We have reviewed the accompanying interim condensed statement of financial position of QE Index ETF (the “Fund”) as at 30 September 2024 and the related interim condensed statement of comprehensive income for the three month and nine month periods then ended, and the related interim condensed statement of changes in net assets attributable to the unit holders and cash flows for the nine-month period then ended and other explanatory notes. The Fund Manager is responsible for the preparation and presentation of this interim condensed financial information in accordance with International Accounting Standard 34, ‘Interim Financial Reporting’ (‘IAS 34’) as issued by the International Accounting Standard (“IASB”). Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on this interim condensed financial information based on our review.

Scope of review

We conducted our review in accordance with International Standard on Review Engagements 2410, ‘Review of interim financial information performed by the independent auditor of the entity’. A review of interim condensed financial information consists of making inquiries, primarily of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with International Standards on Auditing and consequently does not enable us to obtain assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.

Conclusion

Based on our review, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the accompanying interim condensed financial information is not prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with IAS 34 as issued by IASB.

9. FAIR VALUE HIERARCHY

Fair value of financial assets and liabilities

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. Consequently, differences can arise between book value and the fair value estimates. Underlying the definition of fair value is the presumption that the Fund is a going concern without any intention or requirement to materially curtail the scale of its operation or to undertake a transaction on adverse terms.

Investment securities are carried at fair value through profit or loss and hence there is no difference between carrying value and fair value.

The fair value of other receivables, payables for investment transactions and other payables, which are predominantly re-priced, short term in tenure and issued at market rates, are considered to reasonably approximate their book value which is accounted at amortised cost.

The Fund measures fair value using the following fair value hierarchy that reflects the significant inputs used in making the measurement valuation technique:

- Level 1: Quoted market price (unadjusted) in an active market for an identical instrument.
- Level 2: Valuation techniques based on observable inputs, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices). This category includes instruments valued using: quoted market prices in active markets for similar instruments; quoted prices for identical or similar instruments in markets that are considered less than active; or other valuation techniques where all significant inputs are directly or indirectly observable from market data.
- Level 3: Valuation techniques using significant unobservable inputs. This category includes all instruments where the valuation technique includes inputs not based on observable data and the unobservable inputs have a significant effect on the instrument's valuation. This category includes instruments that are valued based on quoted prices for similar instruments where significant unobservable adjustments or assumptions are required to reflect differences between the instruments.

Fair values of investment securities that are traded in active markets are based on quoted market prices. The Fund's portfolio is wholly made up of listed equity securities in the state of Qatar. Therefore, level 1 measurement techniques are used.

10. DIVIDEND PAID

Doha Bank Q.P.S.C., as founder, and Aventicum Capital Management (Qatar), the Fund Manager of the Fund announced a cash distribution of QAR 0.462 per unit. Unitholders of record of the QETF, at the close of business 15 April 2024, received a cash distribution paid on 17 April 2024.
