical business.

To mitigate IT security related risks, the IT team enhanced its IT security controls at an enterprise level by ensuring MAC PCs are authorised, a dual factor authentication system is provided on VPN and VDI, VDI's provided to users are restricted (for example, users cannot install applications), ensuring that VPN is under SOC monitoring on a 24-hour, seven-days-a-week basis and monitoring reports are produced, maintaining the network security level and Next Generation Firewall and IPS, ensuring that data centre traffic passes through the data centre firewall, providing multiple-level firewalls, monitoring the operating system and relevant policies, checking PC compliance level of AV and Windows patching (prior to allowing login access), ensuring that unauthorised access from outside the Bank's network is prohibited for remote desktops, ensuring that authentication for applications and access is provided for security purposes, monitoring database access via SOC solution and users' devices via Carbon Black on a 24-hour, seven-days-a-week basis and ensuring VLAN-based segregation and security.

The Bank has several systems installed covering its business requirements. Most of the Bank's systems are licensed from recognised software application providers except for the Bank's internet banking platform, which has been developed in-house. The Bank's IT division has implemented international standards for its operations. Information systems governance processes based on Control Objectives for Information and Related Technologies have been implemented since 2003 and are being followed in all functional operations of the Bank's divisions.

The Bank runs an enterprise-wide system on Oracle Unix and Windows platforms and uses electronic channels that cover firewalls, IDS, antivirus and zoning, and virtual private networks. The IT division has implemented a service management system under the ITIL service management framework and the Bank was the first organisation in the GCC to have achieved the ISO/IEC 20000 certification for its IT service management system in 2007.

The Bank is supported by a Chief Information Security Officer (CISO). In absence of a full time Data Privacy Officer, data security is overseen by the CISO who is responsible for the development of data security protocols and reporting potential vulnerabilities or breaches in relation to critical and material data. As and when the complexities or regulatory requirements in Qatar require an independent Data Privacy Officer, the Bank will hire to fill that role. The Bank is also supported by highly efficient and qualified IT resources for delivery of technology projects and to support its technical architecture to maximise availability, scalability, reliability, security and manageability. The Bank's Information Security Management System (ISMS) ensures the confidentiality, integrity and availability of the information assets of the Bank through the implementation of various controls and processes of global standards. The Bank's material data is stored in the Bank's Core Banking System, MIS Systems, LOS System, Norkom-AML, Cards Systems, SWIFT, Internet and Mobile

Banking Systems, Newgen Work Flow System, T&I Systems, ECC and QATCH. Critical data such as customer information (PII), account information and patterns, trends, analysis of customer classification, nature of facilities issued and payment card information are stored in the Bank's data centre, DRC, tape backup and IT user desktops. Such data is not encrypted. The network and security architecture is built to ensure maximum security. The architecture is implemented to protect the core data and system, and includes Next Generation Firewalls, Next Generation IPS, Web Application Firewall, DDoS protection (Application and Volumetric levels), Anti-virus, end-point security solutions such as Endpoint Detection and Response, Microsoft Office 365 email protection, web proxy protection, 24 X 7 Managed SOC Services and a virtual private network with encryption of its internal and external communication networks. The Bank has resilience in its network to ensure high-availability and auto-failovers for continuity and uninterrupted delivery of services. The Bank's networks are segregated to ensure that the three-tier architecture is complied with for critical applications. These networks are segregated by Next Generation Firewall. The Bank's 24 X 7 SOC services monitors the logs from the devices which are integrated and provides alerts on 24 X 7.

The Bank has developed a crisis management plan to consider cyber-attacks which, as at the date of this Base Prospectus, is at the sign-off stage. Additionally, the Bank has insurance coverage for cyber-attacks resulting in information security and privacy liability, data breach response expenses, regulatory defence and penalties, website media content liability, first party data protection loss, cyber extortion loss and PCI fines and costs.

In line with its strategy, the Bank continues to deliver Digital Transformation projects to improve customer services and make available self-service anytime/anywhere banking channels. As part of this Digital Transformation, the Bank has enhanced its mobile banking channel with a new look and feel and also provided multi-language support in order to enhance customer experience and services. In addition, as part of the Digital Transformation journey, the Bank has revamped its online portal for retail and corporate customers to provide all customer segments with enhanced customer experience and enhanced security. As part of the digital drive, the Bank's IT and business partnership is focusing on end-to-end straight through processing which is expected to further enhance the customer experience and simultaneously result in cost efficiencies.

Carrying on the theme of innovation and increased convenience for our customers, the Bank has launched WhatsApp and Facebook chat services making it much easier for customers to contact the Customer Service Teams within the Bank.

The Bank has also achieved ISO 27001 certification in 2018. This is testament to the Bank's commitment towards information security and implementation of standards to secure customer information.

For the twelfth year in a row, the Bank achieved recertification for ISO20000-2011 for its continuous compliance to global standard for IT Service Management. The Bank is proud to be the only financial institution in the country to be accredited with this award. ISO 20000-2011 is the first worldwide standard specifically aimed at IT Service Management and describes an integrated set of management processes for the effective delivery of services to the business and its customers. The Bank has defined its policy in relation to IT Service Management as "To adopt and adapt state of the art IT technology integrating with people and processes to support and improve all business processes".

The ISO 20000 -2011 certification is an assurance of quality in terms of IT services provided to business departments and branches of the Bank. It validates how IT services are set up and the ongoing procedures which are involved in the provision of such services, including how such services are updated, managed and documented.

The Bank also became the first bank in Qatar to achieve accredited certification for ISO 9001:2015, the newly revised international standards for quality management systems. These certifications demonstrate The Bank's commitment to high standards of integrity within its processes and procedures and its aim to always achieve world class benchmarks in operational risk management.

The Bank was also honoured in 2019 with the "Enterprise, Digital & IT Architecture Excellence Regional Award" from ICMG. This award is to recognise the Bank's major IT infrastructure and data centre networks. The Bank was also honoured in 2019 with the 'Best Software Architecture in Mobile Applications" from ICMG, for its transformation project to implement the latest technology to bring agility and pace to its transformation plans and to further enhance the services the Bank provides to its customers.

More initiatives will follow in the coming years as the Bank continues to implement its digital transformation medium-term plans to utilise the latest technologies. These will bring further changes to the way the Bank operates and will provide market-leading customer service and products, greater operational efficiency and enhanced security to IT operations.

Given the Bank's heavy investment in its information technology capabilities and electronic channels, the IT division retains a central role in the Bank's operations.

Competition

The Qatari banking sector will comprise of 17 banks, following the merger completion of Masraf Al Rayan and Al Khaliji Bank and Dukhan Bank and International Bank of Qatar ("IBQ"). The sector includes four conventional banks, four Islamic banks, one development bank, one investment bank and branches or subsidiaries of seven foreign banks. The foreign bank branches and subsidiaries focus mainly on trade finance, foreign currency operations and state-related business. The Qatari banking market is becoming increasingly competitive and challenging.

Qatar's foreign banks compete for the same business as the local banks but operate under certain restrictions.

The lending limits of foreign banks are based on their local capital base. However, foreign banks have traditionally obtained guarantees from their head offices when credits exceed their legal lending limits. Some foreign multinational banks have increased their presence in the fast-developing Qatar market, and some have, or plan to, set up offices in the QFC and target the financing of big infrastructure projects. The QFC may attract new banks given the low-tax environment, with a 10 per cent. charge on locally-sourced profits and the fact that 100.00 per cent. foreign ownership and profit repatriation are permitted. Tax exemptions may be possible in certain circumstances. The QFC is targeting global institutions relevant to the energy sector and other key sectors of Qatar's economy and which have expertise in banking, insurance, trade finance, asset management, financial advisory services, securities derivatives dealing and Islamic finance. Institutions registered with the QFC fall into two categories: 'regulated activities' (essentially financial services) and 'non-regulated activities' (activities in support of financial services). QFC-registered banks are currently subject to restrictions on their local banking activities and, as a result, they cannot open full-service branches and cannot deal with retail customers in Qatar. See "Qatari Banking Industry and Regulation". The Bank believes that the presence of new banks adds another dimension of competition from institutions that are often more experienced and able to offer more sophisticated products and services. Additional institutions are expected to begin operations in the QFC, which will ultimately expand the Qatari banking market, encourage competition, drive new technology and help further develop the banking sector.

In terms of direct competition, the Bank's principal competitors in Qatar for non-Islamic banking services include Qatar National Bank (Q.P.S.C.), The Commercial Bank (P.S.Q.C.) and Al Ahli Bank.

Compliance

The Bank's Compliance division is responsible for implementing local regulatory and statutory requirements and assisting the Board of Directors, Audit, Compliance and Risk Committee and the Bank's senior management team in managing and controlling the Bank's compliance risk. The Compliance division is autonomous and reports directly to the Audit, Compliance and Risk Committee and the Board of Directors.

Compliance risk is the risk of legal or regulatory sanctions, material financial loss or loss to the Bank's reputation which it may suffer as a result of its failure to comply with laws and regulations applicable to its banking activities in jurisdictions where the Bank is operating.

The Compliance division also co-ordinates the establishment of corporate governance practices and the implementation of proper disclosure standards. The Anti-Money Laundering function is part of the Compliance division; however, it operates as an independent unit within the division.

The Compliance department works independently from the other divisions within the Bank, and it reports regularly to the Audit, Compliance and Risk Committee, as well as the Board.

The Bank has an Anti-Bribery and Corruption policy, which includes a requirement that members of the Bank conduct due diligence on any business partners they retain and to ensure that anti-corruption representations and warranties are included in contracts with relevant business partners, restrictions on gifts and hospitality provided to government officials and a prohibition on facilitation payments.

The Bank has individuals who are responsible for ensuring the implementation and compliance with the Anti-Bribery and Corruption policy and the Bank's employees are regularly provided with anti-bribery and corruption compliance training. Additionally, the Bank has procedures in place to monitor and audit implementation of and compliance with the Anti-Bribery and Corruption policy; there is an internal audit review of the Anti-Bribery and Corruption policy and periodic enterprise-wide risk assessments.

In a global market, the attempt to use financial institutions to launder money and for terrorist financing is a significant problem that has caused significant concern in the international community thus resulting in stricter laws and increased penalties for money laundering. As such, the Bank is focusing on core compliance functions and 'know your customer' (KYC) and anti-money laundering policies and procedures. The Bank has subsequently prepared a comprehensive Anti-Money Laundering and Combatting Terrorism Financing policy and procedures which have been implemented in the Bank's business, including the implementation of Qatar's Law No. 20 of 2019 on Combatting Money Laundering and Terrorism Financing and instructions issued by QCB.

The Anti-Money Laundering and Combatting Terrorism Financing policy provides minimum standards to which the Bank adheres. Where the requirements of applicable money laundering laws establish a higher standard, the Bank will adhere to those laws.

However, under all circumstances, the Bank will conduct its business in compliance with the following general principles:

- protecting the Bank from money laundering and terrorism financing
- maintaining a written AML/CFT policy and procedures which is approved by Board of Directors, a system of internal controls to ensure ongoing AML compliance by a designated person(s) and taking appropriate action, once suspicious activity is detected, and ensuring a proper and thorough process for filing Suspicious Transaction Report is followed as per the requirements of the QCB and applicable local and international laws

- not conducting business with Shell Banks, nor offering services in relation to opening anonymous accounts and payable through accounts.
- full co-operation with law enforcement and regulatory agencies to the extent that it can do so under all applicable foreign and domestic laws.
- training staff on all current KYC and AML/CFT policies, and new AML laws and regulations, as per plans and maintaining records of training sessions including attendance records and relevant training materials used. The Bank's Training and Career Development department provides an on-going training programme for appropriate staff with emphasis on anti-money laundering and combatting terrorist financing.
- maintaining and updating a list of suspected individuals and organisations as circulated by the QCB.
- conducting risk-based assessment of the Bank's customers.
- conducting enhanced due diligence for high-risk customers.
- obtaining all account opening documentation requirements as per laws.
- in accordance with QCB instructions, not holding prohibited accounts.

- obtaining all necessary documentation while conducting transaction for third party customers.
- no dealings in virtual or crypto currencies.
- conducting a Comprehensive Screening Process that includes real time online screening, database/offline screening for the entire portfolio at regular intervals and screening for remittances/trade transactions against official blacklisted individuals/entities; and
- implementation and maintenance by the AML/CFT Unit of an AML/CFT system that generates alerts which are reviewed by designated persons in each jurisdiction in order to track and control possible cases of money laundering or terrorist financing.
- full compliance with FATCA and OECD Common Reporting Standards (CRS) applicable regulations in each jurisdiction in which the Bank has operations.

In addition, as at the date of this Base Prospectus, the Group reports to the QSE's Arab Sustainability Dashboard, and in accordance with the Bank's Sustainability Report 2021 the Bank is benchmarked to the GRI Universal Standards Framework. The Bank also communicates its progress to the United Nations Global Compact. Furthermore, the Bank has committed to reducing its carbon footprint in line with the Qatar National Vision 2030, and the Bank has approved the establishment of an ESG Bond Committee to champion an issue of green bonds under this Programme.

Legal Proceedings

As at the date of this Base Prospectus, the Bank has and is currently participating (as both plaintiff and defendant) in a number of domestic and international legal proceedings incidental to its operations. While any litigation has an element of uncertainty, the Bank does not expect that the outcome of any such proceeding, either individually or in the aggregate, will have a material adverse effect upon the Bank's financial condition or results of operations. The Bank has made what it believes to be appropriate provisions in its accounts in the event that the Bank is unsuccessful in any legal proceedings.

RISK MANAGEMENT

Risk Management

Risk is inherent in the Bank's activities but the Bank's risk management policies and procedures are designed to identify and analyse these risks, prescribe appropriate risk limitations and monitor the level and incidence of such risks on an ongoing basis. The Bank is exposed to credit risk, liquidity risk, operational risk and market risk, which includes trading and non-trading risks as well as strategic risk, reputation risk and legal risk. As at the date of this Base Prospectus, the most recent external review of the Bank's internal risk management processes occurred within the last year and was conducted by Ernst & Young.

The risk management function at the Bank has evolved into an independent enterprise-wide risk management framework. The risk management function continually monitors the operations and processes across the organisation in order to identify, assess, measure, manage and report upon risks or threats that could impact the Bank. The strategy is based on a clear understanding of the various risks the Bank faces and provides for disciplined risk-assessment and risk-measurement along with continuous monitoring and effective control of those risks. This is achieved by the Bank having systems in place which monitor the Bank's overall risk position and the various limits which apply to the operations of the Bank. The Bank has a low appetite for risk and therefore limits are set low. If there is a limit violation, then this is escalated and rectified as and when it occurs.

The Board and the executive management team are ultimately responsible for the overall risk assumed by the Bank. They seek to balance the risk profile against sustainable returns so as to achieve the business goals of the Bank. Risk management is also overseen by various Board and management committees.

It is the role of the Internal Audit Division to provide independent appraisal of all activities of the Bank to add value and improve operational efficiency, risk management and internal control systems. It has an Audit Charter approved by the Board which defines its purpose, authority responsibility and position within the Bank.

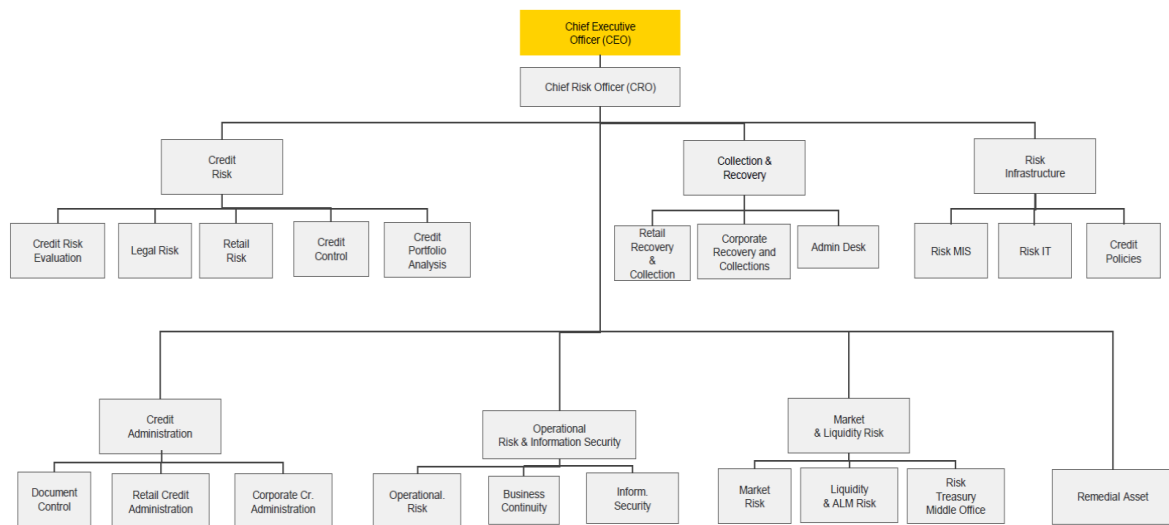

The Internal Audit Division reports to the Audit Committee of the Board to ensure its independence and objectivity in all aspects of audit work activities hence ensuring the integrity of the Bank's control systems.

The Bank's risk management function has been continually monitored and improved and such monitoring and improvement will continue. Following the engagement of various professionals, including PricewaterhouseCoopers in 2004, Deutsche Bank Advisory (DBA) in 2007, Deloitte and Ernst & Young in 2015, the Bank's risk management protocol has been extensively examined and built upon as the recommendations of those independent consultants and internal and external QCB auditors have been implemented and practised across the Bank, both domestically and internationally. The Bank believes that its risk management function has evolved into a highly competent team and that it will continue to evolve to serve the growing needs of the Bank's expansion.

The Bank's risk management strategy encompasses the following aspects:

- the Bank's plan to grant credit based on various client segments and products, economic sectors, geographical location, currency and maturity;
- the business cycle stage in which the Bank and its branches operate;
- the nature of the Bank's business franchise and relevant target market within each credit market segment; and
- level of diversification/concentration.

The following diagram sets out the structure of the Risk Management Group and the various Risk Committees in the Bank:

Risk Committees

The Bank is governed by the Board which implements its risk management policies in coordination with the CEO and the executive management team. Risk management is implemented through two levels of risk committees: the board committee and the management committees.

The board committee entrusted with risk management responsibilities is the Audit, Compliance and Risk Committee. This committee is responsible for reviewing financial statements, internal audit, compliance, external audit and risk management issues.

In addition to the board committee, the following six management committees operate in relation to risk management:

- the Executive Management Committee, which approves credit and investment decisions of the Management Credit Committee that consists of a Managing Director, Vice Chairman and Chairman;
- the Management Credit Committee, whose role is to approve credit-related matters and recommend any matters that exceed its authority to the Board, as well as provide oversight on the Bank's credit activities and credit portfolio. In addition, the Committee works to ensure an appropriate credit risk management framework is in place to identify, measure, monitor and report credit risks inherent in the lending activities of the Bank. The Committee is constantly supplied with key ratios and risk measures to inform systemic, unsystematic and idiosyncratic risks which may be present on Bank's balance sheet;
- the Asset and Liability Committee ("ALCO"), which is a decision-making body for developing policies relating to all asset and liability management matters;
- the Risk Management Committee, which develops and reviews the Bank's risk management framework, including defining the risk appetite according to the Bank's strategy and macro-economic factors for the Bank, and recommends such framework to the Board. Other responsibilities include developing risk limits for lending, investments and treasury portfolio and providing strategic direction during a crisis situation;
- the Risk Management Committee, which is responsible for establishing a governance structure for the oversight of identification, monitoring, assessment, quantification and mitigation processes of severe operational risks across the Bank; and
- the Retail Credit Committee, which oversees the implementation of an effective retail credit framework and proposes appropriate strategies to optimise the growth of the Bank's retail credit portfolio for the Management and Board's approval. The Committee regularly monitors and maintains a strong retail portfolio and oversees the Group's compliance obligations and reputational impact on the portfolio.

In order to strengthen the Bank's enterprise-wide risk management policies and procedures and conform to industry best practices, the Board engaged Ernst and Young in 2015 to assess thoroughly the risk management regime in the Bank to identify any gaps and to make recommendations to the Board. Ernst and Young reviewed the risk management framework of the Bank and subsequently provided detailed recommendations to change the organisational structure of the risk management function and also identified gaps in the delegation of authorities. The recommendations of Ernst and Young have been implemented by realigning the Bank's policy and procedural manuals.

The Bank's aim in implementing risk governance is to align policy with international best practices which mandate that banks should have in place comprehensive risk management processes (including appropriate board and senior management oversight) to identify, measure, monitor and control their overall risk profile. Risk governance practices include reviewing and approving products and services, and employing risk measurement methodologies and control procedures. The Bank's risk management function has been significantly expanded, with multiple units each exclusively addressing different elements of the risk management process.

Credit Risk

Credit risk refers to risk arising from the potential that an obligor is either unwilling to honour its obligations or has become unable to meet such obligations, thereby leading to economic loss for the Bank, or the possibility of losses associated with diminution in the credit quality of borrowers or counterparties and/or in the value of the collateral held by the Bank as security. Identification, measurement and management of credit risk constitute strategic priorities for the Bank and its credit risk is managed by a thorough and well-structured credit assessment process conducted by a team of qualified analysts, and complemented with appropriate collateral wherever necessary, together with continuous monitoring of the advances at account and portfolio levels. Although overall responsibility for managing the risks at macro level lies with the Board, responsibility for identifying risk in the Bank's credit exposure is entrusted to the Management Credit Committee.

The Bank has the following five levels of credit approving authority:

Levels of Authority Composition

I	Up to 1% of Tier 1 Capital	Management Credit Committee comprising relevant divisions and group heads, the Chief Wholesale Banking Officer, the Chief Risk Officer and the CEO
II	Above 1 up to 3% of Tier 1 Capital	Management Credit Committee and the Managing Director
III	Above 3 up to 4% of Tier 1 Capital	Management Credit Committee , Managing Director and the Chairman
IV	Above 4 up to 10% of Tier 1 Capital	Management Credit Committee + Executive Committee of the Board
V	Above 10% of Tier 1 Capital	Management Credit Committee + Board of Directors

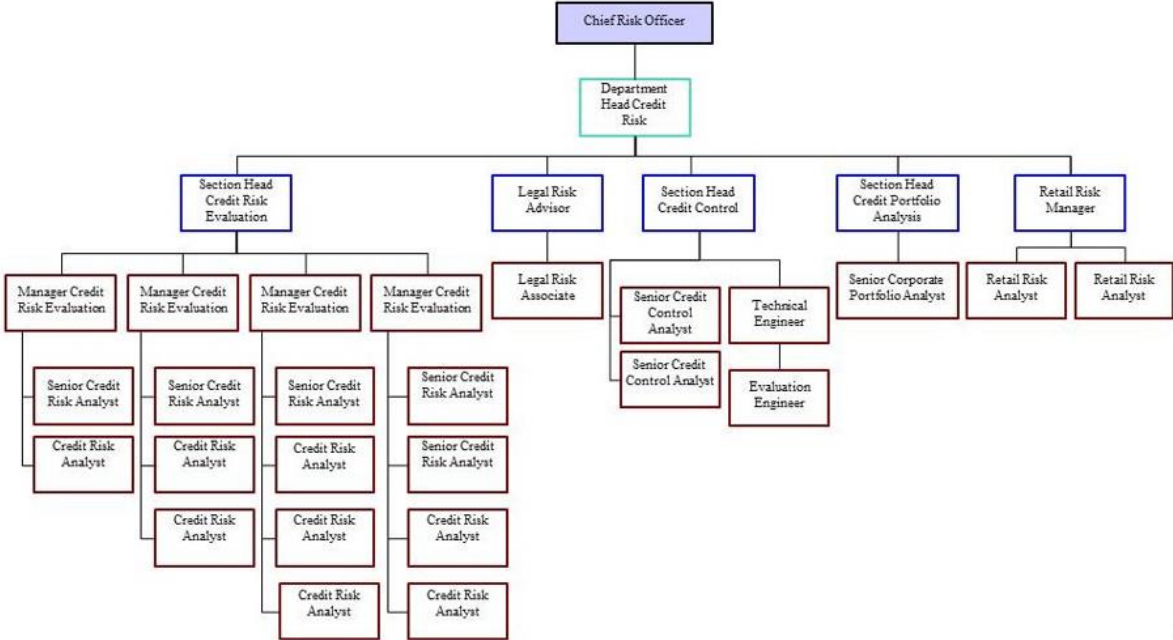

The Bank has historically implemented an internal credit rating system for its corporate customers known as the CRISIL system. The CRISIL system was subsequently replaced with Moody's Risk Analyst in 2018. The Bank has further initiated a process for upgrading the Moody's Risk Analyst system with advanced features for rating workflow and approval processes with all necessary portfolio reports for analysis. This updated version is called Moody's CreditLens. The Bank also appointed one of the big four consulting firms to review the Bank's existing lending policies and practices, and their recommendations have since been incorporated into the Bank's lending policies and procedures. The Bank assesses its retail customers using comprehensive criteria employing factors such as income, age, organisation, current indebtedness and the Credit Information Bureau's report.

The Bank's procedures for approval of loans or credit differ depending on the category of the customer and the business lines.

The Bank's relationship manager presents Wholesale Banking Group's credit applications to the approving authorities/Credit Committee, along with the requisite information and analysis supporting the relationship manager's recommendation. Each credit application is then subject to analysis by a qualified credit risk analyst. The credit risk analyst's assessment will be based on an evaluation of externally and internally compiled data on the applicant and analysis of relevant risks, covering financial, business, structural and management risks to ascertain the proposed borrower's repayment capability and cash flow. The application is also analysed in terms of the intended transaction amount, tenor, security and any relevant delinquency records. The credit risk analyst is required to comment on whether the credit risk is acceptable and consistent with the Bank's overall policy guidelines and QCB regulations, and where necessary the credit risk analyst will stipulate terms and conditions with a view to mitigating the underlying risks.

A sizeable part of the Bank's corporate credit exposure is collateralised. The collateral includes shares in listed companies (other than shares in the Bank), mortgages of land and property, bank guarantees, counter-indemnities and assignments of contractual payments and receivables. While real estate security is professionally and independently valued once every three years, listed shares are valued on a monthly basis.

The Credit Risk Management structure is set out in the diagram below. Credit Risk Management reports to the Chief Risk Officer Group.

With a view to strengthening the post-disbursement monitoring activities, a new department called Credit Control has been established under Credit Risk, to identify the early warning signs and follow up with business units for the resolution of irregularities. Moreover, the Bank has also set up a "Credit Portfolio Analysis" function reporting to the Head of Credit to continuously review the concentrations, composition and health of the Credit Portfolio to compile reports for the management. The Bank's internal policy is to reduce contracting sector exposure to below 15 per cent. and to maintain a well-diversified portfolio in trading, real estate, contracting, service and oil and gas. The Bank's management is targeting to increase exposure for the public sector in the medium term.

As per the new organisation chart, Recovery and Collection has been separated from Credit Risk and placed under direct oversight by the Chief Risk Officer. The Remedial Asset function has been introduced for debt restructuring and rehabilitation.

The risk division is also responsible for identifying non-performing loans ("NPLs"), as well as assigning a category to such loans and ensuring proper provision in respect of them. Once identified as a critical NPL, a loan will be transferred to either Remedial or Recovery units in the Risk Management Group for further management of the loan.

The QCB provides guidelines for classifying credit exposure in the following categories.

Type	Number of Days Past Dues	Delinquent Provision
Standard	Normal Accounts	–
Special Mention	< 90	As per management discretion
Substandard	90-180	20%
Doubtful	180-270	50%
Loss	Above 270	100%

In addition to the above, the exposure can be classified based on qualitative factors. The Bank has introduced an additional category for delinquent exposures that operates in advance of the timings dictated by the QCB guidelines for credit exposures. This additional category draws attention to accounts which exhibit potential weaknesses and require pre-emptive action. An account which is identified in this category is placed on a “watch list” so that it should be closely monitored and reviewed by the relevant Relationship Manager and Head of Business Unit.

Although the QCB provides a provision range for delinquent accounts in different categories, the Bank creates adequate provisions in any exposure under the above-mentioned delinquent categories. The Bank is also required to maintain a 2.5 per cent. risk reserve annually on the total loans and advances portfolio in addition to any specific provision for any exposure. Post adoption of IFRS9, the Bank is rebuilding those reserves. In addition to the regulatory requirements, the Bank has its own internal policy in relation to provisioning in line with the international financial reporting standards. IFRS9 was implemented in the banking sector in Qatar and the Bank engaged KPMG to carry out gap analysis and assist in formulating a comprehensive framework to calculate the expected credit losses as a result of the IFRS9 implementation. During 2020, the Bank revisited and updated these processes to take account of market dynamics.

The Bank’s loan portfolio demonstrates reasonably stable strong asset quality, however, with the growth in loan book, its NPL ratios have also increased both in absolute terms and as a percentage of the loan book, with gross NPLs to gross loans of 5.95 per cent. as at 30 September 2022, 5.83 per cent. as at 31 December 2021, 5.98 per cent. as at 31 December 2020 and 5.81 per cent. as at 31 December 2019. This increase in NPL post 2018 was mainly due to the fact that the Bank has suffered on account of the contracting sector exposures mainly attributable to exposures from GCC branches. The Bank has written off fully provided NPLs amounting to QAR 400 million for the nine month period ended 30 September 2022, QAR 2,244 million during the year ended 31 December 2021, QAR 3,978 million during the year ended 31 December 2020 and QAR 1,680 million during the year ended 31 December 2019. The Bank’s loan loss reserves as a percentage of gross NPLs as at 30 September 2022, 31 December 2021, 31 December 2020 and 31 December 2019 were 63.68 per cent., 77.48 per cent., 81.36 per cent. and 124.44 per cent., respectively.

The Bank’s policies and practices in relation to NPLs are based on indicators or criteria that, in the judgement of local management, indicate that payment will most likely continue. These policies are kept under continuous review. Any customer accounts which are restructured by the Bank owing to credit reasons in the past 12 months will be classified under stage 2 under IFRS9. The Bank ensures all steps are taken to then proactively manage its stage 2 exposures.

The Bank’s NPL levels have been particularly impacted by increased levels of NPLs in the Bank’s GCC branches as a result of the Qatar Blockade. In addition, the Bank has also experienced a higher incidence of NPLs in its Contracting Sector exposure in Qatar, as well as an increase in stage 2 assets from the Contracting Sector as well as the Real Estate Sector in Qatar. Therefore, the Bank’s ongoing lending strategy has been consciously tempered to ensure no further increase and prudent rationalisation of exposure to these geographies and sectors.

The Bank is committed to follow prudential regulations for provisioning against non-performing portfolio and maintaining its NPL ratio and provisioning at a stable rate through recoveries and write-offs and as at the date of this Base Prospectus, the Bank expects that its NPL ratio, proportion of Stage 2 assets, provisioning, incremental provisioning and write-off amounts will remain stable.

With the exception of real estate lending, which is highly collateralised and operates under a conservative regulatory environment with well-defined lending limits the Bank's loan portfolio is diversified across economic sectors with no concentration in any one sector beyond 20.00 per cent, of total loans and advances to customers. As at 30 September 2022, 14.40 per cent. of the Bank's gross loans and advances to customers were made to individuals, an increase of 2.08 per cent. from 12.32 per cent. as at 31 December 2021, an increase of 0.91 per cent. from 11.41 per cent. as at 31 December 2020 and a decrease of 0.51 per cent. from 11.92 per cent. as at 31 December 2019. The majority of loans to individuals are to Qatar nationals, most of which are granted against salary assignments. Given the high GDP per capita of Qatar, the Bank believes that its total exposure carries a low risk of default.

The early detection of accounts which demonstrate the potential to become NPLs is central to remedial management at the Bank. Risk Management decides whether to include an account in the watch list based on predefined early warning sign criteria. Factors considered would include, for example, circumstances in which an account is overdrawn and has been inactive for three months, or where a loan is three or more instalments in arrears or any other qualitative factors.

The Bank has a specialised Debt Recovery Unit which deals with severely impaired accounts and works closely with Wholesale Banking and SME Units.

After all possible means of recovery are exhausted, the accounts are transferred to the legal department so that legal proceedings may be instituted in order to recover funds through litigation. Provisions in each case are made based on: (i) the prevailing circumstances; (ii) the value of available security; and (iii) the prospect of full or partial recovery. In the case of retail accounts, collection efforts are based on clearly defined and strict collection criteria and processes until the account is passed over to the legal department for action.

The Bank aims to ensure that any sign of deterioration in asset quality is promptly recognised and rehabilitation of the account is initiated by carrying out regular discussions with the Bank's Senior Debt Restructuring Committee. In addition, Critical Assets, Debt Restructuring and Senior Debt Restructuring Committees have been established to follow up on a weekly basis in relation to critical accounts and problematic cases. Additionally, the Bank established a Remedial and Special Asset Department in which robust restructuring efforts involve close coordination between internal committees and client callings by senior level risk, business and remedial staff.

For corporate and commercial accounts, the relationship manager has direct responsibility for monitoring the condition of each of the customers within his portfolio and it is therefore primarily the relevant relationship manager's responsibility to identify any sign of deterioration and initiate remedial action. However, if the Bank's management deems it necessary taking into consideration various risk factors (including but not limited to repeated past dues, and restructuring), the account is taken over by the Remedial and Special Assets Unit of Risk Management. In addition, various reports covering daily excess positions, dormancy and loan instalment delinquency are circulated by the Credit Control Unit of Risk Management throughout the Bank to the different business divisions and these are examined as appropriate on a daily, weekly or monthly basis by the Bank's relationship managers. The Bank has enhanced these remedial efforts by establishing a Senior Debt Restructuring Committee, which proactively monitors any potential deterioration in accounts and provides a quick response function for all turn-around and restructuring cases. Reports from Risk Management detailing new NPLs, rescheduling, write offs, upgrades and provisioning are prepared on a monthly basis and distributed to the Credit Committee, along with the Managing Director and the Chairman for their review.

The QCB imposes certain credit concentration limits on regulated banks in Qatar, and the Bank follows the QCB's credit concentration policy. The credit concentration limits imposed by the QCB are set out below.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that an institution will be unable to meet its net funding requirements. Liquidity risk can be caused by market disruptions or credit downgrades, which may cause certain sources of funding to cease immediately. Ultimate responsibility for liquidity risk management rests with the Board, which the Bank believes has built an appropriate liquidity risk management framework for the management of the Bank's short-, medium- and long-term funding and liquidity management requirements. To mitigate the liquidity risk, the Bank has diversified funding sources and assets are managed with liquidity in mind in order to try to maintain a healthy balance of cash, cash equivalents and readily marketable securities.

The Bank's liquidity risk is managed through an approved liquidity management policy which, among other things, requires the Bank to maintain a stock of liquid assets to manage unforeseen circumstances and contains a liquidity crises contingency plan which the Bank may have to resort to in a liquidity crisis situation. The measures as listed in the policy are aimed at ensuring that the Bank is able to respond to a liquidity crisis in a short period of time without the need to call on the QCB for assistance. The plan provides a framework within which any liquidity crisis can be managed most effectively and efficiently and is reviewed on an annual basis.

The plan focuses on identifying the trigger events that could cause a liquidity crisis, the actions to be taken to manage any crisis that might occur, and a clear division of responsibility of personnel when faced with any such situation.

The Treasury and Investments Group of the Bank manages the Bank's liquidity on a daily basis, including seeking to maintain a Liquidity Coverage Ratio ("LCR") of 100 per cent. and a Liquidity Ratio ("LR") of 100 per cent. in accordance with QCB guidelines.

The LCR computed as per Basel III guidelines adopted by the QCB was 162.37 per cent. as at 30 September 2022, 166.93 per cent. as at 31 December 2021, 99.61 per cent. as at 31 December 2020 and 134.63 per cent. as at 31 December 2019.

The LR computed as per the QCB guidelines was 143.62 per cent. as at 30 September 2022, 132.66 per cent. as at 31 December 2021, 122.68 per cent. as at 31 December 2020 and 126.94 per cent. as at 31 December 2019.

The ALCO sets the broad framework for the Treasury and Investments Group in seeking to ensure that the Bank is always in a position to meet its financial commitments. An ALCO meeting is held on a weekly basis to handle, consider and address any issues relating to maturity mismatches, interest rate risk/sensitivity and yield/cost analysis.

Diversifying the depositor base, reducing dependence on large depositors and maintaining a suitable mix of deposits, including low-cost deposits, are some of the measures that the Bank has taken to maintain a stable deposit base. The Bank also maintains a stock of high-quality liquid and marketable securities, which could be realised at short notice to raise cash, if required. The Bank consistently maintains an adequate liquidity ratio and regularly monitors its deposits to ensure the retention of a diversified deposit base in order to minimise concentration risk. The Bank also has arrangements in place with several international banks to raise funds at short notice, if required. The Bank has approval to issue euro medium term notes under this issuance programme to provide greater stability to its funding base. The asset and liability maturity mismatches will be further reduced by entering into bilateral and syndicated borrowing agreements.

The Bank's liquidity position is subjected to different stress scenarios in order to evaluate the impact of unlikely but plausible events on liquidity. Scenarios are based on both historical and hypothetical events. The results obtained from stress testing provide meaningful input when defining target liquidity risk positions. The scenarios of the stress testing include:

- the Bank's short-term liquidity, which is composed of very liquid, tradable or saleable assets, is more than 25.00 per cent. of its total time and on-demand liabilities, including interbank borrowings; and
- the liquidity reserve of highly liquid assets is over 28.00 per cent. even if all interbank and QCB placements are removed from numerator and interbank borrowings from denominator. The Bank seeks to ensure that its liquidity reserve is a minimum of 15.00 per cent. of its total time and demand liabilities.

The Bank's major source of funding is through its customer deposits. As at 30 September 2022, the Bank's customer deposits were 52.13 per cent. of the total balance sheet size, an increase of 2.29 per cent. from 49.81 per cent. as at 31 December 2021, which in turn was a decrease of 3.36 per cent. from 53.17 per cent. as at 31 December 2020, which in turn was a decrease of 0.86 per cent. from 54.03 per cent. as at 31 December 2019. The Bank's deposit base was 52.13 per cent., 49.81 per cent., 53.17 per cent. and 54.03 per cent. of the total balance sheet size as at 30 September 2022, 31 December 2021, 31 December 2020 and 31 December 2019, respectively. Customer deposits from both individuals and corporates remained the main source of funding as at 30 September 2022 and 31 December 2021, representing 31.48 per cent. and 33.90 per cent. of the Bank's total balance sheet size compared with 32.61 per cent. as at 31 December 2020.

The Bank is actively targeting new sectors for raising deposits. The government and quasi-government sectors are expected to continue to play an important role in the Bank's deposit base going forward.

The Bank also participates in the interbank deposit market and as at 30 September 2022, borrowings from banks excluding repo borrowings and balances due to central bank amounted to QAR 9,524 million (U.S.$2,615 million), a decrease of 22.16 per cent. from QAR 17,302 million (U.S.$4,751 million) as at 31 December 2021, and an increase of 88.62 per cent. from QAR 9,173 million (U.S.$2,519 million) as at 31 December 2020, and a decrease of 35.13 per cent. from QAR 14,141 million (U.S.$3,883 million) as at 31 December 2019. The increase in such borrowings reflects the systemic liquidity position in the banking system in Qatar and the Bank's role as a participant in the interbank market.

As at the date of this Base Prospectus, Doha Finance has issued the following debt instruments which are currently outstanding:

Date	Coupon	Outstanding amount	Currency	Maturity	Ranking	Coupon Frequency	Basis

In addition, the Government acquired a portion of the Bank's loans and advances portfolio including real estate, amounting to QAR 1,664.32 million in 2009 in consideration for cash and State of Qatar bonds and the Government also purchased the Bank's entire portfolio of QE listed securities in 2009 (save for certain strategic holdings), which had a net book value of QAR 536.64 million.

The QCB also issues QMRs, which are monetary instruments through which local member banks are allowed to deposit funds with, and borrow funds from, the QCB. The Bank has access to overnight funding of up to QAR 536.00 million through the QMR facility.

As at 30 September 2022, the Bank held State of Qatar bonds in the amount of QAR 17,498 million (U.S.$4,805 million) of which QAR 8,647 million (U.S.$2,374 million) are denominated in U.S. dollars. The Bank may enter into repurchase transactions with the QCB in respect of the State of Qatar bonds it holds, and may also enter into repurchase transactions in the open market with respect to the U.S. dollar-denominated State of Qatar bonds. As at 30 September 2022, the Group has pledged State of Qatar Bonds amounting to QAR 5,234 million (U.S.$1,437 million) against repurchase agreements, as compared to QAR 3,688 million (U.S.$1,013 million) as at 30 September 2021 and QAR 3,582 million (U.S.$984 million) as at 31 December 2021.

The tables below set out the maturity profile of the Bank's assets and liabilities as at 30 September 2022, 31 December 2021, 31 December 2020 and 31 December 2019. The contractual maturities of the assets and liabilities have been determined on the basis of the remaining period at the balance sheet date to the contractual maturity date. They do not take into account the effective maturities as indicated by the Bank's deposit retention history and the availability of liquid funds. Management, through ALCO's weekly meetings, monitors the maturity profile to ensure that adequate liquidity is maintained.

Market Risk

Market risk is the risk of loss arising from unexpected changes in financial prices, for instance, as a result of fluctuations in interest rates and/or exchange rates and/or in bond, equity and commodity prices. The Financial Risk division of the Risk Management Group manages market risk at the Bank and operates independently of all other Bank groups. The division is responsible for limit measuring and the monitoring of existing exposures and for reviewing all new proposals being submitted to the Investment Committee (a committee constituted by the Board to review the Bank's investment portfolio) for approval. The Bank's market risk is governed by a financial risk management policy and hedging policy. The policies define various limits which the Bank should maintain for its investment portfolio. The Bank's entire portfolio of financial investments is marked to market daily.

The Investment Committee has primary responsibility for the formulation of the overall strategy and oversight of the market risk undertaken by the Bank. The Market and Liquidity Risk Management department is responsible for the development of detailed market risk management policies (subject to review and approval by the Investment Committee) and for the day-to-day review and monitoring.

The Group has adopted a detailed policy framework drafted in accordance with QCB guidelines and the Bank's risk management framework for governing investments portfolio. The governance structure includes policies such as a Treasury and Investment manual, Financial Risk policy and Hedging policy. These policies define the limit structure along with the risk appetite under which the investment activities are undertaken. The limits structure focuses on total investment limits pursuant to QCB guidelines along with various sub limits such as position and stop loss limits for trading activities. The policies also define various structured sensitivity limits such as VaR and duration for different asset classes within the investment portfolio. The performance of the portfolio against these limits is updated regularly to senior management including ALCO and the Investment Committee.

Foreign Exchange Risk

Foreign currency risk is the risk of the loss that results from changes in foreign exchange rates. The major foreign currency to which the Bank is exposed is the U.S. dollar. The fixed exchange rate between the U.S. dollar and Qatari riyal substantially reduces this risk, which will only change if the fixed exchange rate between the two currencies is revised. At the present time, the Bank is not aware of any proposed change to the fixed exchange rate in the future.

To measure, monitor and control currency exposures the Bank undertakes the following process:

- intraday and overnight limits have been set up together with stop loss limits on all currency proprietary trading;
- net open positions have been defined for each currency and a currency exposure and limits control report is prepared on a daily basis;
- a stress test is prepared on a weekly basis to find out the impact of various scenario analyses on profitability including scenario analyses on revaluation/devaluation of the Qatari riyal against different currencies; and
- a currency gap analysis, including forward purchases and sales, is produced on a monthly basis.

The QCB has set prudent norms, which are followed by the Bank, for the net open position to restrict banks from taking undue currency risks.

In particular, since March 2017, the QCB has required banks in Qatar to report all outstandings in foreign currency and to adhere to a new limit called "The Net Open Currency Limit". This limit seeks to restrict banks from holding excess levels of foreign currency and thus limit the refinancing risk of Qatari banks. As at the date of this Base Prospectus, the Bank currently has a net open position ("NOP") in U.S. dollars which exceeds the regulatory limit set by the QCB. The Bank seeks to manage any risks associated with this NOP by having a well-diversified funding base in terms of products, markets and tenures.

The tables below set out the Bank's currency exposure, as at 30 September 2022, 31 December 2021, 31 December 2020 and 31 December 2019.

Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate risk arises due to the probability of changes in interest rates, which may affect the value of financial instruments held by the Bank, or the Bank's future profitability.

The ALCO manages the interest rate risk of the Bank. The Bank seeks to manage interest rate risk so that movements in interest rates do not adversely affect net interest income. The Bank manages its interest rate risk by matching the repricing of assets and liabilities through various means and by monitoring gap limits.

Foreign currency loans are linked to reference rates and repriced regularly to reduce the inherent interest rate risk. The Bank typically manages the interest rate risk of its non-trading financial instruments by segmenting these assets and liabilities. The risk measures used by the Bank include daily monitoring of limits by the Risk Management Group, maturity profile analysis, duration gap management, earning sensitivity scenarios and interest rate scenarios. Risk is further mitigated through the repricing of assets and liabilities.

The Bank has taken steps to ensure that the interest rate risk on its banking book is identified, measured, monitored and managed as per the guidelines from the QCB and in accordance with the Basel III framework, and that sufficient capital is allocated to cover this risk.

The Bank's bond portfolio is analysed daily, and its interest rate risk is based on desired portfolio modified duration as considered appropriate by the Bank's Investment Committee. The Bank keeps its portfolio duration within its risk appetite. The risk department analyses each investment proposal separately, and potential market risks are identified and mitigated before placing the proposal for Investment Committee review and approval.

The Bank's hedging policy sets the framework to be followed for hedging interest rate risk and regularly reports the hedge ratio to the Investment Committee which monitors hedge adequacy and keeps the Fair Value of the portfolio within agreed limits.

The Bank's Market and Liquidity Risk unit regularly evaluates the Earnings at Risk (EAR) and Economic Value of Equity (EVE) and reports these to the ALCO, particularly during interest rate movements by US and local regulators, and adjust the pricing of the Bank's Assets and Liabilities as considered appropriate. Since most of the Bank's financial assets, such as loans and advances, contain an option to re-price, the majority of the Bank's interest rate risk is naturally hedged via simultaneous re-pricing of deposits and loans.

The Bank's interest sensitivity position of assets, liabilities and off balance sheet items as at 30 September 2022, 31 December 2021, 31 December 2020 and 31 December 2019 based on the earlier contract repricing or maturity is as follows:

Legal and Operational Risk

Legal risk is the risk of losses occurring due to legal or regulatory action that invalidates or otherwise precludes performance by the Bank or its counterparty under the terms of its contractual agreements. The Bank seeks to mitigate this risk through the use of properly reviewed standardised documentation and appropriate legal advice in relation to its non-standard documentation.

Operational risk is the risk of loss arising from inadequate or failed internal processes, people and systems, or from external events. The Bank has detailed policies and procedures that are regularly updated to ensure that a sound internal control environment exists in the Bank. The Bank continues to invest in risk management and mitigation strategies, such as a robust control infrastructure, business continuity management and through risk transfer mechanisms such as insurance.

The Bank has a well-defined operational risk framework and an independent operational risk function. The Head of Operational Risk is a member of the Audit, Compliance and Risk Management Committee and reports to the Head of Risk Management.

In addition, the Internal Audit department carries out independent assessment of the actual functioning of the overall risk management framework periodically, normally once per year.

The Bank manages operational risk based on an approved framework that complies with the recommendations of the Basel III committee (the Basel Committee's Sound Practices for the Management and Supervision of Operational Risk). The operational risk management framework encompasses appropriate systems/tools, policies and procedures that ensure effective risk identification, measurement, assessment, reporting and monitoring within the Bank.

A number of techniques are applied to manage the operational risk in the Bank effectively:

- Effective staff training, documented processes/procedures with appropriate controls to safeguard assets and records, regular reconciliation of accounts and transactions, close monitoring of limits, new products introduction process, outsourcing activities reviews, information system security, segregation of duties and financial management, and reporting.

- A standard process maintained for recognition, capture, assessment, analysis and reporting of risk events. This process is used to help identify where process and control requirements are needed to reduce the recurrence of risk events. Risk events are loaded onto a central database and reported quarterly to the Board.
- Bottom-up self-assessment has been introduced, resulting in a specific operational risk profile, for highlighting the areas with high risk. Action points resulting from self-assessments are captured and the progress of the operational risk profile is monitored on an ongoing basis.
- The Bank's BBB insurance policy is one of the risk mitigation approaches adopted against high severity operational losses.

Operational Risk

Operational Risk is the risk of loss arising from inadequate or failed internal processes, people or systems, or from external events. The Group is exposed to many types of operational risk. These include:

- internal and external fraudulent activities;
- inadequate processes, controls or procedures or any breakdowns in them;
- failures in the key systems of the Bank leading to disruption of services;
- an attempt by an external party to make a service or supporting infrastructure unavailable to its intended users;
- the risk of cyber-attacks which destabilise or destroy the Bank's information technology; and
- the risk of business disruption arising from events wholly or partially beyond the control, for example, natural disasters, acts of terrorism or utility failures etc. which may give rise to losses or reductions in service to customers and/or economic loss to the Group.

The operational risks that the Bank is exposed to continue to evolve and the Bank endeavours to rapidly adapt to those changes to avoid the risk of losses.

The prime responsibility for the management of operational risk and compliance with the control requirements rests with the business and functional units where the risk arises. The Bank has a well-defined operational risk framework and an independent operational risk function. It is responsible for establishing and maintaining the Operational Risk Management Framework and monitoring the level of operational losses and the effectiveness of the control environment. The Head of Operational Risk is a member of the Risk Management Committee and reports to the Chief Risk Officer. The Risk Management Committee oversees the implementation of an effective risk management framework that encompasses appropriate systems, practices, policies and procedures to ensure the effectiveness of risk identification, measurement, assessment, reporting and monitoring within the group.

The Bank has detailed policies and procedures and operational risk management tools that are regularly updated to ensure a robust internal control mechanism for the Bank. The Bank closely monitors and reviews the various recommendations issued by the Basel Committee on 'Sound Practices for the Management and Supervision of Operational Risk' for implementation. The Bank continues to invest in risk management and mitigation strategies, such as a robust control infrastructure, business continuity management or through risk transfer mechanisms such as insurance and outsourcing. There have been significant efforts to streamline operational risk management processes, procedures and tools to provide more forward-looking risk insights and strengthen the control culture in the organisation.

During 2017, the Operational Risk Management System (the "ORM System") was implemented to support operational risk identification and assessment, control evaluation, loss management, issue remediation, Key Risk Indicators (KRI) monitoring, and risk reporting activities. The system enabled the Bank to replace the manual and siloed operational risk management processes with a highly automated, efficient and collaborative approach. The ORM System assists in gathering and transforming operational risk data into critical risk intelligence to strengthen decision-making process.

In addition, the Internal Audit department carries out an independent assessment of the actual functioning of the overall Operational Risk Management Framework. Each business segment must implement an operational risk process which is consistent with the requirements of this framework.

The key steps in the management of operational risk are described as follows:

- Effective staff training, documented processes and procedures with appropriate controls to safeguard assets and records, regular reconciliation of accounts and transactions, process of introducing new products, reviews of outsourcing activities, information system security, segregation of duties, financial management and reporting are some of the measures adopted by the Bank to manage the Bank-wide operational risk.
- Investigation and reporting of any risk event (losses, near misses and potential losses), which is used to help identify the root cause and lay down the corrective action plans to reduce the recurrence of risk events. Risk events are analysed to identify the root cause of incidents, reported, mitigated and recorded on a central database and reported quarterly to the Board of Directors; and
- Preparation of a 'Control Risk Self-Assessment' across business and support units, including subsidiaries and overseas branches. The purpose of this assessment is to obtain a detailed understanding of inherent and residual risks through an evaluation of controls across the Bank. The assessment enhances the Bank's ability to make a determination as to the specific operational risk profiles for each of the business units as well as to identify corrective action points. The operational risk profile of each business unit is monitored on an ongoing basis.
- The Bank has implemented a Key Risk Indicators programme to enable proactive monitoring of all the key risks across the Bank's processes. The Bank has identified top Entity Level KRIs which are being monitored and reported to the Risk Management Committee on a periodic basis.

For the purpose of the Control Risk Self-Assessment, the Bank categorises operational risks into the following risk types:

- Origination and Execution Risk
- Fraud Risk
- Business Continuity Risk
- Regulatory Risk
- Information Security Risk
- Vendor Risk
- Financial Reporting and Recording Risk
- Staff Risk
- Transaction Processing Risk

The Bank's blanket insurance policy adequately covers high severity losses and stress losses.

Information Security

Currently, one of the leading risks threatening the Bank is posed by cyber-attacks. The Bank may be a target of cyber-attacks which could jeopardise the sensitive information and financial transactions of the Bank, its clients, counterparties or customers, or cause disruption to systems performing critical functions. This could potentially have two impacts:

- regulatory breaches which could result in fines and penalties; and
- significant reputational damage which could adversely affect customer and investor confidence in the Bank.

The Information Security department is primarily responsible for identifying and assessing such risks and proposing mitigation for significant threats and vulnerabilities associated with the operation and use of information systems and the environments in which those systems operate. The Information Security department drives the Bank's Information Security programme by coordinating with various departments, committees and stakeholders with the objective of achieving the fundamental principles of information security (confidentiality, integrity, and availability of information).

In addition, to mitigate the above risks, the Bank has taken various measures to secure the Bank's IT infrastructure. The key steps taken by the Bank in this direction are as below:

- The Information Security department has established a robust Information Security policy that provides details policies/ guidelines around the implementation of controls for the security of information systems.

- Risk assessments of all IT systems and processes are being carried out on regular basis. Additionally, all acquisitions or changes in procedures and/or systems are subject to review by the Information Security department to ensure that adequate information security control are embedded.
- As mandated by the QCB, the Bank has actively participated in the Cyber Security Maturity Assessment by Third Parties programme and carried out periodic penetration testing and vulnerability assessment for all the Bank's critical assets. In addition, the Bank has completed a full scale implementation of its Security Operations Centre to augment its Information Security monitoring activities. The Bank has realigned the information Security Governance architecture across the board for effective cyber and information risk management and initiated various security improvement programmes within IT infrastructure and process.
- Management and board level committee have been established to review and monitor the information security posture of the Bank. All control weaknesses/ non-compliances/ review observations are tracked and escalated to the committees on regular basis.
- Regular information security training and awareness sessions are carried out for all the Bank's staff. Information security training is part of the induction programme of the Bank where all new staff members are educated about their basic responsibilities with respect to information security. Further, the Information Safety team regularly circulates security guidelines to the staff and customers of the Bank to protect against new threats.
- The Bank has laid out a roadmap to enhance control framework and technology infrastructure to strengthen its ability to prevent, detect and respond to the ever increasing and sophisticated threat of cyber-attacks.
- The Bank has acquired a comprehensive Cyber Security insurance policy
- The Bank is committed to complying with all the regulatory requirements (local and international) pertaining to Information Security as well as the industry standards such as ISO 20000, ISO 27001, and PCI DSS.
- The Bank is in the process of adopting the requirements of the Qatar Privacy Law, which mandates enhanced protection of Personal Identifiable Information ("PII") of all customers and other stakeholders. DB Business Continuity Management

The Bank is committed to ensure that all critical business activities are maintained during disruptive incidents. Business Continuity Management ("BCM") scope is to cover the Bank's critical business units, staff and vendors/partners who are engaged in the Bank's operation, both directly or indirectly.

Frameworks in relation to the Bank's regional Business Continuity Management Policy and Plans ("BCP") have been developed to ensure that key operations will continue to function and customers' accounts will be secure and accessible regardless of the scope of the relevant incident. In the event of a prolonged disruption to our branches or facility premises, the BCP provides an alternate work location, where the Bank will continue to provide the best service possible. All local and international branches and head office premises are provided with alternative work locations (BCP sites) In particular, the Bank uses a modern, tier 3 certified data centre facility as a Disaster Recovery (DR) site to ensure technological continuity within the Bank.

The business continuity and disaster recovery plans cover critical data backup, protection and recovery; protecting people and assets; communication arrangements to contact customers, employees, and regulators; alternate work locations for employees; identification of critical suppliers; and ensuring our customers have prompt access to their accounts if the Bank is unable to continue its operations.

DB Business Continuity Management Readiness:

- All critical business units' readiness is validated via BCM mock drills at our alternative work sites (BCP sites).
- Business critical applications are validated as part of disaster recovery drills.
- The Bank's staff is trained on business continuity and crisis management handling.
- All critical applications source codes are protected via escrow processes outside the country.
- The Emergency Communication tool is available for crisis communications.

Business Interruption insurance has been obtained to protect the Bank's business against catastrophic events.

QATARI BANKING INDUSTRY AND REGULATION

Unless otherwise indicated, information in this section has been derived from publications of the Government, the QCB and the QFC annual report and website.

Qatar Central Bank

The QCB was established in 1993, pursuant to Emiri Decree No. 15 of 1993, and operates in coordination with the Ministry of Finance. The QCB is managed by a board of directors and chaired by its Governor. The Board of Directors includes the Deputy Governor of the QCB and at least five other members, including representatives holding the rank of undersecretary or higher from the Ministry of Finance, the Ministry of Commerce and Industry and the Economic Adviser, from the Emiri Diwan.

In its supervisory capacity, the QCB oversees the activities of Qatar's commercial banks (both conventional and Islamic) and non-bank financial institutions and insurance companies (outside the QFC) with a view to minimising banking and financial risk in Qatar's financial sector. The QCB conducts regular inspections of commercial banks and reviews reports and other mandatory data submitted by commercial banks, including monthly capital adequacy compliance reports.

The QCB has initiated single factor stress testing of the portfolios of commercial banks in Qatar. The testing covers the four broad areas of liquidity risk, credit risk, interest rate risk and equity market risk. The results of these stress tests illustrate the possible impact of adverse financial conditions on a commercial bank's capital adequacy ratio or return on assets. Stress testing of commercial banks, conducted on an aggregate basis by the QCB, suggested that neither the capital adequacy ratio nor the returns on assets of Qatar's domestic banks would be significantly impaired. The IMF noted in their 2015 Article IV Report that the QCB stress tests suggest that non-performing loans for real estate, construction contractors and consumer loans would need to increase to nearly 30 per cent. before the capital ratios of banks in Qatar fell below the regulatory minimum imposed by the QCB.

The QCB has implemented regulations regarding non-performing loans, large exposures, country risk, money market and foreign exchange accounts, credit ratios, fixed assets for banks' use, reserve requirements and banks investments. The QCB has the authority to impose penalties in the event that banks fail to comply with these regulations. The QCB has also established the Qatar Credit Bureau which provides analytical data and supports banks in their implementation of advanced risk management techniques outlined by Basel II.

The QCB has implemented Basel III standards earlier than the required timeline for completion of different aspects of the Basel III framework.

Commercial banks are required to have their annual accounts audited by the QCB's approved independent auditors and to obtain prior approval from the QCB to appoint senior management.

In January 2014, the QCB issued a circular to all commercial banks in Qatar (No. AR/2/2014) with instructions regarding the implementation of Basel III requirements. The QCB minimum recommended capital adequacy requirements under Basel III were increased to 12.5 per cent. (including a capital conservation buffer of 2.5 per cent.). Since 2018, commercial banks in Qatar are required to maintain a minimum liquidity coverage ratio of 100 per cent. The QCB has undertaken extensive groundwork in order to implement its Basel III requirements, including the initiation of a test phase.

The QCB also issues domestic currency and conducts bank clearing operations and settlements. The investment department of the QCB manages the investments of the QCB's financial reserves. These investments are primarily in the form of securities issued or guaranteed by other sovereigns with maturities of up to 10 years and are maintained at a level at least equal to 100 per cent. of the riyals issued by the QCB at any time.

The QCB, in order to ensure better regulation and risk management in the domestic Islamic and conventional banking sector, issued instructions in 2011 to conventional banks to wind up their Islamic banking operations by the end of 2011. The QCB also imposes certain exposure limits and credit controls on commercial banks. Credit facilities in excess of 20 per cent. of any bank's capital and reserves cannot be extended to a single customer's borrower group and credit and investment facilities in excess of 25 per cent. of any commercial bank's capital and reserves cannot be extended to a single customer's borrower group. Credit facilities extended to a single major shareholder's borrower group in any bank cannot exceed 10 per cent. of that bank's capital and reserves.

The QCB sets a maximum limit on loans and Islamic finance against transfer of salaries of QAR2 million for Qatari citizens and QAR 400,000 for non-Qatari residents, with an overall cap on non-Qatari residents of QAR1 million. The QCB provides that the maximum terms on loans and Islamic finance are six years for Qatari citizens and four years for non-Qatari residents. Maximum rates of interest are set at the QCB lending rate (the “QCB Rate”) on top of which 1.5 per cent. per annum is added for Qatari citizens and non-Qatari residents. The QCB also sets caps in relation to the amount of total monthly obligations that an individual can have against salary which is set at 75 per cent. of the sum of basic salary and social allowance for Qatari citizens and 50 per cent. of total salary for non-Qatari residents.

The QCB regulations dictate that the maximum credit card withdrawal limit of an individual in Qatar is double his or her net total salary for both Qatari citizens and the non-Qatari residents. The QCB provides that maximum rates of interest for credit cards are set at 1 per cent. monthly for Qatari citizens and non-Qatari residents. The QCB also provides that the maximum rate of interest arising from credit cards is set at 0.25 per cent. monthly for Qatari citizens and for non-Qatari residents.

The QCB has specific regulations applicable to real estate financing. In cases where an individual’s salary is the main source of repayment, the QCB provides that the maximum limit of total real estate finance available is 70 per cent. of the value of mortgaged properties. In addition, the maximum period permitted for repayment of the real estate finance is 20 years, including any grace period. The QCB regulations dictate that the maximum salary deductions, including instalments and other liabilities, are capped at 75 per cent. of the basic salary and social allowance for Qatari citizens, and capped at 50 per cent. of total salary for non-Qatari residents, provided that the salary and post retirement service dues are transferred to the Bank offering the finance.

The QCB regulations also require that where real estate finance is granted to an individual whose salary is not the main source of repayment, the maximum limit of total finance available to that individual is 60 per cent. of the value of the mortgaged properties and that the maximum repayment period of that real estate finance is 15 years, including any grace period. QCB regulations also provide that these maximum limits may be increased to 70 per cent. and 20 years, respectively, if cash is regularly transferred to the Bank through a formal assignment of claims to cover the full instalment during the repayment period, including rents and other contractual incomes and revenues. The QCB has determined that real estate finance risk should not exceed 150 per cent. of a bank’s capital and reserves.

The main exposure restrictions imposed by QCB are set out below:

Capital adequacy

- the Basel III minimum ratio is 12.5 per cent. (including a capital conservation buffer of 2.5 per cent.);
- for credit and market risk the standardised approach is to be followed;
- for operational risk, the basic indicator approach is to be followed;
- banks are subject to a capital adequacy ratio (“CAR”) imposed by, and calculated in accordance with, regulations of the QCB;
- liquidity coverage ratio of at least 100 per cent. as at 2018;
- net stable funds ratio of at least 100 per cent. since 2018;
- since 1 January 2016, additional capital requirements for DSIBs of 0.5 per cent. and 3.5 per cent of risk weighted assets as deemed necessary by the QCB; and
- discretionary additional “countercyclical buffer” during periods of excessive credit growth that would increase capital adequacy ratio requirements by up to 2.5 per cent.

Credit and concentration

- maximum limit for a single customer may not exceed 20.0 per cent. of a bank’s capital and reserves. Maximum limit for any shareholder who owns 5.0 per cent. or more of a bank’s share capital either directly or through his minor children, spouse or through the companies in which they own 50.0 per cent. or more of the shares may not exceed 10.0 per cent. of the Bank’s capital and reserves. Maximum limit of total of investment and credit concentration to a single customer is 25.0 per cent. of a bank’s capital and reserves;
- total real estate financing may not exceed 150.0 per cent. of a bank’s tier 1 capital; and
- no single customer may borrow more than QAR 8.0 billion (U.S.$2,197.8 billion) in aggregate from Qatar’s commercial banks.

Foreign investment and ownership restrictions

Foreign investment in Qatari banks is not permitted, save with a specific permission from the Council of Ministers. This restriction does not apply to Qatari banks listed on the Qatar Stock Exchange (the “QSE”) although foreign investors are restricted to holding, currently in aggregate, not more than 49.0 per cent. of the shares of any bank so listed. There is a recommendation, that such listed banks be able to increase their foreign ownership limits to 100%. This was announced 14 April 2021 and, as of date of this Base Prospectus, six of the Bank’s Board of Directors have recommended the change and four of them have been approved by the Council of Ministers. Any such change to the Bank is, as at the date of this Base Prospectus, subject to regulatory and shareholder approval.

Required reserve

The QCB requires each commercial bank to maintain a reserve minimum with the QCB of 4.50 per cent. of its total deposits. The percentage is calculated on the basis of the average daily total deposits balances during the period from the 16th of each month to the 12th of the following month. The amount of reserves approved applies at the start of the 15th day of each month. The reserves are non-interest bearing and are in QAR.

Risk reserve

The QCB requires local banks to charge a risk reserve of a minimum of 2.5 per cent. on total credit facilities. The risk reserve is not charged as an income statement expense but as an appropriation account and included under equity holders’ equity as a separate line item.

Interest rates

Prior to 2000, the QCB imposed certain ceilings on the credit and deposit interest rates offered by commercial banks. The QCB removed these restrictions in order to further liberalise the financial sector. However, in April 2011 the QCB introduced a cap on interest rates that can be charged on personal loans of 1.5 per cent. per annum over its benchmark lending rate and 1.0 per cent. per month for credit cards.

The QCB utilises three different interest rates: a lending rate, a deposit rate and a repo rate. The lending rate applies to the lending facility through which commercial banks can obtain liquidity from the QCB. The deposit rate applies to the deposit facility through which commercial banks can place deposits with the QCB. Both of these facilities may be rolled over to the next day, when transactions are executed electronically. The repo rate is a pre-determined interest rate set by the QCB for repo transactions entered into between the QCB and commercial banks.

Prior to July 2007, the QCB tracked the interest rates of the U.S. Federal Reserve as the Qatari riyal is pegged to the U.S. dollar. However, and especially since the global financial crisis, the QCB has not deemed it necessary to change interest rates in tandem with the U.S. Federal Reserve on all occasions in view of domestic macroeconomic conditions, in particular trends in inflation. Although the QCB’s money market rates are largely influenced by the movements in the interest rates of the U.S. Federal Reserve due to the peg on the exchange rate, the QCB acted independently in 2010 and 2011 by changing its policy rate even as the U.S. Federal Reserve continued to keep interest rates unchanged at near-zero levels. The QCB deposit rate which had been kept at 2 per cent. from May 2008 till July 2010 was thereafter reduced by 125 basis points in total in three phases to 0.75 per cent. by August 2011. Since April 2011, the QCB lending rate has been reduced in two phases by 100 basis points in total to 4.5 per cent. and the QCB repo rate has been reduced in two phases by 105 basis points in total to 4.5 per cent. The surplus liquidity conditions in 2010 and 2011 were reflected in the general softening of interbank interest rates across the maturity spectrum.

On 6 May 2012, the QCB and Bloomberg launched the first ever Qatar Interbank Offer Rate (“QIBOR”) fixings, in a move aimed at encouraging a more active interbank market in Qatar.

QIBOR, which uses the contributed offer rates quoted by 9 panel banks, is calculated by Bloomberg and published on the QCB website and Bloomberg Professional service. QIBOR fixings for eight different tenures ranging from overnight to one year are publicly available each business day making market activity transparent to other banks around the world.

The QCB, on behalf of the Government, issues bonds to absorb domestic liquidity and develop a yield curve for riyal-denominated domestic bonds. The funds so generated are transferred by the QCB to the State of Qatar's account and the State of Qatar uses these funds for various Governmental uses and for investment. The QCB also prescribes reserve requirements for commercial banks to be maintained with the QCB in order to control domestic liquidity.

Qatar launched quarterly bond sales in March 2013 to help banks manage liquidity. The QCB has been flexible in its timing and characteristics of the issues depending on market conditions and its policy stance. In addition to the bond auctions, the QCB introduced quarterly auctions of treasury bonds in March 2013 and has conducted monthly auctions of three, six and nine month treasury bills since 2011.

Banking System

Commercial banks

Following the mergers of Masraf Al Rayan and Al Khaliji Bank, and Dukhan Bank and IBQ, the commercial banks in Qatar will consist of four locally owned conventional commercial banks, four Islamic institutions that operate according to Islamic Shari'a principles (including the prohibition on the charging of interest on loans), one development bank, one investment bank and seven foreign banks with established branches in Qatar.

Commercial banks are the primary financial institutions in Qatar, providing deposit taking, credit and investment services, as well as foreign exchange and clearance services. The deposits made in Qatar's commercial banks are not insured as there is no deposit insurance scheme in Qatar.

The average banking sector capital adequacy ratio ("CAR") was 19.2 per cent. in 2021 compared with 18.8 per cent. in 2020 and 18.6 in 2019. At the end of 2021, the average banking sector regulatory tier 1 capital-to-risk-weighted assets for all banks was 18.0 per cent. compared to 17.6 per cent. for 2020 and 17.5 per cent. for 2019. Currently, Qatar's commercial banks are compliant with Basel III as implemented by the QCB.

The Qatar Government has provided financial support to Qatar's financial sector as a response to the global economic downturn and as a preventative measure to preserve the general stability in Qatar's banking sector. In early 2009, the Qatar Government began making direct capital injections in Qatar's commercial banking sector through a plan to purchase equity ownership interests of up to 20 per cent. in the domestic banks listed on the QE. In line with the plan, from 2009 through to 2011, the QIA acquired equity positions ranging from 5 per cent. to 20 per cent. in various domestic banks, including Qatar Islamic Bank, the Commercial Bank, the Qatar International Islamic Bank, Ahli Bank and Doha Bank.

In addition to the equity purchases, the Qatar Government also assisted the banking sector by purchasing certain portions of their investment and real estate portfolios. On 22 March 2009, the Qatar Government purchased the investment portfolios of seven of the nine domestic banks listed on the QE at a total purchase price of approximately QAR 6,500 million (U.S.$1,786 million) paid through a combination of cash and domestic Government bonds. This purchase price was equal to the value of such investment portfolios as registered in the records of each bank as of 28 February 2009. In an effort to further boost liquidity and encourage lending, in early June 2009, the Qatar Government made a second round of investments and bought the real estate portfolios and investments of nine domestic commercial banks at a sale price equivalent to the net book value of such portfolios and investments with a total ceiling amount of QAR 15,000 million (U.S.$4,121 million). The total support to the banking sector, which includes purchases of real estate and investment portfolio in domestic banks as well as the equity injections has been QAR 32,700 million (U.S.$8,984 million).

The amount of credit extended by commercial banks to the private sector grew by a compound annual growth rate of 12.5 per cent. between 2017 and 2021, increasing to QAR 767.0 billion (U.S.$211.0 billion) from QAR 479.0 billion (U.S.$132.0 billion) in 2017.

According to the data available from the QCB, the level of “non-performing” commercial bank loans as a percentage of total loans in Qatar has remained low in recent years. The level of non-performing loans was 2.6 per cent. in 2021, as compared to 2.3 per cent. in 2020, 2.2 per cent. in 2019 and 3.0 per cent. in 2018. Under QCB regulations, non-performing loans are determined by reference to a range of indicators, and include loans that meet one of the following conditions for at least three months: (i) the borrower is not able to meet its loan repayments and the loan is past due; (ii) other credit facilities of that borrower are past due; (iii) the existing credit limits granted to that borrower for its other credit facilities are not renewed; or (iv) a borrower exceeds its agreed credit limit by 10 per cent. or more without prior authorisation. Commercial banks in Qatar categorise non-performing loans into three groups: substandard, doubtful and bad. Substandard loans are those that have not performed for three or more months, doubtful loans are those that have not performed for six or more months, and bad loans are those that have not performed for nine or more months. The QCB also obliges national banks to form a “risk reserve” from their net profits, which should not be less than 4.5 per cent. of the total direct credit facilities granted by the Bank and its branches and subsidiaries inside and outside Qatar. This figure is calculated according to each bank’s consolidated balance sheet, after deduction of the specific provisions, suspended interests and deferred profits for Islamic banks, with the exception of credit facilities extended to the Ministry of Finance, credit facilities guaranteed by the Ministry of Finance and credit facilities secured by cash collateral (with a lien on cash deposits).

Qatar Development Bank

Qatar Development Bank (“QDB”) was established by the Government in 1997, with contributions from national banks, under the name of Qatar Industrial Development Bank. In 2006, QDB became a Government-owned bank and the following year changed its name to Qatar Development Bank. QDB’s main objective is to contribute to the development and diversification of economic and industrial investments in Qatar. QDB finances small and medium sized industrial projects and provides technical assistance and advice to industrialists for the implementation of their projects. QDB also provides consultancy services and financing for projects in the education, agriculture, fisheries, healthcare, animal resources and tourism sectors.

Qatar Financial Centre

The QFC is a financial and business centre established by the Government in 2005 with a view to attracting international financial services institutions and multinational corporations to Doha in order to grow and develop the market for financial services in the region. Unlike other financial centres in the region, the QFC is an onshore financial and business environment.

The QFC comprises: the QFC Authority (the “QFCA”), the Qatar Financial Centre Regulatory Authority (the “QFCRA”) and the QFC Dispute Resolution Centre. The QFCA determines the commercial strategy of the QFC and is responsible for legislation and compliance matters relating to the QFC legal environment. The QFCRA regulates, authorises, supervises and, when necessary, disciplines banking, securities, insurance and other financial businesses carried on in or from the QFC. The QFCRA also registers and supervises the directors and other designated officers of the businesses authorised by it. The QFCRA’s regulatory approach is modelled closely on that of the UK’s Financial Conduct Authority. The QFC Civil and Commercial Court has jurisdiction over civil and commercial disputes arising between: (i) entities established within the QFC; (ii) employees or contractors employed by entities established in the QFC and the employing entity; (iii) QFC entities and residents of State of Qatar; and (iv) QFC institutions and entities established in the QFC. The QFC Regulatory Tribunal hears appeals against decisions of the QFCRA, QFCA and other QFC institutions. The QFC Dispute Resolution Centre offers international arbitration and mediation services. The QFCA, QFCRA, the QFC Civil and Commercial Court and the Regulatory Tribunal are all statutory independent bodies reporting to the Council of Ministers.

Firms operating under the QFC umbrella fall into two categories: those providing financial services (such as banking institutions; insurance, reinsurance and insurance mediation firms; and asset management and investment firms), which are regulated activities, and those engaged in non-regulated activities in support of financial services (such as legal, audit, tax, advisory and consultancy service providers). All QFC firms must apply to the QFCA for a business license to conduct a permitted activity in or from the QFC. Firms planning to conduct regulated activities also need to apply to the QFCRA for authorisation. The operations of the Company Registration Office are handled by the QFCA. The QFCA imposed a tax rate of 10 per cent. on local source business profits effective 1 January 2010.

Financial institutions licensed by the QFCRA as “Category-1” financial institutions are authorised to operate as universal banks and, among other things, may make various types of loans and accept deposits in any currency. Under the QFC licensing policy, such institutions are currently prohibited from conducting retail banking with, or on behalf of, retail customers unless they obtain authorisation from the QFCRA. Financial institutions authorised by the QFCRA as “Category-2”, “Category-3” or “Category-4” are permitted to undertake certain more limited activities, and “Category-5” institutions may undertake Islamic finance activities.

Principal regulator and collaborative regulatory approach

Law No. 13 of 2012, which came into force in 2013, gave the Governor of the QCB ultimate responsibility for governance of the QFC. While the QFCRA continues to regulate QFC entities that offer financial services, the QCB and the QFCRA collaborate on strategic matters.

OVERVIEW OF QATAR

Unless indicated otherwise, information in this section has been derived from Government publications.

Country Profile

Qatar is an independent state in the Southern Arabian Gulf. Qatar shares a land border and maritime boundaries with Saudi Arabia and maritime boundaries with Bahrain, the UAE and Iran. Qatar covers an area of 11,493 square kilometres. Doha is the capital city of Qatar, the seat of government and Qatar's cultural, commercial and financial centre. It includes the country's main seaport and international airport and has an advanced road system linking it with the international road network. Based on Qatar's 2020 Census, Qatar had a total population of 2,846,118, indicating a 67.5 per cent. growth since the last census carried out in 2010 when Qatar had a total population of 1,699,435. A large portion of Qatar's population is comprised of non-Qatari nationals. According to the Ministry of Development, Planning and Statistics, as at September 2022 Qatar's total population stood at 2,985,029.

Qatar, which gained independence from the United Kingdom on 3 September 1971, was ruled by His Highness Sheikh Hamad Bin Khalifa Al-Thani from 27 June 1995 until 25 June 2013, on which date he handed power over to his fourth son, and the current Emir of Qatar, His Highness Sheikh Tamim Bin Hamad Bin Khalifa Al-Thani. During his reign, H.H. Sheikh Hamad implemented various initiatives designed to exploit Qatar's oil and gas resources in a responsible manner, thereby making rapid economic development and the construction of modern infrastructure possible in Qatar. During a period of rapid economic and social progress, Qatar has maintained its cultural and traditional values as an Arab and Islamic nation.

In terms of foreign relations and membership of international organisations, Qatar, together with Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman, Saudi Arabia and the UAE form the GCC. Furthermore, Qatar is a member of the Gas Exporting Countries Forum (which was established in 2008 and has its headquarters in Doha) and the United Nations. It is also a member of numerous international and multilateral organisations, including the IMF, the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, the World Trade Organisation, the League of Arab States, The Organisation of the Islamic Conference, the Multinational Investment Guarantee Organisation and UNESCO.

On 23 December 2008, representatives of 11 gas producing nations, including Qatar, Russia and Iran, signed an intergovernmental memorandum and charter formally establishing the Gas Exporter Countries Forum (the "GECF"), which chose Doha as the future headquarters for its permanent secretariat. The GECF Secretary General commenced his duties in Doha in February 2010 and the GECF Liaison Office, which facilitates the affairs of the GECF, is also based in Doha. Apart from the regular Ministerial meetings, the first GECF gas summit was held in Doha in December 2011. The GECF's objectives include exchanging information on a broad range of issues such as new technologies, investment programmes, relations with natural gas consuming countries and environmental protection.

Qatar is an advocate for regional integration and is a member of the GCC, whose other members are Bahrain, Kuwait, the UAE, Oman and Saudi Arabia. In 2003, the GCC established a customs union under which Qatar applies a common customs tariff of 5.0 per cent. to most products, with a limited number of exceptions. In 2005, as part of the GCC, Qatar joined the Istanbul Cooperation Initiative, which is a North Atlantic Treaty Organisation ("NATO") initiative to enhance regional security in the broader Middle East.

Legal System

Over the last decade, Qatar's legal system has been significantly reformed by the enactment of various pieces of legislation intended to bring Qatari laws in line with international laws, standards and practices. Qatar's civil law addresses a wide range of matters including conflict of laws, contracts, rights and obligations, security, ownership and torts. Qatar's commercial law addresses commercial affairs and entities, competition, commercial obligations and contracts and commercial paper. The commercial law also addresses bankruptcy matters, permitting creditors to file claims against any corporate entity, except for certain professional companies and other companies that are at least majority owned by the Government. Finally, the Commercial Companies Law (Qatar Law No. 11/2015) addresses the incorporation of companies, the ownership of shares, the liability of companies, equity holders and directors, capital contributions, payment of dividends, shareholder rights and obligations and general principles of corporate governance. The Commercial Companies Law also introduced the concept of a single member limited liability company, and is not dissimilar to the companies laws of more mature legal systems.

The Government has passed other significant legislation in recent years, including the Foreign Investment Law, the Central Bank Law, the Money Laundering Law, the Doha Securities Market Law (now the Qatar Stock Exchange Law) and the Qatar Financial Centre Law (the “QFC Law”), as well as competition, intellectual property, labour, data protection, arbitration, property and environmental laws.

Following the establishment of the QFC in 2005, the QFC Law established a legal and regulatory regime to govern the QFC that is generally parallel to and separate from Qatari laws and the Qatari legal system, except for Qatari criminal law. The QFC has established its own rules and regulations applicable to, among others, financial services companies, and which cover topics such as employment, companies, anti-money laundering, contracts and insolvency. See further “Banking industry and regulation in Qatar–Qatar Financial Centre”. In accordance with the rules and regulations of the QFC, the QFCRA regulates, authorises and supervises banking, financial and insurance related businesses carried on, in or from the QFC in accordance with legislative principles of an international standard, modelled closely on those used in London and other major financial centres. In addition, the Qatar International Court and Dispute Resolution Centre comprises the QFC Civil and Commercial Court, the Regulatory Tribunal and the Dispute Resolution Centre. The QFC Civil and Commercial Court deals with matters arising under the QFC Law. The QFC Regulatory Tribunal hears appeals against the decisions of the QFC Authority and other QFC institutions. The Dispute Resolution Centre offers international arbitration and mediation services. Under the QCB Law, the Governor of the QCB has responsibility for governance of the QFC.

Qatar is also strengthening the private sector by undertaking regulatory reforms aimed at improving Qatar’s business climate and creating an environment that will support enterprise creation, private competition and foreign direct investment, including through taking steps such as liberalising the telecommunications sector and creating special economic free zones. In addition, Qatar has sought to increase the country’s attractiveness to foreign direct investment by implementing laws that allow more foreign participation in the domestic economy. In addition to the Government establishing the QFC, the Qatar Foreign Capital Investment Law (Qatar Law No. 1 of 2019) and its implementing regulations (issued by resolution No. 44 of 2020) have introduced significant changes to the previous model regulating foreign direct investment. The restriction that had originally been imposed on foreigners owning more than 49 per cent. of private Qatari companies (except in limited circumstances) has now been removed by the Foreign Investment Law, save that the Ministry of Commerce and Industry will now be required to approve any such shareholding. The Minister of Commerce and Industry will publish a list of activities in which foreign ownership above 49% will be permitted.

In 2018, a new income tax law (Qatar Law No. 24 of 2018) (the “Income Tax Law”) replaced Law No. (21) of 2009 on Income Tax. The Income Tax Law became effective from 13 December 2018. Under the Income Tax Law (which is applicable outside the QFC), taxable income in any taxable year is now taxed at a flat tax rate of 10.0 per cent., except for certain agreements relating to petrochemical industries that are taxed at the rate of 35.0 per cent. The previous 7 per cent. withholding tax rate has been removed and a single withholding tax rate of 5 per cent. will now apply to payments made to non-residents for royalties and services that are performed in Qatar without a permanent establishment. However, Qatari companies which are 100 per cent. owned by Qataris do not pay income tax. The Executive Regulations to the Income Tax Law were issued in December 2019 through Ministerial Decision No. 39 of 2019.

Economic Overview

Qatar is one of the most prosperous countries in the world, with nominal GDP per capita of U.S.$68,622 in 2021, according to the World Bank and a population of 2,985,029 as at September 2022, according to the Ministry of Development, Planning and Statistics of Qatar.

For most of the past two decades, Qatar was one of the fastest growing economies of the world. Such growth was driven by the development of its important natural gas reserves, including the production and export of liquefied natural gas (“LNG”). In particular, Qatar lifted a self-imposed moratorium on the development of the world’s biggest natural gas field, the “North Field” in April 2017 after more than a decade. The North Field is shared with Iran and Qatar plans to raise its LNG production to 110mtpa in the near future and is expected to begin production in the fourth quarter of 2025. The planned expansion of the North Field production signals a new era of growth, which will further boost Qatar’s leading global position.

Although Qatar is focused on ensuring optimal and sustainable development and commercialisation of the oil and gas sector, which continues to be the backbone of the economy, one of the cornerstones of Qatar’s current economic policy is a commitment to diversify the overall economy so that Government revenues from the oil and gas sector are supplemented by an increased percentage of Government revenues from non-oil and gas-related activities. As set forth in the National Vision 2030, Qatar's long-term economic objectives include developing its infrastructure and strengthening its private sector. This is reflected in the 2022 budget, allocating a large share of the budget to education (QAR 17.6bn) and health services (QAR 20bn).

In recent years, Qatar has used its budget surpluses to diversify the economy through increased spending on infrastructure, social programmes, healthcare and education, which have modernised Qatar's economy. Qatar's economic growth has also enabled it to diversify its economy through domestic and international investment into different classes of assets. This diversification will be important to Qatar's future as the growth rate of Qatar's revenue from the oil and gas sector is expected to stabilise, given the completion of several of Qatar's long-term hydrocarbon investment programmes.

In 2005, Qatar established the Qatar Investment Authority (the "QIA") to propose and implement investments for Qatar's growing financial reserves, both domestically and abroad. Through the QIA, Qatar has invested in private equity, the banking sector, real estate, publicly traded securities and alternative assets. With its growing portfolio of international and domestic long-term strategic investments, the QIA has continued to develop Qatar's economic diversification strategy while contributing to the nation's significant economic expansion. In December 2010, Qatar was awarded the right to host the Federation Internationale de Football Association (FIFA) 2022 World Cup, which has provided opportunities for Qatar to invest in further developing its infrastructure and diversifying its economy and which is expected to bring the economic benefits intrinsic to holding such a large-scale competition.

Gross Domestic Product

Qatar's GDP growth was steady between 2016 and 2018, increasing from U.S.$170,685 million in 2016 to U.S.$183,335 million in 2018. However, there was a small decrease in nominal GDP in 2019, with GDP amounting to U.S.$176,371 million, and a larger decrease in 2020 with GDP amounting to U.S.$144,441 million. This decrease is mainly due to the impact of COVID-19 which is evident in the consequent growth of Qatar's GDP in the years 2021 and 2022, rising to U.S.$179,677 million in 2021 and U.S.$221,369 million in 2022.

Impact of Coronavirus (COVID-19)

The State of Qatar has had high rate of infection from COVID-19, however, the death rates have been well contained with only about 684 deaths reported as at the date of this Base Prospectus. When cases of COVID-19 infection appeared in neighbouring countries, Qatar issued a package of policies to contain the virus and its effect on public health and a package of economic measures to mitigate its negative repercussions on the Qatari economy.

More widely, the coronavirus pandemic derailed global growth and thereby the oil prices. Oil prices witnessed an all-time low in April 2020 due to the pandemic, which has impacted growth across all Gulf economies. The recent increase in oil and gas prices has meant the Government was able to strengthen both fiscal and current account positions from the troughs of 2020. Registering a fiscal surplus of 0.3 per cent. of GDP and a current account surplus of 14.7 per cent. in 2021 which is projected to widen further in 2022 to 5.4 per cent. and 20.0 per cent. of the GDP respectively. Whilst the movement in oil prices does impact liquidity at the Bank, it is not expected to have a sustainable impact since the State of Qatar has left OPEC. According to the IMF report, in June 2022, the economic recovery in Qatar is gaining strength, due to many factors but most importantly driven by the favourable hydrocarbon prices and the 2022 FIFA World Cup, whereas, the Qatar economy is expected register a real GDP growth of 3.4 per cent. in 2022.

Qatar's Economic Situation after the Qatari Blockade

In response to the Qatari Blockade which was in place from June 2017 until the Al-Ula Declaration in January 2021, Qatar came up with various reforms. In terms of food security, it further developed local businesses to boost its food production. Qatar also established a residency plan and waived entry visa requirements for citizens of 80 countries. With regard to its logistics sector, Qatar inaugurated a new port along its Gulf coast which is intended to enable Qatar to become a regional transport hub. To diversify its industry and become more independent, Qatar initiated a government project aimed at fast-tracking the establishment of more manufacturing companies and factories in Qatar as well as projects focusing on the development of the tourism infrastructure across the country to ensure a favourable visitor experience.

Qatar is ranked number 77 among 190 economies in the ease of doing business, according to the latest 2021 World Bank annual ratings, which puts it in the top 20 improvers globally in recent years. The Global Competitiveness Report 2019 states that Qatar has improved its rank to 29th place out of 135 countries. In December 2018, S&P Global Ratings announced that it has revised its outlook on Qatar to stable from negative, which remains in place. Qatar has thereby demonstrated remarkable resilience after the Qatar Blockade.

Inflation

In 2017, Qatar experienced an overall annual inflation rate of 0.4 per cent. Since then, the overall annual inflation rate has been 0.3 percent in 2018, -0.7 percent in 2019, -2.7 percent in 2020, 2.3 percent in 2021 and 4.5 per cent. in 2022. The latest available data projection estimates that inflation rate will be marginally reduced in 2023.

Risks Relating to Qatar

Qatar is located in a region that is subject to ongoing political and security concerns. Although Qatar enjoys domestic political stability and generally healthy international relations, as a country located in the MENA region, there is a risk that regional geopolitical instability could impact the country.

Since 2011, the MENA region has been experiencing (and in some cases, is still experiencing) unprecedented levels of political instability, civil unrest, violence and armed conflict. In particular, there has been political unrest in a range of countries in the MENA region, including Egypt, Algeria, the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan, Libya, Bahrain, Saudi Arabia, the Republic of Yemen, the Republic of Iraq (Kurdistan), Syria, Palestine, Tunisia, Lebanon and the Sultanate of Oman. This unrest has ranged from public demonstrations to, in extreme cases, terrorist acts and armed conflict (including the multinational conflict with Islamic State (also known as Daesh, ISIS or ISIL)) and the overthrow of leaders and has given rise to increased political uncertainty across the region. These situations have caused significant disruption to the economies of affected countries and have had a destabilising effect on international oil and gas prices.

There can be no assurance that such political instability in the GCC/MENA region will not escalate in the future, affect stable countries such as Qatar or spread to additional countries in the MENA region. There can be no assurance that any further violent activities will not occur in the GCC or that the governments of the MENA region will be successful in maintaining domestic order and stability. Such unrest may result in credit becoming more expensive for certain countries in the region.

Also since 2011, the prospect of a nuclear Iran has been at the centre of international geopolitical discourse. The comprehensive agreement between the U.N. Security Council's five permanent members plus Germany and Iran that was reached in July 2015 (the "Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action") conditions international economic sanctions relief, mainly United States and E.U. sanctions, on Iranian nuclear capabilities reduction and supervision by the International Atomic Energy Agency (the "IAEA"). After the IAEA confirmed that Iran met the relevant requirements of the Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action, certain economic sanctions were lifted on 16 January 2016 with a view to improving Iran's position in the international community. However, certain other sanctions remained in place and the United States imposed certain additional sanctions on Iran in July 2017 relating to Iran's ballistic missile programme, human rights matters, arms sales and Iran's Revolutionary Guard Corps. The U.S. withdrew from the Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action in May 2018. In response, in August 2018 the EU amended the Annex to the EU Blocking Regulation ((EC) 2271/96) in order to 'block', among other things, EU persons from complying with the U.S. Iran sanctions re-imposed as a result of the U.S.'s withdrawal from the Joint Comprehensive Plan of Action. Any continuation or increase in international or regional tensions regarding Iran could have a destabilising impact on the Gulf region.

On 5 June 2017, the Qatar Blockade was initiated by several countries, including the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, the UAE and Bahrain who moved to cut diplomatic ties, trade and transport links with Qatar.

The measures adopted included a closure of land, sea and air access and the expulsion of Qatari officials, residents and visitors from those countries.

On 5 January 2021, all of the countries involved signed the Al-Ula Declaration in Saudi Arabia in an agreement to restore full diplomatic relations with each other. Although the specific content and details of the Al-Ula Declaration have not been, and are not expected to be, published, many of the measures previously adopted by Bahrain, Egypt, Saudi Arabia and the UAE against Qatar have gradually been revoked. As at the date of this Base Prospectus, it is uncertain how long it will take for trade, transport and diplomatic ties to fully return to their pre-Blockade status.

TAXATION

The following is a general description of certain Cayman Islands, Qatari, United Kingdom, United States and EU tax considerations relating to the Notes. It does not purport to be a complete analysis of all tax considerations relating to the Notes, whether in those countries or elsewhere. Prospective purchasers of Notes should consult their own tax advisers as to which countries' tax laws could be relevant to acquiring, holding and disposing of Notes and receiving payments of interest, principal and/or other amounts under the Notes and the consequences of such actions under the tax laws of those countries. This summary is based upon the law as in effect on the date of this Base Prospectus and is subject to any change in law that may take effect after such date.

The Cayman Islands

The following is a discussion of certain Cayman Islands tax consequences of an investment in the Notes. The discussion is a general summary of present law, which is subject to prospective and retroactive change. It is not intended as tax advice, does not consider your particular circumstances, and does not consider tax consequences other than those arising under Cayman Islands law.

Under existing Cayman Islands laws:

Payments of interest, principal and other amounts on the Notes will not be subject to taxation in the Cayman Islands and no withholding will be required on the payment of interest and principal and other amounts on the Notes, nor will gains derived from the disposal of the Notes be subject to Cayman Islands income or corporation tax. The Cayman Islands currently have no income, corporation or capital gains tax and no estate duty, inheritance tax or gift tax;

No stamp duty is payable in respect of the issue or transfer of the Notes although duty may be payable if the Notes are executed in or brought into the Cayman Islands; and Certificates evidencing the Notes, in registered form, to which title is not transferable by delivery, should not attract Cayman Islands stamp duty. However, an instrument transferring title to a Note, if brought to or executed in the Cayman Islands, would be subject to Cayman Islands stamp duty.

The Issuer has been incorporated as an exempted company with limited liability under the laws of the Cayman Islands and, as such, has received an undertaking from the Governor in Cabinet of the Cayman Islands in the following form:

“The Tax Concessions Law
(2011 Revision)
Undertaking As To Tax Concessions

In accordance with the provision of Section 6 of the Tax Concessions Law (2011 Revision) the Governor in Cabinet undertakes with:

Doha Finance Limited “the Company”

 - (i) on or in respect of the shares debentures or other obligations of the Company; or
 - (ii) by way of the withholding in whole or in part of any relevant payment as defined in Section 6(3) of the Tax Concessions Law (2011 Revision).

These concessions shall be for a period of THIRTY years from the 14th day of February, 2012.

CLERK OF THE CABINET”

Qatar

This general description of taxation in Qatar is based upon (a) Law No. 24 of 2018 on Income Tax (the “Qatar Tax Law”), (b) Decision No. 39 of 2019 of the Council of Ministers (the “Executive Regulations”), (c) Circular No. 2 of 2011 and (d) the published practices that have been adopted and applied by the General Tax Authority Qatar Public Revenues and Taxes Department (the “GTA”), each as in effect on the date of this Base Prospectus. This general description is subject to any subsequent change in Qatar tax law, regulations and practice that may come into force after such date.

Under the Income Tax Law, tax is imposed on income derived from a source in Qatar. Income derived from a source in Qatar includes gross income arising from an activity carried on in Qatar, contracts wholly or partially performed in Qatar and real estate situated in Qatar (including the sale of shares in companies or partnerships, the assets of which consist mainly of real estate situated in Qatar). The gross income of Qatari natural persons resident in Qatar, including their shares in the profits of legal entities, is exempt from Qatar tax as is the capital gains on the disposal of real estate and securities derived by natural persons provided that the real estate and securities so disposed of do not form part of the assets of a taxable activity. Natural or legal persons deemed subject to income tax in Qatar will either pay tax at the standard rate of 10 per cent. on the net taxable income or, the tax will be withheld at source from the gross payment to be made.

A withholding tax applies to certain payments made to “non-residents” (as defined in the Income Tax Law) in respect of activities not connected with a permanent establishment in Qatar. Particularly, the Qatar tax law specifies a withholding tax rate of 5 per cent. on payments of interest. The Executive Regulations which apply to the Income Tax Law provide for certain exemptions to withholding tax on interest payments. These exemptions are: (i) interest on deposits in banks in Qatar; (ii) interest on bonds and securities issued by the State of Qatar and public authorities, establishments, corporations and companies owned wholly or partly by the State of Qatar; (iii) interest on transactions, facilities and loans with banks and financial institutions; and (iv) interest paid by a permanent establishment in Qatar to the head office or to an entity related to the head office outside Qatar.

The Bank had previously obtained written guidance dated 1 December 2011 from the Qatar Public Revenues and Taxes Department that interest payments payable under the terms of the Notes will be exempt from withholding tax under (ii) above, on the basis that the State of Qatar, through the QIA, is a part owner of both the Bank and, by virtue of it being a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Bank, Doha Finance. The exemption under (ii) will be lost if the QIA divests itself of its ownership of the Bank, however the exemption under (iii) above will be available to both the Bank and Doha Finance provided that the payment of interest is being made to a Noteholder who is a bank or financial institution.

There is no stamp duty, capital gains tax or sales tax applicable in Qatar (however, unless specifically exempt under the Qatar tax law, gains of a capital nature are treated as income and taxed at the same rate as income).

United Kingdom

The following is a summary of the Issuers’ understanding of current law and practice in the United Kingdom and published HM Revenue and Customs’ practice relating only to the United Kingdom withholding treatment of payments of interest (as that term is understood for United Kingdom tax purposes) in respect of Notes. It does not deal with any other United Kingdom taxation implications of acquiring, holding or disposing of Notes. The United Kingdom tax treatment of prospective Noteholders depends on their individual circumstances and may be subject to change in the future. Prospective Noteholders who are in any doubt as to their tax position or who may be subject to tax in a jurisdiction other than the United Kingdom should seek their own professional advice.

Payments of interest on the Notes that does not have a UK source may be made without withholding or deduction on account of United Kingdom income tax.

Payments by an Issuer of interest on Notes that has a UK source may be made without withholding or deduction on account of United Kingdom income tax if the Notes in respect of which such payments of interest are made are and continue to be listed on a recognised stock exchange, within the meaning of Section 1005 Income Tax Act 2007. The London Stock Exchange is (at the date of this Base Prospectus) a recognised stock exchange for these purposes. Securities will be treated as listed on the London Stock Exchange if they are included in the Official List by the FCA and are admitted to trading on the Main Market.

Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act

Pursuant to certain provisions of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, commonly known as FATCA, a “foreign financial institution” (as defined by FATCA) may be required to withhold on certain payments it makes (“foreign passthru payments”) to persons that fail to meet certain certification, reporting or related requirements. The Issuers are foreign financial institutions for these purposes. A number of jurisdictions have entered into, or have agreed in substance to, intergovernmental agreements with the United States to implement FATCA (“IGAs”), which modify the way in which FATCA applies in their jurisdictions. Under the provisions of IGAs as currently in effect, a foreign financial institution in an IGA jurisdiction would generally not be required to withhold under FATCA or an IGA from payments that it makes. Certain aspects of the application of the FATCA provisions and IGAs to instruments such as the Notes, including whether withholding would ever be required pursuant to FATCA or an IGA with respect to payments on instruments such as the Notes, are uncertain and may be subject to change. Even if withholding would be required pursuant to FATCA or an IGA with respect to payments on instruments such as the Notes, such withholding would not apply prior to the date that is two years after the date on which final regulations defining foreign passthru payments are published in the U.S. Federal Register and Notes characterised as debt (or which are not otherwise characterised as equity and have a fixed term) for U.S. federal tax purposes that are issued on or prior to the date that is six months after the date on which final regulations defining foreign passthru payments are filed with the U.S. Federal Register generally would be “grandfathered” for purposes of FATCA withholding unless materially modified after such date (including by reason of a substitution of the issuer). Holders should consult their own tax advisers regarding how these rules may apply to their investment in Notes.

CLEARING AND SETTLEMENT ARRANGEMENTS

The information set out below is subject to any change in or reinterpretation of the rules, regulations and procedures of Euroclear or Clearstream, Luxembourg (together, the “Clearing Systems”) currently in effect. The information in this section concerning the Clearing Systems has been obtained from sources that each of the Issuers and the Guarantor believe to be reliable, but none of the Issuers, the Guarantor and any of the Dealers takes any responsibility for the accuracy of this section. Investors wishing to use the facilities of any of the Clearing Systems are advised to confirm the continued applicability of the rules, regulations and procedures of the relevant Clearing System. None of the Issuers, the Guarantor and any other party to the Agency Agreement will have any responsibility or liability for any aspect of the records relating to, or payments made on account of, beneficial ownership interests in the Notes held through the facilities of any Clearing System or for maintaining, supervising or reviewing any records relating to such beneficial ownership interests. Information in this section has been derived from the Clearing Systems.

Book-Entry Systems

Each of Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg each holds securities for its customers and facilitates the clearance and settlement of securities transactions by electronic book-entry transfer between their respective account holders. Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg provide various services including safekeeping, administration, clearance and settlement of internationally traded securities and securities lending and borrowing. Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg also deal with domestic securities markets in several countries through established depository and custodial relationships. Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg have established an electronic bridge between their two systems across which their respective participants may settle trades with each other.

Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg customers are worldwide financial institutions, including underwriters, securities brokers and dealers, banks, trust companies and clearing corporations. Indirect access to Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg is available to other institutions that clear through or maintain a custodial relationship with an account holder of either system.

Global Notes; Payments; Voting

Notes issued under the Programme will be represented on issue by one or more Global Notes that may be deposited with a common depository for Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg (as defined under the “Form of the Notes”). Except in the circumstances described in each Global Note, investors will not be entitled to receive Notes in definitive form. Each of Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg and their respective direct and indirect participants will maintain records of the beneficial interests in each Global Note held through it. While the Notes are represented by a Global Note, investors will be able to trade their beneficial interests only through the relevant clearing systems and their respective participants.

While the Notes are represented by Global Notes, the Issuer will discharge its payment obligation under the Notes by making payments through the relevant clearing systems. A holder of a beneficial interest in a Global Note must rely on the procedures of the relevant clearing system and its participants to receive payments under the Notes. The Issuer has no responsibility or liability for the records relating to, or payments made in respect of, beneficial interests in any Global Note.

Holders of beneficial interests in a Global Note will not have a direct right to vote in respect of the Notes so represented. Instead, such holders will be permitted to act only to the extent that they are enabled by the relevant clearing system and its participants to appoint appropriate proxies.

Transfers of Notes represented by Registered Global Notes

Transfers of any interests in Notes represented by a Registered Global Note within Euroclear and Clearstream, Luxembourg will be effected in accordance with the customary rules and operating procedures of the relevant Clearing System. The laws in some States within the United States require that certain persons take physical delivery of securities in definitive form. Consequently, the ability to transfer Notes represented by a Registered Global Note to such persons may depend upon the ability to exchange such Notes for Notes in definitive form.

On or after the Issue Date for any Series, transfers of Notes of such Series between accountholders in Clearstream, Luxembourg and Euroclear will generally have a settlement date three business days after the trade date (T+3). The customary arrangements for delivery versus payment will apply to such transfers.

Clearstream, Luxembourg and Euroclear have each published rules and operating procedures designed to facilitate transfers of beneficial interests in Registered Global Notes among participants and accountholders of Clearstream, Luxembourg and Euroclear. However, they are under no obligation to perform or continue to perform such procedures, and such procedures may be discontinued or changed at any time. None of the Issuers, the Guarantor, any party to the Agency Agreement or any Dealer will be responsible for any performance by Clearstream, Luxembourg or Euroclear or their respective direct or indirect participants or accountholders of their respective obligations under the rules and procedures governing their operations and none of them will have any liability for any aspect of the records relating to or payments made on account of beneficial interests in the Notes represented by Registered Global Notes or for maintaining, supervising or reviewing any records relating to such beneficial interests.

SUBSCRIPTION AND SALE

The Dealers have, in an amended and restated programme agreement (the “Programme Agreement”), dated 16 December 2022, agreed with the Issuers and the Guarantor a basis upon which they or any of them may from time to time agree to purchase Notes. Any such agreement will extend to those matters stated under “Form of the Notes” and “Terms and Conditions of the Notes”. In the Programme Agreement, the Issuers (failing which (in the case of Guaranteed Notes), the Guarantor) have agreed to reimburse the Dealers for certain of their expenses in connection with the update of the Programme and the issue of Notes under the Programme and to indemnify the Dealers against certain liabilities incurred by them in connection therewith.

Certain Relationships

The Dealers and certain of their affiliates may have performed certain investment banking and advisory services for the Issuer and its affiliates from time to time for which they have received customary fees and expenses and may, from time to time, engage in transactions with and perform services for the Issuer and its affiliates in the ordinary course of their business. The Dealers or certain of their affiliates may purchase the Notes and have the Notes allocated for asset management and/or proprietary purposes but not with a view to distribution. The Dealers or their respective affiliates may purchase the Notes for their own account and enter into transactions, including credit derivatives, such as asset swaps, repackaging and credit default swaps relating to the Notes and/or other securities of the Issuer or its subsidiaries or associates, at the same time as the offer and sale of the Notes or in secondary market transactions. Such transactions would be carried out as bilateral trades with selected counterparties and separately from any existing sale or resale of the Notes to which this Base Prospectus relates (notwithstanding that such selected counterparties may also be purchaser of the Notes).

United States

Regulation S Category 2; TEFRA D or TEFRA C as specified in the applicable Final Terms or neither if TEFRA is specified as not applicable in the applicable Final Terms.

The Notes and the Guarantee have not been and will not be registered under the Securities Act or with any securities regulatory authority of any state or other jurisdiction of the United States and may not be offered or sold within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons, except in certain transactions exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act. Terms used in this paragraph have the meanings given to them by Regulation S under the Securities Act.

The Notes in bearer form are subject to U.S. tax law requirements and may not be offered, sold or delivered within the United States or its possessions or, in the case of Bearer Notes where TEFRA D is specified in the applicable Final Terms (or the Pricing Supplement, in the case of Exempt Notes), to a United States person, except in certain transactions permitted by U.S. tax regulations. Terms used in this paragraph have the meanings given to them by the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and the U.S. Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder.

Each Dealer has agreed, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to agree, that, except as permitted by the Programme Agreement, it will not offer, sell or (in the case of Bearer Notes) deliver the Notes and the Guarantee (where applicable) (a) as part of their distribution at any time or (b) otherwise until 40 days after the completion of the distribution, as determined by the relevant Dealer or, in the case of an issue of Notes on a syndicated basis, the relevant lead manager, of all Notes of the Series of which such Notes are a part, within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons. Each Dealer has further agreed, and each further Dealer appointed under the Programme will be required to agree, that it will send to each dealer to which it sells any Notes and the Guarantee (where applicable) during the distribution compliance period a confirmation or other notice setting forth the restrictions on offers and sales of the Notes and the Guarantee (where applicable) within the United States or to, or for the account or benefit of, U.S. persons. Terms used in this paragraph have the meanings given to them by Regulation S under the Securities Act.

Until 40 days after the commencement of the offering of any Series of Notes, an offer or sale of such Notes or the Guarantee within the United States by any dealer (whether or not participating in the offering) may violate the registration requirements of the Securities Act if such offer or sale is made otherwise than in accordance with an available exemption from registration under the Securities Act.

Each issuance of Notes shall be subject to such additional U.S. selling restrictions as the relevant Issuer, the Guarantor (in the case of Guaranteed Notes) and the relevant Dealer may agree as a term of the issuance and purchase of such Notes, which additional selling restrictions shall be set out in the applicable Final Terms or, in the case of Exempt Notes, Pricing Supplement.

None of the Issuers, the Guarantor and the Dealers represents that Notes may at any time lawfully be sold in compliance with any applicable registration or other requirements in any jurisdiction, or pursuant to any exemption available thereunder, or assumes any responsibility for facilitating such sale.

These selling restrictions may be modified by the agreement of the Issuers, the Guarantor and the relevant Dealers following a change in relevant laws, regulation or directive. Any such modification will be set out in the applicable Final Terms (or the applicable Pricing Supplement, as the case may be) in respect of the issue of Notes to which it relates or in a supplement to this Base Prospectus.
